1 1 Introduction

2 The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) is fond of attempting to institute penalties against people for any of the following more 3 common occasions:

- 4 1. Frivolous returns.
- 5 2. Late returns.
- 6 3. Late payment of penalties.
- 7 4. Inaccurate returns.

8 What few Americans realize is that there is simply no legal authority for them to institute such penalties in many if not most 9 cases. This memorandum of law will analyze legal authority to institute penalties in the context of the Internal Revenue
10 Code, and will show more importantly, circumstances in which such penalties are illegally imposed.

11 This memorandum is intended to be attached to your response to IRS penalty collection notices. We will close this 12 memorandum with a series of admissions for readers who are still unconvinced by the content of the conclusions
13 documented. The purpose of these admissions will be to offer the reader an opportunity to refute the overwhelming 14 evidence supporting everything in this pamphlet.

16 and C Income Taxes on Natural Persons

17 “By the blessing of God, may our country become a vast and splendid monument, not of oppression and terror,
18 but of wisdom, of peace, and of liberty upon which the world may gaze with admiration forever.”

21 The Congress and the 50 state governments are prohibited by the Constitution from imposing any kind of punishment or 22 penalty against natural persons without a judicial proceeding. This includes financial penalties associated with ensuring 23 compliance with the Internal Revenue Code. This requirement derives from the U.S. Constitution, which in Articles 1, 24 Section 9, Clause 3 prevents Congress from passing any kind of Bill of Attainder law. Likewise, Article 1, Section 10,
25 Clause 1 applies the same requirement to the 50 Union states. Below is the Constitutional restriction:

26 Article I, Section 9, Clause 3: “No Bill of Attainder or ex post facto Law shall be passed.” (with respect to the 27 U.S. Congress)

28 Article I, Section 10, Clause 1: “No State shall enter into any Treaty, Alliance, or Confederation; grant
29 Letters of Marque and Reprisal; coin Money; emit Bills of Credit; make any Thing but gold and silver Coin a 30 Tender in Payment of Debts; pass any Bill of Attainder, ex post facto Law, or Law impairing the Obligation of 31 Contracts, or grant any Title of Nobility.”

32 Below is the definition of a Bill of Attainder for your reference:

33 Bill of attainder: Legislative acts, no matter what their form, that apply either to named individuals or to 34 easily ascertainable members of a group in such a way as to inflict punishment on them without a judicial 35 trial. United States v. Brown, 381 U.S. 437, 448-49, 85 S.Ct. 1707, 1715, 14 L.Ed. 484, 492; United States v.

40 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 165, Emphasis added]

41 The above restrictions form the basis of why the U.S. Congress and the states cannot write statutes and the executive branch
42 cannot write implementing regulations authorizing the IRS to impose financial penalties on natural persons for 43 noncompliance with Subtitle A income taxes absent a judicial trial, nor can they collect any penalties without a trial. The 44 following easily verifiable facts prove our point:

- That there is no implementing CFR or Federal Register regulation providing IRS with the authority to assess any kind of financial penalties, including late payment fees, frivolous return fees, etc.
- The definition of “person” found in Subtitle F also confirms that penalties may not be applied against natural persons. In fact, all such penalties are only applicable to Title 27 taxes relating to Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms against corporations under Subtitles D and E!

Whenever the government seeks to impose penalties for violations of the Internal Revenue Code, they have the burden of proof to show that the person against whom the penalty is imposed is liable for the penalty:

(a) BURDEN OF PROOF.—In any proceeding involving the issue of whether or not any person is liable for a penalty under 6700, 6701, or 6702, the burden of proof with respect to such issue shall be on the Secretary.”

Most IRS agents are made blissfully unaware of the above facts by their supervisors but they are nevertheless true. You will never hear IRS admit to this, because it is their most important and most secret weapon against the vast majority of Americans, who are natural persons. By way of example, below is the section right out of their own regulations found at the government’s own website that describes the ONLY persons who can be assessed penalties related to I.R.C. Subtitle A income taxes:

*[Code of Federal Regulations]

 TITLE 26--INTERNAL REVENUE
 Additions to the Tax and Additional Amounts--Table of Contents
Sec. 301.6671-1 Rules for application of assessable penalties.*

*(b) Person defined. For purposes of subchapter B of chapter 68, the term “person” includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

Even more interesting, is that the above not only doesn’t apply to most Americans: It also doesn’t apply to most corporations or partnerships either! Why?...because the corporations or partnerships mentioned above must be registered in the District of Columbia (the federal zone). State-(only) chartered corporations or partnerships are in a foreign legislative jurisdiction with respect to federal jurisdiction in the context of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code. Therefore, they are outside the jurisdiction of the IRS and aren’t liable for IRS penalties because they aren’t within the territorial jurisdiction of the IRS either. Furthermore, the only type of employee who can be penalized is an employee of a U.S. corporation registered in the District of Columbia and who is involved in reporting and complying with taxes for the corporation, and NOT for himself individually!

3 Affect of franchises upon government’s authority to administratively penalize

There is one exception to the Constitutional prohibition against “Bills of Attainder” mentioned in the previous section, and that exception occurs in the case where we consensually or contractually participate in government franchises and thereby accept some privilege or benefit from the government that has the affect of consensually waiving the prohibition.

1 FRANCHISE. A special privilege conferred by government on individual or corporation, and which does not
2 belong to citizens of country generally of common right. Elliott v. City of Eugene, 135 Or. 108, 294 P. 358,
3 360. In England it is defined to be a royal privilege in the hands of a subject.

4 A "franchise," as used by Blackstone in defining quo warranto, (3 Com. 262 [4th Am. Ed.] 322), had reference
5 to a royal privilege or branch of the king's prerogative subsisting in the hands of the subject, and must arise
6 from the king's grant, or be held by prescription, but today we understand a franchise to be some special 7 privilege conferred by government on an individual, natural or artificial, which is not enjoyed by its citizens in 8 general. State v. Fernandez, 106 Fla. 779, 143 So. 638, 639, 86 A.L.R. 240.

9 In this country a franchise is a privilege or immunity of a public nature, which cannot be legally exercised
10 without legislative grant. To be a corporation is a franchise. The various powers conferred on corporations 11 are franchises. The execution of a policy of insurance by an insurance company [e.g. Social Insurance/Social 12 Security], and the issuing a bank note by an incorporated bank [such as a Federal Reserve NOTE], are 13 franchises. People v. Utica Ins. Co., 15 Johns., N.Y., 387, 8 Am.Dec. 243. But it does not embrace the property
14 acquired by the exercise of the franchise. Bridgeport v. New York & N. H. R. Co., 36 Conn. 255, 4 Arn.Rep.
15 63. Nor involve interest in land acquired by grantee. Whitbeck v. Funk, 140 Or. 70, 12 P.2d 1019, 1020. In a 16 popular sense, the political rights of subjects and citizens are franchises, such as the right of suffrage, etc.
17 Pierce v. Emery, 32 N.H. 484; State v. Black Diamond Co., 97 Ohio St. 24, 119 N.E. 195, 199, L.R.A.1918E, 18 352.

19 Elective Franchise. The right of suffrage: the right or privilege of voting in public elections.

20 Exclusive Franchise. See Exclusive Privilege or Franchise.

21 General and Special. The charter of a corporation is its "general" franchise, while a "special" franchise
22 consists in any rights granted by the public to use property for a public use but-with private profit. Lord v.
23 Equitable Life Assur. Soc., 194 N.Y. 212, 81 N.E. 443, 22 L.R.A.,N.S., 420.

24 Personal Franchise. A franchise of corporate existence, or one which authorizes the formation and existence of 25 a corporation, is sometimes called a "personal" franchise. as distinguished from a "property" franchise, which 26 authorizes a corporation so formed to apply its property to some particular enterprise or exercise some special
27 privilege in its employment, as, for example, to construct and operate a railroad. See Sandham v. Nye, 9
28 Misc.ReP. 541, 30 N.Y.S. 552.

29 Secondary Franchises. The franchise of corporate existence being sometimes called the "primary" franchise of 30 a corporation, its "secondary" franchises are the special and peculiar rights, privileges, or grants which it may,
31 receive under its charter or from a municipal corporation, such as the right to use the public streets, exact tolls,
32 collect fares, etc. State v. Topeka Water Co., 61 Kan. 547, 60 P. 337; Virginia Canon Toll Road Co. v. People, 33 22 Colo. 429, 45 P. 398 37 L.R.A. 711. The franchises of a corporation are divisible into (1) corporate or 34 general franchises; and (2) "special or secondary franchises. The former is the franchise to exist as a
35 corporation, while the latter are certain rights and privileges conferred upon existing corporations. Gulf
36 Refining Co. v. Cleveland Trust Co., 166 Miss. 759, 108 So. 158, 160.

37 Special Franchisee. See Secondary Franchises, supra.
38 [Black's Law Dictionary, Fourth Edition, pp. 786-787]

39 An example of a government franchise is federal employment or "public office", participation in which implies the consent
40 to abide by all statutes passed by the Legislative Branch and regulations passed by the Executive Branch that pertain
41 directly to federal "employees":

42 "Anyone who partakes of the benefits or privileges of a given statute, or anyone who even places himself into a
43 position where he may avail himself of those benefits at will, cannot reach constitutional grounds to redress
44 grievances in the courts against the given statute."
45 [Ashwander v. T.V.A., 297 U.S. 288, 346, 56 S. Ct. 466, 482, 80 L.Ed. 688, (1938)][underlines added]

46 The above ruling does not specifically define all the implications of what it means to "place himself into a position where 47 he may avail himself of those benefits at will", but the implication is obvious:

- 48 1. BOTH parties to the transaction must receive mutual consideration and benefit, and this benefit must be guaranteed by 49 contract. The most basic element of any contract is the requirement for mutual consideration. All franchises constitute

1 2. One must LAWFULLY be able to receive said benefits. Those not qualified by law to receive benefits who are able to
2 obtain them anyway because the program is administered in violation of law technically are NOT able to receive said
3 benefits. Most Americans, for instance, may not lawfully participate in Social Security because the Social Security Act
4 does not authorize those domiciled in states of the Union on other than federal territory to participate. Therefore, they
5 are not lawfully able to receive benefits and therefore cannot have the franchise agreement, the Social Security Act,
6 lawfully enforced against them. See:

Why You Aren't Eligible for Social Security, Form #06.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

7 3. The benefits must be owed as a matter of contract or right. Any program such as Social Security which does not
8 obligate the government contractually to provide said benefits would not constitute “consideration” within the meaning
9 of contract law, and therefore the franchise agreement is unenforceable against the party who received no
10 consideration. The government cannot get something for nothing, whereby they can enforce their statutes against you
11 without providing any real, contractual consideration.

12 All enforcement statutes that impose penalties upon government employees are designed to ensure that public employees
13 stay within the bounds of their Constitutional authority. These laws amount to “private law”, which means that they don't 14 apply to everyone generally, but more specifically to only those persons who contractually consent by accepting 15 employment or “public office” within the government.

16 “Private law. That portion of the law which defines, regulates, enforces, and administers relationships among 17 individuals, associations, and corporations. As used in contradistinction to public law, the term means all that 18 part of the law which is administered between citizen and citizen, or which is concerned with the definition,
19 regulation, and enforcement of rights in cases where both the person in whom the right inheres and the person
20 upon whom the obligation is incident are private individuals. See also Private bill; Special law. Compare
21 Public Law.”
22 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 1196]

23 All private law, in fact, originates ONLY through individual consent in some form, and originates from our right to 24 contract. Those who do not consensually or voluntarily accept the benefit of federal employment, for instance:

- 25 1. Are not subject to any of the federal employment franchise laws because they never expressly consented to the 26 franchise agreement, which is the employment contract.
27 2. May not properly call federal statutes that relate to public employment “law” in their case. Private law can only be 28 “law” in the case of those who are subject to it. For everyone else, it is simply a code that is just as irrelevant as the 29 laws of China are to the average American.

30 It is well within the discretion of Congress to write legislation which imposes administrative, non-judicial penalties against 31 its “employees”, and these rules are no different than a private employer would lawfully impose against their private 32 employees. Below, in fact, is what the U.S. Supreme Court has said about the authority of Congress to write laws that 33 might adversely affect the rights of its “employees”:

34 “The restrictions that the Constitution places upon the government in its capacity as lawmaker, i.e., as the
35 regulator of private conduct, are not the same as the restrictions that it places upon the government in its
36 capacity as employer. We have recognized this in many contexts, with respect to many different constitutional
38 Johnson, 425 U.S. 238, 247 (1976). Private citizens cannot have their property searched without probable
39 cause, but in many circumstances government employees can. O'Connor v. Ortega, 480 U.S. 709, 723 (1987)
40 (plurality opinion); id., at 732 (SCALIA, J., concurring in judgment). Private citizens cannot be punished for 41 refusing to provide the government information that may incriminate them, but government employees can be
42 dismissed when the incriminating information that they refuse to provide relates to the performance of their job.
43 Gardner v. Broderick, [497 U.S. 62, 95] 392 U.S. 273, 277-278 (1968). With regard to freedom of speech
44 in particular: Private citizens cannot be punished for speech of merely private concern, but government
45 employees can be fired for that reason. Connick v. Myers, 461 U.S. 138, 147 (1983). Private citizens cannot be

4 [Rutan v. Republican Party of Illinois, 497 U.S. 62 (1990)]

5 Based on the above, there is no question that the Constitutional prohibition against "Bills of Attainder" and other non-
6 judicial or administrative penalties can only be waived in the case of statutes and regulations passed by government to 7 regulate the behavior of public employees, but only while on official duty and in the exercise of authority that is lawfully
8 delegated to them. Such rules CANNOT prescribe penalties, in most cases, for behavior that occurs while federal 9 "employees" are off duty.

10 Another example of a lawful waiver of the prohibition against Bills of Attainder is the case of privileged corporations. A 11 corporation is a creation of the government and a "public franchise". Those who form such corporations, for the most part,
12 enjoy a privileged "limited liability" from the consequences of their official acts by virtue of being an employee of the 13 corporation. However, that limitation on liability does NOT extend to the officers of the corporation in the context of 14 statutes and regulations passed by the government which regulate the corporation. Nearly all of the penalty statutes under 15 the Internal Revenue Code, codified under Subtitle F, apply almost exclusively to "officers and employees of a 16 corporation". Below is the definition of the term "person" from the Internal Revenue Code which proves this:

17 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 68 > Subchapter B > PART I > § 6671
18 § 6671. Rules for application of assessable penalties

19 (b) Person defined

20 The term "person", as used in this subchapter, includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a 21 member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the 22 act in respect of which the violation occurs.

23 The "corporation" they are talking about above can only lawfully be a federal corporation. More specifically, it can also be 24 the "United States Government", which Title 28 of the United States Code defines as a "federal corporation". To wit:

25 United States Code
26 TITLE 28 - JUDICIARY AND JUDICIAL PROCEDURE
27 PART VI - PARTICULAR PROCEEDINGS
28 CHAPTER 176 - FEDERAL DEBT COLLECTION PROCEDURE
29 SUBCHAPTER A - DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS
30 Sec. 3002. Definitions

31 (15) "United States" means -
32 (A) a Federal corporation;
33 (B) an agency, department, commission, board, or other entity of the United States; or 34 (C) an instrumentality of the United States.

37 "Corporations are also of all grades, and made for varied objects; all governments are corporations, created
38 by usage and common consent, or grants and charters which create a body politic for prescribed purposes;
39 but whether they are private, local or general, in their objects, for the enjoyment of property, or the exercise
40 of power, they are all governed by the same rules of law, as to the construction and the obligation of the 41 instrument by which the incorporation is made. One universal rule of law protects persons and property. It is 42 a fundamental principle of the common law of England, that the term freemen of the kingdom, includes 'all 43 persons,' ecclesiastical and temporal, incorporate, politique or natural; it is a part of their magna charta (2 44 Inst. 4), and is incorporated into our institutions. The persons of the members of corporations are on the same 45 footing of protection as other persons, and their corporate property secured by the same laws which protect 46 that of individuals. 2 Inst. 46-7. 'No man shall be taken,' 'no man shall be disseised,' without due process of law, 47 is a principle taken from magna charta, infused into all our state constitutions, and is made inviolable by the 48 federal government, by the amendments to the constitution."
49 [Proprietors of Charles River Bridge v. Proprietors of, 36 U.S. 420 (1837)]

50 The "officer or employee of a corporation" they are talking about is a "public employee", who works for the "federal 51 corporation" called the "United States Government". That corporation is a "foreign corporation" with respect to a state of 52 the Union, meaning that it is only subject to federal law and not state law:

1 "A foreign corporation is one that derives its existence solely from the laws of another state, government, or 2 country, and the term is used indiscriminately, sometimes in statutes, to designate either a corporation created
3 by or under the laws of another state or a corporation created by or under the laws of a foreign country."

4 "A federal corporation operating within a state is considered a domestic corporation rather than a foreign
5 corporation. The United States government is a foreign corporation with respect to a state."
6 [19 Corpus Juris Secundum, Corporations, §883]

7 On the other hand, Congress has no authority to write legislation which would impose administrative, non-judicial penalties
8 against members of the general public acting only their capacity as private citizens and not "public employees" or other
9 privileged entities. This is confirmed again by the U.S. Supreme Court, which said that Congress cannot enact legislation
10 which adversely affects the private conduct and private rights of the general populace:

11 "The power to "legislate generally upon" life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the "power to provide modes
12 of redress" against offensive state action, was "repugnant" to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also United States
13 v. Reese, 92 U.S. 214, 218 (1876); United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 639 (1883); James v. Bowman, 190
14 U.S. 127, 139 (1903). Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been superseded or 15 modified, see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964); United States v. Guest,
16 383 U.S. 745 (1966), their treatment of Congress' §5 power as corrective or preventive, not definitional, has not
17 been questioned."
18 [City of Boerne v. Flores, Archbishop of San Antonio, 521 U.S. 507 (1997)]

19 To conclude and summarize the findings of this section:

- 20 1. Congress cannot lawfully impose administrative, non-judicial penalties (called unconstitutional "Bills of Attainder") 21 against private citizens or which adversely affect the rights of private citizens unless the subject of the penalty has 22 availed him or her self of a government privilege or benefit, such as federal employment or participation in a federal 23 corporation as an officer of the corporation.
- 24 2. The receipt of all government "privileges" must be completely voluntary and "cannot be compelled in any way.
25 Because the receipt of such "privileges" often involves the surrender of Constitutional rights to property, life, or liberty
26 of some kind, then they require consent provided in some form, and usually in writing. The state CANNOT lawfully 27 compel the surrender of constitutional rights:

28 "It would be a palpable incongruity to strike down an act of state legislation which, by words of express
29 divestment, seeks to strip the citizen of rights guaranteed by the federal Constitution, but to uphold an act by 30 which the same result is accomplished under the guise of a surrender of a right in exchange for a valuable 31 privilege which the state threatens otherwise to withhold. It is not necessary to challenge the proposition that,
32 as a general rule, the state, having power to deny a privilege altogether, may grant it upon such conditions as it
33 sees fit to impose. But the power of the state in that respect is not unlimited, and one of the limitations is that it
34 may not impose conditions which require the relinquishment of Constitutional rights. If the state may compel
35 the surrender of one constitutional right as a condition of its favor, it may, in like manner, compel a surrender
36 of all. It is inconceivable that guaranties embedded in the Constitution of the United States may thus be 37 manipulated out of existence."
38 [Frost v. Railroad Commission, 271 U.S. 583, 46 S.Ct. 605 (1926)]

- 39 3. If the government attempts to impose an administrative, non-judicial penalty, then it is assuming that you are involved
40 in a privileged, usually excise taxable activity of some kind. An example would be a "trade or business", which is 41 defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office".
- 42 4. When the government tries to institute administrative penalties, then the person who is the target of the penalty should 43 be asking the government the following questions:
 - 44 4.1. Please provide court-admissible evidence under penalty of perjury which proves the existence of my consent to 45 receive a government benefit or privilege.
 - 46 4.2. What voluntary, privileged, excise taxable activity do you believe that I am involved in?
- 47 5. Those who want to defend and protect their Constitutional Rights from encroachment by the government should NOT 48 ever accept any kind of privilege, benefit, or entitlement from the government. All such "privileges" cause an 49 inevitable surrender of personal sovereignty and a surrender of sovereign immunity under the Foreign Sovereign
50 Immunities Act found in 28 U.S.C. §1605(a)(2).

4 Requirement for Implementing Regulations

Now let's talk about the requirement for implementing regulations. Pursuant to 44 U.S.C.A. §§1504-1507, before a national domiciled in the union states of the United States of America can be bound by, or adversely effected by legislation or an "Act of Congress" having general applicability to such individuals, it must be published in the Federal Register.

5 U.S.C. §552(a): Public information; agency rules, opinions, orders, records, and proceedings

Except to the extent that a person has actual and timely notice of the terms thereof, a person may not in any manner be required to resort to, or be adversely affected by, a matter required to be published in the Federal Register and not so published. For the purpose of this paragraph, matter reasonably available to the class of persons affected thereby is deemed published in the Federal Register when incorporated by reference therein with the approval of the Director of the Federal Register.

26 CFR §601.702 Publication and public inspection

Except to the extent that a person has actual and timely notice of the terms of any matter referred to in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph which is required to be published in the Federal Register, such person is not required in any manner to resort to, or be adversely affected by, such matter if it is not so published or is not incorporated by reference therein pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph. Thus, for example, any such matter which imposes an obligation and which is not so published or incorporated by reference will not adversely change or affect a person's rights.

There are three and only three exceptions to the requirement of publication in the Federal Register of all implementing regulations, which are:

1. A military or foreign affairs function of the United States. 5 U.S.C. §553(a)(1) .
2. A matter relating to agency management or personnel or to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contracts. 5 U.S.C. §553(a)(2) .
3. Federal agencies or persons in their capacity as officers, agents, or employees thereof. 44 U.S.C. §1505(a)(1).

Note that all of the above three exempted groups are within the government itself. Therefore, if the government directly cites and enforces a statute against you for which there is no enforcement regulation published within the Federal Register, then they are "presuming", usually wrongfully, that you are a member of one of the three groups within the federal government who are specifically exempted from the requirement. All such presumptions against those who are protected by the Constitution are an unconstitutional violation of due process of law which essentially compel you to accept the legal disabilities associated with a federal franchise which in most cases, you derive no benefit from. This frequent and unconstitutional abuse of presumption to prejudice and destroy your rights is thoroughly documented below:

Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

Enforcement regulations published as required within the Federal Register are then categorized pursuant to their applicable Title in the Code of Federal Regulations (CFR). 26 U.S.C. §7805(a) states:

"...the Secretary shall prescribe all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this title."

The Internal Revenue Code is not self-executing. Without an implementing regulation, applicable to a particular type of tax, a statute has no force of law against anyone who is not part of the government as a "public officer" or "employee", and therefore imposes no duties or penalties. This is confirmed by the definition of "person" found in 26 U.S.C. §6671(b) and by the levy statute which identifies the proper audience for "levy" actions, which are enforcement actions:

Subtitle F > CHAPTER 64 > Subchapter D > PART II > § 6331
§ 6331. Levy and distraint

(a) Authority of Secretary

If any person liable to pay any tax neglects or refuses to pay the same within 10 days after notice and demand, it shall be lawful for the Secretary to collect such tax (and such further sum as shall be sufficient to cover the expenses of the levy) by levy upon all property and rights to property (except such property as is exempt under section 6334) belonging to such person or on which there is a lien provided in this chapter for the payment of such tax. Levy may be made upon the accrued salary or wages of any officer, employee, or elected official, of the United States, the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of the United States or the District of Columbia, by serving a notice of levy on the employer (as defined in section 3401(d)) of such officer, employee, or elected official. If the Secretary makes a finding that the collection of such tax is in jeopardy, notice and demand for immediate payment of such tax may be made by the Secretary and, upon failure or refusal to pay such tax, collection thereof by levy shall be lawful without regard to the 10-day period provided in this section.

Furthermore, the Parallel Table Authorities for 26 CFR reveals that the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms is the only authority authorized to use distraint or assess penalties for nonpayment of income taxes under Title 27 ONLY. The following is taken from the Parallel Table of Authorities in the back of the Title 26 Code of Federal Regulations [CFR]. It is a list of the ONLY 26 CFR Part 301 Regulations that derive their Authority for implementation from Title 26 USCS or 26 IRC [Income Taxes]. Note the conspicuous absence of any penalty, interest, levy or seizure for the Title 26 Voluntary Income Tax. Again, it is inconceivable that the Congress would legislate penalties for the individual income tax, since the supreme Court and the IRS have both substantiated that such a Tax is voluntary and NOT based upon distraint. It would be absurd to impose penalties for non-compliance, when such an option is what made the tax voluntary to begin with!

1 The following table, repeated from section 3.15.3 of the Great IRS Hoax, also provides conclusive evidence that there are
 2 NO implementing regulations associated with all of Title 26 that relate to income taxes under Subtitle A of the Internal
 3 Revenue Code. This table provides a list of the enforcing regulations for Title 26, mostly under Subtitle F, which is 4 Procedures and Administration:

1 Most noteworthy of the above is that ALL of the provisions identified in Subtitle F are associated with Title 27, Alcohol,
2 Tobacco, and Firearms, and NOT Subtitle A Income taxes! Why? Because these types of taxes are indirect excise taxes on 3 privileges. If you don't want the penalty, then don't choose the privileged manufacture of alcohol, tobacco, or firearms.

4 In addition, the following court ruling clearly expresses the lack of IRS authority to assess penalties absent implementing 5 regulations:

6 *"...the Act's civil and criminal penalties attach only upon the violation of a regulation promulgated by the 7 Secretary; if the Secretary were to do nothing, the Act itself would impose no penalties on anyone...only
8 those who violate the regulations (not the Code) may incur civil or criminal penalties, it is the actual 9 regulation issued by the Secretary of the Treasury and not the broad authorizing language of the statute,
10 which is to be tested against the standards of the 4th Amendment."*
11 [Calif. Bankers Assoc. v. Shultz, 416 U.S. 25, 44, 39 L.Ed.2d 812, 94 S.Ct. 1494]

12 An older version of the Internal Revenue Manual, which is reflective of the ruling case law on this subject, states that the 13 IRS has no delegated authority to issue a civil penalty or to collect penalties without a judgment signed by a magistrate:

14 IRM 546 §19(b)(2) "the civil penalty for non-compliance may be imposed only by filing a suit in the name of 15 the United States, naming the taxpayer as a defendant and securing a judgment."

16 The supreme Court agrees with this conclusion in the following case:

17 "Our system of taxation is based upon voluntary assessment and payment, not upon distraint."
18 [Flora v. U.S., 362 U.S. 145 (1960)]

19 In case you don't understand, "distraint" is defined as follows and is the equivalent of "force" or "coercion" or 20 "compulsion" in the collection of debts and legal liabilities:

21 *"...the act or process of DISTRAINT whereby a person (the DISTRAINOR), without prior court approval,
22 seizes the personal property of another located upon the distrainer's land in satisfaction of a claim, as a pledge
23 for performance of a duty, or in reparation of an injury. Where goods are seized in satisfaction of a claim, the 24 distrainer can hold the goods until the claim is paid and, failing payment, may sell them in satisfaction."
25 [Barron's Law Dictionary, Steven H. Gifis, 1996, p. 150, ISBN 0-8120-3096-6]*

26 Therefore, IRS assessments of penalties and demands for money, without the authority of law, their lawless actions to 27 penalize Americans that have not been legally defended or explained or justified based on their delegated authority, 28 constitutes extortion under the color of law, mail fraud, mailing threatening communications, and conspiracy against the 29 rights of a Citizen, for which they can be help personally liable should legal action become necessary.

30 5 Courts administering franchises are acting in an administrative rather than 31 judicial capacity as part of the Executive and not Judicial Branch

32 Participating in ANY government franchise can leave you entirely without standing or remedy in any federal court!
33 Essentially, by eating out of the government's hand, you are SCREWED, BLACK AND BLUED, and TATTOOED!

34 *"These general rules are well settled: (1) That the United States, when it creates rights in individuals against 35 itself [a "public right", which is a euphemism for a "franchise" to help the court disguise the nature of the 36 transaction], is under no obligation to provide a remedy through the courts. United States ex rel. Dunlap v.
37 Black, 128 U. S. 40, 9 Sup. Ct. 12, 32 L. Ed. 354; Ex parte Atocha, 17 Wall. 439, 21 L. Ed. 696; Gordon v.
38 United States, 7 Wall. 188, 195, 19 L. Ed. 35; De Groot v. United States, 5 Wall. 419, 431, 433, 18 L. Ed. 700;
39 Comegys v. Vasse, 1 Pet. 193, 212, 7 L. Ed. 108. (2) That where a statute creates a right and provides a
40 special remedy, that remedy is exclusive. Wilder Manufacturing Co. v. Corn Products Co., 236 U. S. 165, 174,
41 175, 35 Sup. Ct. 398, 59 L. Ed. 520, Ann. Cas. 1916A, 118; Armon v. Murphy, 109 U. S. 238, 3 Sup. Ct. 184, 42 27 L. Ed. 920; Barnett v. National Bank, 98 U. S. 555, 558, 25 L. Ed. 212; Farmers' & Mechanics' National 43 Bank v. Dearing, 91 U. S. 29, 35, 23 L. Ed. 196. Still the fact that the right and the remedy are thus intertwined
44 might not, if the provision stood alone, require us to hold that the remedy expressly given excludes a right of 45 review by the Court of Claims, where the decision of the special tribunal involved no disputed question of fact
46 and the denial of compensation was rested wholly upon the construction of the act. See Medbury v. United 47 States, 173 U. S. 492, 198, 19 Sup. Ct. 503, 43 L. Ed. 779; Parish v. MacVeagh, 214 U. S. 124, 29 Sup. Ct.

4 Signing up for government entitlements hands them essentially a blank check, because they, and not you, determine the 5 cost for the service and how much you will pay for it beyond that point. This makes the public servant into your Master
6 and beyond that point, you must lick the hands that feed you. Watch Out! NEVER, EVER take a hand-out from the 7 government of ANY kind, or you'll end up being their CHEAP WHORE. The Bible calls this WHORE "Babylon the Great
8 Harlot". Remember: Black's Law Dictionary defines "commerce", e.g. commerce with the GOVERNMENT, as 9 "intercourse". Bend over!

10 Commerce. ...Intercourse by way of trade and traffic between different peoples or states and the citizens or 11 inhabitants thereof, including not only the purchase, sale, and exchange of commodities, but also the 12 instrumentalities [governments] and agencies by which it is promoted and the means and appliances by which 13 it is carried on..."
14 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 269]

15 Government franchises and licenses are the main method for destroying the sovereignty of the people pursuant to 28 U.S.C.
16 §1603\(b\)\(3\) and 28 U.S.C. §1605\(a\)\(2\) . For further details, read the Sovereignty Forms and Instructions Manual, Form
17 #10.005, Sections 1.4 through 1.11.

18 The U.S. Supreme Court has said that when Congress creates what it calls a "public right" and, by implication a "statutory 19 privilege" or "franchise", Congress has the authority to circumscribe and prescribe how that right may be exercised and 20 which forums it is enforced within. Hence, for instance, Congress can prescribe that if you dispute your income tax
21 liability, you must first enter Tax Court, which isn't a Constitutional court at all, but an Article I administrative agency
22 within the Executive rather than Judicial Branch of the government.

23 Although Crowell and Raddatz do not explicitly distinguish between rights created by Congress and other
24 rights, such a distinction underlies in part Crowell's and Raddatz' recognition of a critical difference between 25 rights created by federal statute and rights recognized by the Constitution. Moreover, such a distinction seems 26 to us to be necessary in light of the delicate accommodations required by the principle of separation of powers
27 reflected in Art. III. The constitutional system of checks and balances is designed to guard against 28 "encroachment or aggrandizement" by Congress at the expense of the other branches of government. Buckley
29 v. Valeo, 424 U.S., at 122, 96 S.Ct., at 683. But when Congress creates a statutory right [a "privilege" in this
30 case, such as a "trade or business"], it clearly has the discretion, in defining that right, to create presumptions,
31 or assign burdens of proof, or prescribe remedies; it may also provide that persons seeking to vindicate that
32 right must do so before particularized tribunals created to perform the specialized adjudicative tasks related to
33 that right.FN35 Such provisions do, in a sense, affect the exercise of judicial power, but they are also incidental
34 to Congress' power to define the right that it has created. No comparable justification exists, however, when the 35 right being adjudicated is not of congressional creation. In such a situation, substantial inroads into functions
36 that have traditionally been performed by the Judiciary cannot be characterized merely as incidental extensions
37 of Congress' power to define rights that it has created. Rather, such inroads suggest unwarranted
38 encroachments upon the judicial power of the United States, which our Constitution reserves for Art. III courts.
39 [Northern Pipeline Const. Co. v. Marathon Pipe Line Co., 458 U.S. at 83-84, 102 S.Ct. 2858 (1983)]

40 The U.S. Supreme Court also said that the only circumstances when Congress may remove the enforcement of a right to a
41 non-Article III, legislative tribunal or, by implication, remove it from a state court to federal court is in connection with a 42 statutory franchise or "public right":

43 "The distinction between public rights and private rights has not been definitively explained in our
44 precedents.FN22 Nor is it necessary to do so in the present cases, for it suffices to observe that a matter of 45 *public rights must at a minimum arise "between the government and others." Ex parte Bakelite Corp., supra, at* 46 451, 49 S.Ct., at 413.FN23 In contrast, "the liability of one individual to another under the law as defined,"
47 *Crowell v. Benson, supra, at 51, 52 S.Ct., at 292, is a matter of private rights. Our precedents clearly establish* 48 that only controversies in the former category may be removed from Art. III courts and delegated to legislative 49 courts or administrative agencies for their determination. See Atlas Roofing Co. v. Occupational Safety and
50 Health Review Comm'n, 430 U.S. 442, 450, n. 7, 97 S.Ct. 1261, 1266, n. 7, 51 L.Ed.2d 464 (1977); Crowell v.
51 *Benson, supra, 285 U.S., at 50-51, 52 S.Ct., at 292. See also Katz, Federal Legislative Courts, 43 Harv.L.Rev.*
52 894, 917-918 (1930).FN24 Private-rights disputes, on the other hand, lie at the core of the historically 53 recognized judicial power."
54 [Northern Pipeline Const. Co. v. Marathon Pipe Line Co., 458 U.S. 50, 102 S.Ct. 2858 (1983)]

55 The key to determining whether a matter must be heard in federal court or state court then, is to first determine whether it
56 involves a "public right" or "statutory franchise". If it is a state statutory privilege or right, it must be litigated in a state

1 court. If it is a federal statutory right or privilege, then it can be litigated only in a federal court. The Separation of Powers
2 Doctrine and the sovereign immunity of the states and federal governments towards each other prohibit state matters from 3 being heard in a federal court or federal matters being heard in a state court. Alden v. Maine, 527 U.S. 706 (1999) .

4 Lets apply these concepts to the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A “trade or business” franchise. The operation of this
5 franchise is exhaustively explained below:

The “Trade or Business” Scam, Form #05.001
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

6 The franchise agreement is codified in the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A: Income Taxes. The administration of this
7 franchise is done through the IRS. When disputes arise under the franchise agreement, they are referred to the U.S. Tax
8 Court, which is an Article I legislative court within the Executive and NOT Judicial Branch of the government. 26 U.S.C. 9 §7441.

10 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 76 > Subchapter C > PART I > § 7441
11 § 7441. Status

12 There is hereby established, under article I of the Constitution of the United States, a court of record to be 13 known as the United States Tax Court. The members of the Tax Court shall be the chief judge and the judges of 14 the Tax Court.

15 The above should be a HUGE clue that a franchise is being litigated, and that only franchisees called “taxpayers” may 16 appear in such a court. Confirmation of this fact is found in Tax Court Rule 13, which says on this subject:

17 United States Tax Court
18 RULE 13. JURISDICTION

19 (a) Notice of Deficiency or of Transferee or Fiduciary Liability Required: Except in actions for declaratory
20 judgment, for disclosure, for readjustment or adjustment of partnership items, for administrative costs, or for
21 review of failure to abate interest (see Titles XXI, XXII, XXIV,XXVI, and XXVII), the jurisdiction of the Court
22 depends (1) in a case commenced in the Court by a taxpayer, upon the issuance by the Commissioner of a
23 notice of deficiency in in-come, gift, or estate tax or, in the taxes under Code chapter41, 42, 43, or 44 (relating 24 to the excise taxes on certain organizations and persons dealing with them), or in the tax under Code chapter
25 45 (relating to the windfall profit tax),or in any other taxes which are the subject of the issuance of a notice of
26 deficiency by the Commissioner; and (2) in a case commenced in the Court by a transferee or fiduciary, upon
27 the issuance by the Commissioner of a notice of liability to the transferee or fiduciary. See Code secs. 6212,
28 6213, and 6901.

29 It is otherwise ILLEGAL for a person who did not consent to the franchise agreement and who derives no benefits
30 therefrom to appear in the franchise court called “Tax Court” based on the following:

- 31 1. It is UNLAWFUL for the United States government to offer federal franchises such as a “trade or business” to persons
32 who are domiciled outside of it’s exclusive territorial jurisdiction called the “United States”, which is defined in 26
33 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) as the District of Columbia and nowhere expanded to include any part of any state of 34 the Union. The Declaration of Independence says that men are created with certain “unalienable rights”. An 35 “unalienable right” is one that cannot be bargained away or transferred through any kind of commercial process, such 36 as through a franchise agreement. That means that “nontaxpayers” are legally incapable and incompetent to enter into 37 a franchise agreement with the United States government that would surrender any of their rights and that any attempt 38 to offer such public rights or enforce franchises outside of federal territory within the exclusive jurisdiction of a state
39 constitutes a criminal conspiracy against my rights.

40 *“We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator
41 with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.--That to* 42 secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the 43 governed, -“
44 [Declaration of Independence]

1 2. Tax Court Rule 13(a)(1) requires that only “taxpayers” may petition the court for relief from a Notice of Deficiency,
2 and therefore “nontaxpayers” are not eligible for any relief from said court and would be misrepresenting their status to 3 pay the filing fee.

4 United States Tax Court
5 RULE 13. JURISDICTION

6 (a) Notice of Deficiency or of Transferee or Fiduciary Liability Required: Except in actions for declaratory
7 judgment, for disclosure, for readjustment or adjustment of partnership items, for administrative costs, or for
8 review of failure to abate interest (see Titles XXI, XXII, XXIV,XXVI, and XXVII), the jurisdiction of the Court
9 depends (1) in a case commenced in the Court by a taxpayer, upon the issuance by the Commissioner of a
10 notice of deficiency in in-come, gift, or estate tax or, in the taxes under Code chapter 41, 42, 43, or 44 (relating 11 to the excise taxes on certain organizations and persons dealing with them), or in the tax under Code chapter
12 45 (relating to the windfall profit tax), or in any other taxes which are the subject of the issuance of a notice of
13 deficiency by the Commissioner; and (2) in a case commenced in the Court by a transferee or fiduciary, upon
14 the issuance by the Commissioner of a notice of liability to the transferee or fiduciary. See Code secs. 6212,
15 6213, and 6901.

16 3. The Declaratory Judgments Act, 28 U.S.C. §2201(a), forbids all courts including this court from making declaratory
17 judgments relating to federal taxes, which means this court lacks jurisdiction to declare anyone a “taxpayer” that is 18 within its jurisdiction and entitled to relief if they provide admissible evidence under penalty of perjury to the contrary.

19 Specifically, Rowen seeks a declaratory judgment against the United States of America with respect to "whether 20 or not the plaintiff is a taxpayer pursuant to, and/or under 26 U.S.C. § 7701(a)(14)." (See Compl. at 2.) This 21 Court lacks jurisdiction to issue a declaratory judgment "with respect to Federal taxes other than actions 22 brought under section 7428 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986," a code section that is not at issue in the 23 instant action. See 28 U.S.C. § 2201; see also Hughes v. United States, 953 F.2d 531, 536-537 (9th Cir. 1991)
24 (affirming dismissal of claim for declaratory relief under § 2201 where claim concerned question of tax 25 liability). Accordingly, defendant's motion to dismiss is hereby GRANTED, and the instant action is hereby 26 DISMISSED.
27 [Rowen v. U.S., 05-3766MMC. (N.D.Cal. 11/02/2005)]

28 4. The federal courts have ruled the Internal Revenue Code may not lawfully be enforced against “nontaxpayers”, and the 29 ONLY purpose of the U.S. Tax Court is to enforce it.

30 "The revenue laws are a code or system in regulation of tax assessment and collection. They relate to taxpayers,
31 and not to nontaxpayers. The latter are without their scope. No procedure is prescribed for nontaxpayers, and
32 no attempt is made to annul any of their rights and remedies in due course of law. With them Congress does not 33 assume to deal, and they are neither of the subject nor of the object of the revenue laws..."
34 [Long v. Rasmussen, 281 F. 236 (1922)]

35 "A reasonable construction of the taxing statutes does not include vesting any tax official with absolute power 36 of assessment against individuals not specified in the statutes as a person liable for the tax without an 37 opportunity for judicial review of this status before the appellation of 'taxpayer' is bestowed upon them and 38 their property is seized..."
39 [Botta v. Scanlon, 288 F.2d. 504, 508 (1961)]

40 "Revenue Laws relate to taxpayers and not to non-taxpayers. The latter are without their scope. No
41 procedures are prescribed for non-taxpayers and no attempt is made to annul any of their Rights or Remedies
42 in due course of law. With them [non-taxpayers] Congress does not assume to deal and they are neither of the 43 subject nor of the object of federal revenue laws."
44 [Economy Plumbing & Heating v. U.S., 470 F2d. 585 (1972)]

45 "And by statutory definition, 'taxpayer' includes any person, trust or estate subject to a tax imposed by the 46 revenue act. ...Since the statutory definition of 'taxpayer' is exclusive, the federal courts do not have the power
47 to create nonstatutory taxpayers for the purpose of applying the provisions of the Revenue Acts..."
48 [C.I.R. v. Trustees of L. Inv. Ass'n, 100 F.2d 18 (1939)]

49 5. The Internal Revenue Code provides only one remedy for “nontaxpayers” in 26 U.S.C. §7426, and Notice of 50 Deficiency relief is not included in that remedy.

51 6. The U.S. Supreme Court has said NO COURT, much less this court, has any jurisdiction to declare an innocent person 52 called a “nontaxpayer” as a guilty person called a “taxpayer”.

1 "In Calder v. Bull, which was here in 1798, Mr. Justice Chase said, that there were acts which the Federal
2 and State legislatures could not do without exceeding their authority, and among them he mentioned a law
3 which punished a citizen for an innocent act; a law that destroyed or impaired the lawful private [labor]
4 contracts [and labor compensation, e.g. earnings from employment through compelled W-4 withholding] of 5 citizens; a law that made a man judge in his own case; and a law that took the property from A [the worker],
6 and gave it to B [the government or another citizen, such as through social welfare programs]. 'It is against 7 antecedent and justice,' he added, 'for a people to intrust a legislature with such powers, and therefore it
8 cannot be presumed that they have done it. They may command what is right and prohibit what is wrong; but 9 they cannot change innocence into guilt, or punish innocence as a crime, or violate the right of an
10 antecedent lawful private [employment] contract [by compelling W-4 withholding, for instance], or the right
11 of private property. To maintain that a Federal or State legislature possesses such powers [of THEFT!] if 12 they had not been expressly restrained, would, in my opinion, be a political heresy altogether inadmissible in 13 all free republican governments.' 3 Dall. 388."
14 [Sinking Fund Cases, 99 U.S. 700 (1878)]

15 U.S. Tax Court cannot therefore entertain any presumptions about the status of "nontaxpayers" which might prejudice
16 their constitutionally protected rights as persons domiciled on land protected by the Constitution without violating your 17 oath. They MUST be presumed innocent until proven guilty, which means they are an innocent "nontaxpayer" and 18 therefore cannot lawfully petition this court for anything but a dismissal for lack of jurisdiction.

19 "Keeping in mind the well-settled rule that the citizen is exempt from taxation unless the same is imposed by 20 clear and unequivocal language, and that where the construction of a tax law is doubtful, the doubt [or 21 PRESUMPTION about status] is to be resolved in favor of those upon whom the tax is sought to be laid."
22 [Spreckels Sugar Refining Co. v. McClain, 192 U.S. 397 (1904)]

- 23 7. The U.S. Tax Court is an Article I court within the Executive and not Judicial branch of the United States government.
24 See 26 U.S.C. §7441 and Northern Pipeline Const. Co. v. Marathon Pipe Line Co., 458 U.S. at 83-84, 102 S.Ct. 2858
25 (1983). Because it is within the Executive and not Judicial Branch of the Government, any penalties or "taxes" it
26 institutes (both of which are equivalent) would constitute an unlawful "bill of attainder" if ordered against a person
27 protected by the United States Constitution domiciled outside of federal territory. Nontaxpayers are NOT 28 "franchisees" (such as a "taxpayers" or "public officers") of the federal government and they derive no "benefits" from 29 the "trade or business"/"public office" franchise defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\). In fact, they are not lawfully
30 allowed to participate in any federal franchises because they never consented to participate, have no delegated
31 authority to do so, and do not maintain a domicile on federal territory, which is the only audience that federal 32 franchises can even lawfully be offered to, since our Constitutionally protected rights are "unalienable", meaning that 33 they cannot be bargained away any place they exist, such as within a state of the Union.

34 Bill of attainder. Legislative acts, no matter what their form, that apply either to named individuals or to easily
35 ascertainable members of a group in such a way as to inflict punishment on them without a judicial trial.
36 United States v. Brown, 381 U.S. 437, 448-49, 85 S.Ct. 1707, 1715, 14 L.Ed. 484, 492; United States v. Lovett, 37 328 U.S. 303, 315, 66 S.Ct. 1073, 1079, 90 L.Ed. 1252. An act is a "bill of attainder" when the punishment is 38 death and a "bill of pains and penalties" when the punishment is less severe; both kinds of punishment fall
39 within the scope of the constitutional prohibition. U.S.Const. Art. I, Sect 9, Cl. 3 (as to Congress);' Art. I, Sec, 40 10 (as to state legislatures).
41 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 165]

- 42 8. The only occasion where administrative, non-judicial penalties (such as 26 U.S.C. §6651) may lawfully be instituted is 43 against those consensually engaged in federal franchises who therefore implicitly consent to the terms of the franchise 44 agreement and the penalties that are part of it. This sole exception was described by the U.S. Supreme Court as 45 follows:

46 "Anyone who partakes of the benefits or privileges of a given statute, or anyone who even places himself into a
47 position where he may avail himself of those benefits at will, cannot reach constitutional grounds to redress
48 grievances in the courts against the given statute."
49 [Ashwander v. T.V.A., 297 U.S. 288, 346, 56 S. Ct. 466, 482, 80 L.Ed. 688, (1938)][underlines added]

51 "The restrictions that the Constitution places upon the government in its capacity as lawmaker, i.e., as the 52 regulator of private conduct, are not the same as the restrictions that it places upon the government in its 53 capacity as employer. We have recognized this in many contexts, with respect to many different constitutional
54 guarantees. Private citizens perhaps cannot be prevented from wearing long hair, but policemen can. Kelley v.
55 Johnson, 425 U.S. 238, 247 (1976). Private citizens cannot have their property searched without probable
56 cause, but in many circumstances government employees can. O'Connor v. Ortega, 480 U.S. 709, 723 (1987)
57 (plurality opinion); id., at 732 (SCALIA, J., concurring in judgment). Private citizens cannot be punished for 58 refusing to provide the government information that may incriminate them, but government employees can be

1 dismissed when the incriminating information that they refuse to provide relates to the performance of their job.
2 Gardner v. Broderick, [497 U.S. 62, 95] 392 U.S. 273, 277 -278 (1968). With regard to freedom of 3 speech in particular: Private citizens cannot be punished for speech of merely private concern, but government
4 employees can be fired for that reason. Connick v. Myers, 461 U.S. 138, 147 (1983). Private citizens cannot be
5 punished for partisan political activity, but federal and state employees can be dismissed and otherwise
6 punished for that reason. Public Workers v. Mitchell, 330 U.S. 75, 101 (1947); Civil Service Comm'n v. Letter
7 Carriers, 413 U.S. 548, 556 (1973); Broadrick v. Oklahoma, 413 U.S. 601, 616 -617 (1973)."
8 [Rutan v. Republican Party of Illinois, 497 U.S. 62 (1990)]

9 In point of fact, every government franchise must make the franchisee into a "public officer", "employee", or agent of 10 the government of one kind or another because the ability to regulate private conduct is repugnant to the Constitution:

11 "The power to 'legislate generally upon' life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the 'power to provide
12 modes of redress' against offensive state action, was 'repugnant' to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also 13 United States v. Reese, 92 U.S. 214, 218 (1876); United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 639 (1883); James v.
14 Bowman, 190 U.S. 127, 139 (1903). Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been 15 superseded or modified, see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964); United 16 States v. Guest, 383 U.S. 745 (1966), their treatment of Congress' §5 power as corrective or preventive, not 17 definitional, has not been questioned."
18 [City of Boerne v. Flores, Archbishop of San Antonio, 521 U.S. 507 (1997)]

- 19 9. The U.S. Tax Court itself is a "franchise court" which administers the "trade or business"/"public office" franchise as 20 defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\). It constitutes a penalty, a "bill of attainder", and an injury to the constitutionally
21 protected rights of a "nontaxpayer" to be compelled to satisfy the obligations of a franchise which they do not consent
22 to and derive not benefit from and never lawfully participated in. It is, in fact, involuntary servitude to be subjected to 23 the jurisdiction of an executive branch administrative franchise court in violation of the Thirteenth Amendment, 42
24 U.S.C. §1994, and 18 U.S.C. §1583.
- 25 10. If a "nontaxpayer" does enter the U.S. Tax Court, the presumption that they are a "taxpayer" would prejudice their 26 constitutional rights. The court can only cite cases and authorities relating to "taxpayers" in its rulings because it can 27 only entertain suits by franchisees called "taxpayers", and all such cases would be inapposite, irrelevant, and 28 prejudicial to the rights of a "nontaxpayer":

29 Statutes creating permanent irrebuttable presumptions have long been disfavored under the Due Process
30 Clauses of the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments. In Heiner v. Donnan, 285 U.S. 312, 52 S.Ct. 358, 76 L.Ed.
31 772 (1932), the Court was faced with a constitutional challenge to a federal statute that created a conclusive
32 presumption that gifts made within two years prior to the donor's death were made in contemplation of death,
33 thus requiring payment by his estate of a higher tax. In holding that this irrefutable assumption was so arbitrary
34 and unreasonable as to deprive the taxpayer of his property without due process of law, the Court stated that it
35 had 'held more than once that a statute creating a presumption which operates to deny a fair opportunity to 36 rebut it violates the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.' Id., at 329, 52 S.Ct., at 362. See, e.g.,
37 Schlesinger v. Wisconsin, 270 U.S. 230, 46 S.Ct. 260, 70 L.Ed. 557 (1926); Hooper v. Tax Comm'n, 284 U.S.
38 206, 52 S.Ct. 120, 76 L.Ed. 248 (1931). See also Tot v. United States, 319 U.S. 463, 468-469, 63 S.Ct. 1241,
39 1245-1246, 87 L.Ed. 1519 (1943); Leary v. United States, 395 U.S. 6, 29-53, 89 S.Ct. 1532, 1544-1557, 23
40 L.Ed.2d 57 (1969). Cf. Turner v. United States, 396 U.S. 398, 418-419, 90 S.Ct. 642, 653-654, 24 L.Ed.2d 610 41 (1970).
42 [United States Supreme Court, Vlandis v. Kline, 412 U.S. 441 (1973)]

43 Another implication of the above is that even when the party decides to entertain the lawsuit in United States District Court
44 rather than U.S. Tax Court, that United States District Court:

- 45 1. Is administering the terms of a federal franchise called a "trade or business", which is defined in 26 U.S.C.
46 §7701\(a\)\(26\) as "the functions of a public office", which public office is ONLY within the United States government.
47 2. Like the Tax Court that would otherwise have heard the case, is STILL operating in the same administrative rather than 48 judicial capacity as part of the Executive rather than Judicial Branch of the government under the United States
49 constitution.
50 3. May only exercise authority over territory of the United States that is not part of any state of the Union. It is to be 51 noted that Tax Court judges are not appointed for life, but for a limited term of 15 years pursuant to 26 U.S.C. 52 §7443\(e\).

53 "As the only judicial power vested in Congress [under the Constitution] is to create courts whose judges shall 54 hold their offices during good behavior, it necessarily follows that, if Congress authorizes the creation of 55 courts and the appointment of judges for limited time, it must act independently of the Constitution upon 56 territory which is not part of the United States within the meaning of the Constitution."
57 [O'Donohue v. United States, 289 U.S. 516, 53 S.Ct. 740 (1933)]

- 1 4. Does NOT derive its authority from Article III of the United States Constitution. There is no statute in the context of 2 Title 28 of the U.S. Code that defines the term “State” to include any part of a state of the Union. 28 U.S.C. §1332\(d\)
3 defines the term “State” to mean federal territory that is no part of any state of the Union. Consequently, it is
4 impossible to implement the diversity of citizenship described in Article III of the Constitution, where the term “State”
5 means ONLY states of the Union and excludes federal statutory “States”, which are territories and possessions of the 6 United States described in 4 U.S.C. §110\(d\).
7 5. Derives all of its authority within the context of that dispute from Article 4, Section 3, Clause 2 of the United States
8 Constitution, because it is administering a franchise called a “trade or business”. All rights are property and anything 9 that conveys rights are therefore also “property” within the meaning of this provision of the constitution.

12 6 Rebutted Arguments against this document

13 6.1 The “includes” argument

14 Now when the IRS hears the arguments in this memorandum, they often try to say that the above definition of “person”
15 uses the word “includes”, which is an expansive rather than limiting term. Here is what they will quote, from 26 U.S.C.
16 §7701\(c\) in making this statement:

17 “Sec. 7701(c) INCLUDES AND INCLUDING. –

18 The terms ‘include’ and ‘including’ when used in a definition contained in this title shall not be deemed to 19 exclude other things otherwise within the meaning of the term defined.”

20 The IRS will say that the phrase in 26 CFR § 301.6671-1 “includes an officer or employee of a corporation” does not
21 exclude other uses of the term, like EVERYONE else or ALL Americans, because of the definition of the word “includes”
22 found in section 3.12.1.8 of the Great IRS Hoax. But we know from statements made in Congressional Research Service
23 Report 97-59A appearing in section 8.2 of Great IRS Hoax that Subtitles A and C income taxes are excise taxes, and that 24 the “persons” indicated in the above regulations are the only ones in receipt of privileges from the U.S. government.
25 Expanding the operation of penalties beyond these legal fictions called “persons” makes the income tax operate effectively
26 as a direct tax rather than an indirect tax, which is clearly unconstitutional if enforced outside of federal jurisdiction or 27 within states of the Union.

28 The answer to this issue on the abuse of the word “includes” and “including” by the IRS appears in the free pamphlet
29 entitled “The Meaning of the words ‘includes’ and ‘including’” available for free on the web at:

30 <http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/FalseRhetoric/Includess.pdf>

31 This is a very common and unscrupulous tactic designed to confuse and intimidate Americans and illegally expand the 32 jurisdiction of the taxing power of the federal government for Subtitle A income taxes beyond its clear limits found in the 33 definition of “United States” in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and “State” found in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(10).

34 6.2 The “no regulations required” argument

35 Another popular technique used by the IRS and the Department of Justice is to try to establish that implementing 36 regulations are NOT required in order to lawfully impose penalties against persons domiciled in states of the Union who are 37 not engaged in federal franchises or acting as federal “employees”, federal contractors, or federal agents. This argument is 38 simply wrong. Below is an example of the use of this argument by a U.S. Attorney that happened in a real life case in 39 Federal District Court in response to a motion to dismiss by the Plaintiff, a private party:

40 The Plaintiff’s seemingly new argument is that the sections of the Internal Revenue Code (“IRC”) on which the 41 government relies in this case—§§ 6700,6701,7402 and 7408—are not supported by implementing regulations and

1 are thus ineffective. Plaintiffs argument (which has been made by others in the tax protest community) is
2 without merit. The Treasury Secretary has broad authority to "prescribe all needful rules and regulations for 3 the enforcement of [the IRC], including all rules and regulations as may be necessary by reason of any 4 alteration of law in relation to internal revenue" under 26 U.S.C. §7805(a) (emphasis added); see Granse v.
5 United States, 892 F . Supp. 219,224 (D. Minn. 1995). This statute "does not require the promulgation of 6 regulations as a prerequisite to the enforcement of each and every provision of the [IRC]." Id.; see Watts v.
7 Internal Revenue Service, 925 F . Supp. 271,277 (D.N.J. 1996) (holding that the IRC "has the force of law
8 which Congress gave it, with or without implementing regulations").

9 An implementing regulation is not necessary if the Congressional mandate of the IRC provision is clear. Ganse,
10 892 F. Supp. at 225 (citations omitted). IRC 5 7408 authorizes action: to enjoin persons from engaging in the 11 conduct specified in IRC §5 6700 and 6701. Those latter statutes impose penalties on persons who engage in 12 the conduct set forth in the statutes (5 6700-promoting abusive tax shelters; § 6701-aiding in the 13 understatement of tax liability). IRC §7402(a) authorizes district courts to issue injunctions "as may be 14 necessary or appropriate for the enforcement of the internal revenue laws." These laws were enacted to give the 15 IRS more effective tools to deal with "the growing phenomenon of abusive tax shelters." S. Rep. No. 97-494, at 16 266 (1982), reprinted in 1982 U.S.C.A.N. 781, 1014. The statutes are clear and express Congress's desire for 17 capable tax law enforcement. Plaintiff has failed to show that the IRC statutes relevant to this action are so 18 ambiguous or unclear as to require the promulgation of implementing regulations.

19 The main argument of the Respondent above was to cite the case of Granse v. United States, 892 F.Supp 219, 224 (D.Minn.
20 1995). You can view that case below:

21 <http://famguardian.org/TaxFreedom/Authorities/Circuit/GranseVU.S.-892F.Supp219-1995.pdf>

22 You can read the gist of that motion to dismiss in the following free pamphlet on our website:

23 Federal Enforcement Authority Within States of the Union, Form #05.032
24 <http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

25 We will now use the remainder of this section to present the forceful argument to the Court appearing in the Plaintiff's
26 reply brief to the above response to a motion to dismiss. The Respondent is the United States, and a U.S. Attorney was 27 using the bogus "no implementing regulations" argument to "hoodwink" the Plaintiff.

28 INTRODUCTION

29 Respondent is trying to divert attention from the core issues of this Motion to Dismiss, which are summarized once again as 30 follows:

- 31 1. Congress has no enforcement authority outside of federal territory against anything other than its own officers and 32 employees in the official conduct of their constitutionally authorized duties.

33 "It is no longer open to question that the general government, unlike the states, Hammer v. Dagenhart, 247
34 U.S. 251, 275, 38 S.Ct. 529, 3 A.L.R. 649, Ann.Cas.1918E 724, possesses no inherent power in respect of the 35 internal affairs of the states; and emphatically not with regard to legislation."
36 [Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238, 56 S.Ct. 855 (1936)]

- 37 2. Statutes which accomplish enforcement are called laws having "general applicability and legal effect".

38 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\) Documents to be Published in the Federal Register

39 For the purposes of this chapter every document or order which prescribes a penalty has general applicability 40 and legal effect.

41 Any statute that prescribes a penalty is an enforcement statute, based on the above. All penalties adversely affect 42 constitutional rights.

- 43 3. Due process of law requires "reasonable notice" of all laws that might be enforced to the persons they may be enforced
44 against. See:

- 1 4. Absent publication in the Federal Register of implementing regulations authorizing enforcement, no enforcement may 2 lawfully be attempted. 5 U.S.C. §552(a).

3 5 U.S.C. §552\(a\): Public information; agency rules, opinions, orders, records, and proceedings

4 Except to the extent that a person has actual and timely notice of the terms thereof, a person may not in any
5 manner be required to resort to, or be adversely affected by, a matter required to be published in the Federal
6 Register and not so published. For the purpose of this paragraph, matter reasonably available to the class of 7 persons affected thereby is deemed published in the Federal Register when incorporated by reference therein
8 with the approval of the Director of the Federal Register.

- 9 5. There are only three exceptions to the requirement for publication in the Federal Register of implementing enforcement 10 regulations, which are:
11 5.1. A military or foreign affairs function of the United States. 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\)\(1\) .
12 5.2. A matter relating to agency management or personnel or to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contracts. 5
13 U.S.C. §553\(a\)\(2\) .
14 5.3. Federal agencies or persons in their capacity as officers, agents, or employees thereof. 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\).
15 6. This proceeding involves penalties, and therefore is an enforcement proceeding. The target of this enforcement

17 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 68 > Subchapter B > PART I > § 6671
18 § 6671. Rules for application of assessable penalties

19 (b) Person defined

20 The term “person”, as used in this subchapter, includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member
21 or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in 22 respect of which the violation occurs.

- 23 7. I am NOT the “person” defined above and the Respondent has never proven that I am or contradicted my affidavit
24 under penalty of perjury that I am NOT. Therefore he agrees, pursuant to Fed.Rul.Civ.Proc. 8(b)(6). Failure to deny is 25 an admission.
26 8. The burden of proof imposed upon the Respondent is to produce ONE of the following two sources of evidence 27 proving that he has the authority to compel compliance within the context of these injunction proceedings:
28 8.1. Enforcement regulations of the statutes cited as authority, being 26 U.S.C. §6700, 6701, 7402, and 7408.
29 8.2. Proof that the Plaintiff is a member of one of the following three groups for which implementing enforcement
30 regulations are NOT required:
31 8.2.1. A military or foreign affairs function of the United States. 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\)\(1\).
32 8.2.2. A matter relating to agency management or personnel or to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or 33 contracts. 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\)\(2\).
34 8.2.3. Federal agencies or persons in their capacity as officers, agents, or employees thereof. 44 U.S.C.
35 §1505\(a\)\(1\).
36 9. The above requirements originate from the two central types of conduct the government writes legislation for:
37 9.1. Private conduct: Conduct of private parties who are not part of the government in their private lives and affairs.
38 Generally, the purpose of the Constitution is to protect this kind of Conduct from any exertion of government
39 legislative authority:

40 “The power to “legislate generally upon” life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the “power to provide modes
41 of redress” against offensive state action, was “repugnant” to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also United States
42 v. Reese, 92 U.S. 214, 218 (1876); United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 639 (1883); James v. Bowman, 190
43 U.S. 127, 139 (1903). Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been superseded or
44 modified, see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964); United States v. Guest,
45 383 U.S. 745 (1966), their treatment of Congress’ §5 power as corrective or preventive, not definitional, has not
46 been questioned.”
47 [\[City of Boerne v. Flores, Archbishop of San Antonio, 521 U.S. 507 \(1997\)\]](#)

- 48 9.2. Public conduct: Conduct of government employees, officers, and agents in the official conduct of their 49 employment, contracts, or franchises.

1 “The restrictions that the Constitution places upon the government in its capacity as lawmaker, i.e., as the
2 regulator of private conduct, are not the same as the restrictions that it places upon the government in its
3 capacity as employer. We have recognized this in many contexts, with respect to many different constitutional
4 guarantees. Private citizens perhaps cannot be prevented from wearing long hair, but policemen can. Kelley v.
5 Johnson, 425 U.S. 238, 247 (1976). Private citizens cannot have their property searched without probable
6 cause, but in many circumstances government employees can. O’Connor v. Ortega, 480 U.S. 709, 723 (1987)
7 (plurality opinion); id., at 732 (SCALIA, J., concurring in judgment). Private citizens cannot be punished for
8 refusing to provide the government information that may incriminate them, but government employees can be
9 dismissed when the incriminating information that they refuse to provide relates to the performance of their job.
10 Gardner v. Broderick, [497 U.S. 62, 95] 392 U.S. 273, 277-278 (1968). With regard to freedom of speech

- 17 10. The only lawful subject of enforcement proceedings are “public officers” of the government, which includes those 18 engaged in federal franchises. The ability to regulate “private conduct” is repugnant to the constitution. The only
19 “individual” and “person” who is the proper lawful subject of the I.R.C. can only be a federal officer or instrumentality
20 pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §6671(b) and 26 U.S.C. §7343. That is why the levy statute within Title 26 says it only applies 21 to officers, employees, and instrumentalities of the government:

33 notice and demand for immediate payment of such tax may be made by the Secretary and, upon failure or

36 If the Respondent disagrees, he is demanded to rebut the content of the following and the admissions at the end or 37 forever be the subject of an estoppel and laches in connection with his assertion later:

Why Your Government is Either a Thief or You are a “Public Officer” for Income Tax Purposes, Form #05.008
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 38 11. Because the only thing the government can lawfully regulate is “public conduct”, those engaged in “private conduct”
39 can only become the subject of government enforcement when implementing regulations are published in the Federal 40 Register for each statute sought to be enforced. Plaintiff is not acting as such an officer in the context of this 41 proceeding and it is an unconstitutional deprivation of his liberty to either “PRESUME” that he is or to enforce the 42 provisions of franchises against people such as himself who:
43 11.1. Are not consensually participating in any government franchise and have notified government of same.
44 11.2. Have notified the government officially that the ONLY way their consent can be procured to participate in federal 45 franchises is IN WRITING with his signature, where all rights surrendered and the specific “benefits” thereby 46 associated are described in detail.
47 11.3. Identify acceptance of any government benefit as an injury rather than a privilege.
48 11.4. Derive no benefits therefrom.
49 11.5. Have officially and repeatedly notified the government that that any applications to participate on file are 50 withdrawn. This includes SSA form SS-5.
51 11.6. Are not entitled to derive any benefit from the government.
52 11.7. Have consistently rebutted any evidence that might connect them to the “trade or business” franchise, such as IRS
53 Forms W-2, 1042S, 1098, and 1099.
54 11.8. Refuse to sign contracts with the government to participate, such as IRS form W-4, which the regulations identify 55 as an “agreement. See 26 CFR §31.3401(a)-3(a).

- 1 12. Plaintiff has examined the Parallel Table Of Authorities and searched the entire 26 CFR for enforcement regulations
2 falling under Part 1 of 26 CFR, the income tax. No such provisions exist and therefore the government must be
3 presuming that I am a member of one of the three groups specifically exempted from the requirement for publication of 4 implementing enforcement regulations in the Federal Register. I state under penalty of perjury that I am NOT a
5 member of any of these groups and that the government has no authority to pursue this enforcement action unless and
6 until it produces evidence signed under penalty of perjury that I am a member of one of the three groups specifically 7 exempted from the requirement for implementing regulations, being:
8 12.1. A military or foreign affairs function of the United States. 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\)\(1\) .
9 12.2. A matter relating to agency management or personnel or to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contracts. 5
10 U.S.C. §553\(a\)\(2\) .
11 12.3. Federal agencies or persons in their capacity as officers, agents, or employees thereof. 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\).

12 Since the Respondent has not satisfied the burden of proof imposed upon him as described above to demonstrate that he has 13 authority to undertake this enforcement action, then he agrees that he has no enforcement authority. There is no
14 controversy before this court, the Respondent is in default, and the government's enforcement action MUST be dismissed 15 as a matter of law.

16 The remainder of this section will address why the cases cited by the Respondent are inapposite, irrelevant, and meritless.

17 REBUTTAL OF USE OF GRANSE CASE AND OTHERS

18 The only case cited by the Respondent, which is attached hereto and marked as Exhibit 2, is inapplicable to any of the 19 circumstances of the Plaintiff described under penalty of perjury in the Complaint, Affidavit of Material Facts, Docket #5, 20 for reasons set forth in below.

- 21 1. Karl G. Granse was identified by the Court as a "taxpayer", which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(14\) as "any person 22 subject to any internal revenue tax". That means he was subject to the franchise agreement codified within the Internal 23 Revenue Code Subtitle A.

37 [Granse v. United States, 892 F.Supp. 219, 224 (D.Minn. 1995)]

38 Karl Granse is not described in the ruling as disputing that label of "taxpayer" used by the Court to describe him.
39 Consequently, he was bound to obey the I.R.C. for all earnings he had that were "effectively connected with a trade or 40 business" and which were subject to the I.R.C. because they involved a "public purpose" and a government franchise.

- 41 2. Karl Granse also cited provisions from the I.R.C. as the authority for his suit. Namely, he cited 26 U.S.C. §7429\(b\).
42 That provision contains remedies which are only available to "taxpayers". It says that right in the statute itself:

43 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 76 > Subchapter B > § 7429
44 § 7429. Review of jeopardy levy or assessment procedures

45 (2) Request for review

46 Within 30 days after the day on which the taxpayer is furnished the written statement described in paragraph 47 (1), or within 30 days after the last day of the period within which such statement is required to be furnished,
48 the taxpayer may request the Secretary to review the action taken.

1 Only franchisees called “taxpayers” who are subject to the I.R.C. may cite the above provision or any other provision
2 of the I.R.C. The U.S. Supreme Court has agreed with this conclusion, when it ruled on this subject:

3 “The Government urges that the Power Company is estopped to question the validity of the Act creating the
4 Tennessee Valley Authority, and hence that the stockholders, suing in the right of the corporation, cannot [297
5 U.S. 323] maintain this suit. The principle is invoked that one who accepts the benefit of a statute cannot
6 be heard to question its constitutionality. Great Falls Manufacturing Co. v. Attorney General, 124 U.S. 581;
7 Wall v. Parrot Silver & Copper Co., 244 U.S. 407; St. Louis Casting Co. v. Prendergast Construction Co., 8 260 U.S. 469.“
9 [Ashwander v. Tennessee Valley Auth., 297 U.S. 288 (1936)]

10 The Plaintiff, on the other hand, has never availed himself of any “privilege”, benefit, or deduction arising from any 11 provision of the I.R.C. “trade or business” franchise agreement during the period in question and has instead used inter
12 alia, the Constitution, his rights, and prior U.S. Supreme Court decisions, and positive law as the only basis for his 13 defense. Plaintiff instead has consistently identified himself in the Petition and all subsequent pleadings as a
14 “nontaxpayer”, and not a “taxpayer” under 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(14\), who is therefore not subject to any provision
15 within the I.R.C. franchise agreement. See Complaint, Affidavit of Matl Facts, Docket #5, p. 10, para. 4.A.
16 Furthermore, the Respondent has failed in his legal pleadings and Motions to disprove these assertions, which means
17 that he has defaulted and agrees that the Plaintiff is a “nontaxpayer” not subject to the I.R.C. pursuant to Federal Rule
18 of Civil Procedure 8(b)(6). Failure to deny constitutes an admission pursuant to this rule.

19 3. The Federal Courts agree that “nontaxpayers” are not subject to the I.R.C. franchise agreement. To wit:

20 “The revenue laws are a code or system in regulation of tax assessment and collection. They relate to taxpayers,
21 and not to nontaxpayers. The latter are without their scope. No procedure is prescribed for nontaxpayers, and
22 no attempt is made to annul any of their rights and remedies in due course of law. With them Congress does not
23 assume to deal, and they are neither of the subject nor of the object of the revenue laws...”
24 [Long v. Rasmussen, 281 F. 236 (1922)]

25 “Revenue Laws relate to taxpayers and not to non-taxpayers. The latter are without their scope. No
26 procedures are prescribed for non-taxpayers and no attempt is made to annul any of their Rights or Remedies
27 in due course of law. With them Congress does not assume to deal and they are neither of the subject nor of the 28 object of federal revenue laws.”
29 [Economy Plumbing & Heating v. U.S., 470 F2d. 585 (1972)]

30 4. Karl Granse was the Plaintiff who initiated the suit in question. He could only have initiated the suit by satisfying
31 Fed.Rule.Civ.Proc. 17(b), which requires that he either have a domicile on federal territory (which excludes states of 32 the Union, and which are “foreign states” for the purposes of federal legislative jurisdiction), or that he is exercising
33 agency, contracts, or employment on behalf of a corporation which has a domicile inside a federal enclave or U.S.
34 territory. In Granse’s case, he could only have been exercising the latter, which is agency of a federal corporation,
35 because he was identified in the ruling as maintaining a domicile in Michigan rather than the District of Columbia, as 36 identified in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(39\) and 26 U.S.C. §7408\(c\) . Therefore, Granse could only have initiated the suit as 37 an “employee”, “officer”, agent, or fiduciary of the federal corporation known as the “United States” and which is 38 defined in 28 U.S.C. §3002\(15\)\(A\) as “a federal corporation”. This is consistent with his also being engaged in the 39 “trade or business” franchise by virtue of having the Currency Transaction Report (CTR) filed against him by the bank
40 that maintained the account which the IRS attempted to seize. A “trade or business” is defined as “the functions of a 41 public office” in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\), and all public offices must by law maintain a domicile in the District of 42 Columbia under 4 U.S.C. §72 and under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 17 of the Constitution. The circumstances of the 43 Plaintiff, however, are entirely different. His Complaint identified his domicile as no place inside the federal “United 44 States” (see 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and (a)(10)) and the Affidavit of Material Facts indicated that he was not exercising
45 any federal contracts or agency. See Docket #5, Aff. Of Matl. Facts, starting on p. 5, and in particular, paragraph 6 on 46 p. 16. In that portion of the Petition, Plaintiff also indicated that he is not engaged in the “trade or business” franchise
47 and he asserted the fact that he is a “nontaxpayer” not subject to the I.R.C. Therefore, the Granse case is entirely off
48 point and consequently is inapplicable in the instant Matter. Thus, the circumstances, facts, and ruling in Granse are 49 wholly irrelevant and have no bearing or relationship to the circumstances of the Plaintiff.

50 5. The behavior that made Karl Granse subject to the I.R.C. as a “taxpayer” was the Currency Transaction Report (CTR), 51 Form 8300, which connected his deposits at the bank with the “trade or business” franchise and associated excise tax.
52 Granse apparently failed to dispute or correct this obviously false report. Therefore, by his own ignorance and 53 omission, Karl Granse was justly presumed to be a “taxpayer” who, unlike the Plaintiff, was subject to the Internal 54 Revenue Code Subtitle A franchise agreement. It is important to point out the undisputed, conclusive fact that receipt of currency not in the course of a “trade or business” is NOT reportable under 31 U.S.C. §5331. The proof of this fact is contained in the Code of Federal Regulations, to wit:

31 CFR §103.30\(d\)\(2\) General

(2) Receipt of currency not in the course of the recipient's trade or business.

The receipt of currency in excess of $10,000 by a person other than in the course of the person's trade or business is not reportable under 31 U.S.C. 5331.

[Emphasis added]

Therefore, Karl Granse, based on the CTR form 8300 that was filed against him and which he apparently never disputed according to the Court, was engaged in a privileged, excise taxable activity called a “trade or business” and he thus was a “taxpayer”. You will note, for instance, that 26 CFR §1.1-1\(a\)\(2\)\(ii\) identifies “trade or business” income as taxable “gross income”.

NORMAL TAXES AND SURTAXES
DETERMINATION OF TAX LIABILITY
Tax on Individuals
Sec. 1.1-1 Income tax on individuals.

(a)(2)(ii) For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1970, the tax imposed by section 1(d) [married individuals filing separately], as amended by the Tax Reform Act of 1969, shall apply to the income effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States by a married alien individual who is a nonresident of the United States for all or part of the taxable year or by a foreign estate or trust. For such years the tax imposed by section 1(c) [unmarried individuals], as amended by such Act, shall apply to the income effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States by an unmarried alien individual (other than a surviving spouse) who is a nonresident of the United States for all or part of the taxable year. See paragraph (b)(2) of section 1.871-8.” [26 CFR § 1.1-1]

For further details, see also Exhibit 3, entitled “The Trade or Business Scam”, which thoroughly analyzes exactly what the I.R.C. Subtitle A franchise agreement imposes an excise tax upon, which is “trade or business” activity. Mr. Granse’s circumstance, however, is not the case with the Plaintiff. Plaintiff has vigorously rebutted and sent in correction forms for all evidence which might wrongfully and illegally associate him with such taxable activities, such as:

- 5.1. Erroneous 1099 forms.
- 5.2. Erroneous W-2 forms.
- 5.3. Erroneous Currency Transaction Reports, Form 8300.
- 5.4. Erroneously or unlawfully filed or executed Substitute for Returns.

6. Karl Granse, by his omission, also created a prima facie presumption that he is a domiciliary of the federal “United States” in the process of opening the bank account which connected him to a “trade or business”. He did not provide to the bank IRS form W-8, but instead provided a Social Security Number in its place when he opened the account. Those who do not provide W-8BEN forms are presumed to be “U.S. persons” subject to the I.R.C.. A “U.S. person” is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(30\) as either a “U.S. citizen” or a “resident”, both of whom have in common a legal “domicile” in the federal “United States”, which is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(9\) and (a)(10) as only the District of Columbia and whose definition is not expanded anywhere else in I.R.C. Subtitle A to include any other place. Therefore, the definition does not include any of the 50 Union states united under the federal Constitution.

“Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles, 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded.”
[Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

Consequently, Carl Granse’s behavior in opening the bank account which was the subject of the suit created the rebuttable presumption that he was a “U.S. person” subject to the I.R.C. as a “taxpayer”, who was engaged in a “trade

1 or business” because of the CTR filed against him, and who maintained a domicile in the District of Columbia as 2 required under 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(39\) and 26 U.S.C. §7408(c). By contrast, the Plaintiff:

- 3 6.1. Has accurately reflected his status as a “nonresident alien” for all financial accounts that he maintains.
4 6.2. When asked to file “returns”, has submitted the correct form, the 1040NR, and indicated no liability on said form.

6 Therefore, there is no evidence in the Record of the instant matter, or in the possession of the Respondent which would
7 create a false and incorrect presumption that the Plaintiff is a “U.S. person” subject to federal jurisdiction or to this
8 Court, or who is engaged in the privileged activity known as a “trade or business” which would make him a “taxpayer”
9 subject to the I.R.C.. The foregoing facts mean that the Plaintiff’s situation and circumstances are entirely different
10 from the facts in Granse. Plaintiff is a “nontaxpayer” and Granse is a “taxpayer. It is a fact that the Plaintiff is not a 11 “U.S. person” and that Granse, through is actions and his own behavior in opening the bank account, created the 12 rebuttable presumption that he, Granse, was a “U.S. person”. Therefore, the Granse case is off point and irrelevant to 13 the instant Matter. The Respondent’s disingenuous reliance upon Granse exposes the Respondent’s faulty legal 14 reasoning and the Court should not place any credence or reliability in the Respondent’s Opposition Motion.

- 15 7. The excise taxable franchise activity, a “trade or business”, which Karl Granse was engaged in as documented by the 16 Currency Transaction Report, Treasury Form 8300, filed against him, is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\) as “the 17 functions of a public office”. That “public office” is in the United States government and that office is identified by the 18 U.S. Supreme Court essentially as a business partnership with the U.S. Government.

19 “All the powers of the government must be carried into operation by individual agency, either through the 20 medium of public officers, or contracts made with individuals. Can any public office be created, or does one 21 exist, the performance of which may, with propriety, be assigned to this association [or trust], when 22 incorporated? If such office exist, or can be created, then the company may be incorporated, that they may 23 be appointed to execute such office. Is there any portion of the public business performed by individuals
24 upon contracts, that this association could be employed to perform, with greater advantage and more safety
25 to the public, than an individual contractor? If there be an employment of this nature, then may this 26 company be incorporated to undertake it.

27 There is an employment of this nature. Nothing can be more essential to the fiscal concerns of the nation, than 28 an agent of undoubted integrity and established credit, with whom the public moneys can, at all times, be safely
29 deposited. Nothing can be of more importance to a government, than that there should be some capitalist in the 30 country, who possesses the means of making advances of money to the government upon any exigency, and who 31 is under a legal obligation to make such advances. For these purposes the association would be an agent
32 peculiarly suitable and appropriate. [. . .]

33 The mere creation of a corporation, does not confer political power or political character. So this Court
34 *decided in Dartmouth College v. Woodward, already referred to. If I may be allowed to paraphrase the* 35 language of the Chief Justice, I would say, a bank incorporated, is no more a State instrument, than a natural 36 person performing the same business would be. If, then, a natural person, engaged in the trade of banking,
37 should contract with the government to receive the public money upon deposit, to transmit it from place to
38 place, without charging for commission or difference of exchange, and to perform, when called upon, the duties
39 of commissioner of loans, would not thereby become a public officer, how is it that this artificial being, created
40 by law for the purpose of being employed by the government for the same purposes, should become a part of the 41 civil government of the country? Is it because its existence, its capacities, its powers, are given by law? because 42 the government has given it power to take and hold property in a particular form, and to employ that property
43 for particular purposes, and in the disposition of it to use a particular name? because the government has sold
44 it a privilege [22 U.S. 738, 774] for a large sum of money, and has bargained with it to do certain things; is it,
45 therefore, a part of the very government with which the contract is made?

46 If the Bank be constituted a public office, by the connexion between it and the government, it cannot be the 47 mere legal franchise in which the office is vested; the individual stockholders must be the officers. Their 48 character is not merged in the charter. This is the strong point of the Mayor and Commonalty v. Wood, upon 49 which this Court ground their decision in the Bank v. Deveaux, and from which they say, that cause could not
50 be distinguished. Thus, aliens may become public officers, and public duties are confided to those who owe no
51 allegiance to the government, and who are even beyond its territorial limits.

52 With the privileges and perquisites of office, all individuals holding offices, ought to be subject to the 53 disabilities of office. But if the Bank be a public office, and the individual stockholders public officers, this 54 principle does not have a fair and just operation. The disabilities of office do not attach to the stockholders; for 55 we find them every where holding public offices, even in the national Legislature, from which, if they be public 56 officers, they are excluded by the constitution in express terms.

1 If the Bank be a public institution of such character as to be justly assimilated to the mint and the post office,
2 then its charter may be amended, altered, or even abolished, at the discretion of the National Legislature. All
3 public offices are created [22 U.S. 738, 775] purely for public purposes, and may, at any time, be modified
4 in such manner as the public interest may require. Public corporations partake of the same character. So it
5 is distinctly adjudged in Dartmouth College v. Woodward. In this point, each Judge who delivered an opinion
6 concurring. By one of the Judges it is said, that 'public corporations are generally esteemed such as exist for 7 public political purposes only, such as towns, cities, parishes and counties; and in many respects they are so,
8 although they involve some private interests; but, strictly speaking, public corporations are such only as are 9 founded by the government for public purposes, where the whole interest belongs also to the government. If,
10 therefore, the foundation be private, though under the charter of the government, the corporation is private,
11 however extensive the uses may be to which it is devoted, either by the bounty of the founder, or the nature
12 and objects of the institution. For instance, a bank, created by the government for its own uses, whose stock
13 is exclusively owned by the government, is, in the strictest sense, a public corporation. So, a hospital created
14 and endowed by the government for general charity. But a bank, whose stock is owned by private persons, is 15 a private corporation, although it is erected by the government, and its objects and operations partake of a 16 public nature. The same doctrine may be affirmed of insurance, canal, bridge, and turnpike companies. In 17 all these cases, the uses may, in a certain sense, be called public, but the corporations are private; as much

22 custom house, or the process of the federal Courts?

23 The post office is established by the general government. It is a public institution. The persons who perform its 24 duties are public officers. No individual has, or can acquire, any property in it. For all the services performed,
25 a compensation is paid out of the national treasury; and all the money received upon account of its operations,
26 is public property. Surely there is no similitude between this institution, and an association who trade upon 27 their own capital, for their own profit, and who have paid the government a million and a half of dollars for a
28 legal character and name, in which to conduct their trade.

29 Again: the business conducted through the agency of the post office, is not in its nature a private business. It is 30 of a public character, and the [22 U.S. 738, 786] charge of it is expressly conferred upon Congress by the 31 constitution. The business is created by law, and is annihilated when the law is repealed. But the trade of 32 banking is strictly a private concern. It exists and can be carried on without the aid of the national Legislature.
33 Nay, it is only under very special circumstances, that the national Legislature can so far interfere with it, as to 34 facilitate its operations.

35 The post office executes the various duties assigned to it, by means of subordinate agents. The mails are opened
36 and closed by persons invested with the character of public officers. But they are transported by individuals 37 employed for that purpose, in their individual character, which employment is created by and founded in 38 contract. To such contractors no official character is attached. These contractors supply horses, carriages, and 39 whatever else is necessary for the transportation of the mails, upon their own account. The whole is engaged in 40 the public service. The contractor, his horses, his carriage, his driver, are all in public employ. But this does
41 not change their character. All that was private property before the contract was made, and before they were 42 engaged in public employ, remain private property still. The horses and the carriages are liable to be taxed as 43 other property, for every purpose for which property of the same character is taxed in the place where they are 44 employed. The reason is plain: the contractor is employing his own means to promote his own private profit,
45 and the tax collected is from the individual, though assessed upon the [22 U.S. 738, 787] means he uses to 46 perform the public service. To tax the transportation of the mails, as such, would be taxing the operations of the 47 government, which could not be allowed. But to tax the means by which this transportation is effected, so far as 48 those means are private property, is allowable; because it abstracts nothing from the government; and because,
49 the fact that an individual employs his private means in the service of the government, attaches to them no 50 immunity whatever."
51 [Osborn v. Bank of U.S., 22 U.S. 738 (1824)]

52 Subtitle A of the I.R.C. is a franchise agreement that exclusively governs the relationship between U.S. government
53 and those pursuing federal franchises such as employment, contracts, agency, or benefits. It regulates the 54 private/contractual business partnership and relationship called a "trade or business". Consent to abide by the contract
55 and therefore to be called a "taxpayer" is conveyed by signing and submitting under penalty of perjury the IRS form
56 W-4, IRS form 1099, IRS Form 1040, and the Currency Transaction Reports (CTRs), all of which if left un rebutted
57 produce evidence of consent to the contract. Since Karl Granse did not argue against his alleged status as a "taxpayer",
58 which is a "person" engaged in a privileged type of federal employment called a "trade or business" as defined in 26
59 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\), and since he clearly did not rebut the erroneous evidence wrongfully and incorrectly linking him
60 to that relationship, then both the Court in his case, and the Plaintiff agree that he should obey the contract terms found
61 in Subtitle A of the I.R.C. This in no way is the case, however, with the Plaintiff, who has rebutted all erroneous
62 reports that might connect him to "trade or business" activity, has rescinded participation in Social Security (see Docket #28, Exhibit 2 entitled “Resignation of Compelled Social Security Trustee”), has vociferously argued against any identification of him as being a “taxpayer”, and vociferously refused any federal entitlement or benefit.

8. Because Karl Granse was engaged in the “trade or business” excise taxable franchise, then under 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\), he was engaged in a “public office”. A public office is a type of federal employment or agency which is: (1) Created by contract or agreement or other type of individual consent; (2) Requires consent of parties to the agreement in some form; (3) Is implemented through private law, which applies to special persons and things known as public employees or contractors. Because a “public office” is a type of federal employment, then those who are party to the private law contract found in I.R.C. Subtitle A become federal contractors or “employees” who are explicitly exempted by the Federal Register Act, 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\), from the requirement for implementing regulations.

TITLE 5 > PART 1 > CHAPTER 5 > SUBCHAPTER II > § 553
§ 553. Rule making

(a) This section applies, according to the provisions thereof, except to the extent that there is involved—

(1) a military or foreign affairs function of the United States; or

(2) a matter relating to agency management or personnel or to public property, loans, grants, benefits, or contracts.

Note the above exclusion of the requirement for publication of implementing regulations: “a matter relating to agency management”. A “public office” or the “trade or business” activity that creates federal agency on the part of those engaged in the franchise activity are examples of situations that would certainly not require implementing regulations and which would certainly be subject to regulation by direct Congressional statutory enactment. Congress has always had direct control over its employees in the Executive Branch and it would be ludicrous for any Court or litigant to attempt to interfere with that direct supervisory role by requiring effectively that the Executive Branch, which is its subordinate Servant of the Legislative Branch, must write a regulation interpreting a direct command from its Master, before that command may be enforced by the Judicial Branch. However, that same relationship does not apply to the Sovereigns in the states of the Union, who all three branches of government were created to serve and protect. As repeatedly pointed out in the Petition to Dismiss, Dockets 42 and 43, the requirement for implementing regulations applies to every subject of Congressional legislation EXCEPT those exceptions explicitly spelled out in the Federal Register Act, 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\), and the Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. §553(a). The reason for this is clear: Congress, which is the servant of the Sovereign People, was established exclusively to protect the Constitutional and natural rights of its Master, We The People. It demonstrates this commitment to “protection” of Constitutional Rights by a writing and publishing implementing regulations in the Federal Register, which satisfies the Constitutional requirement for “due notice” to the persons affected by any law or regulation. Only persons domiciled in states of the Union who are not a party to any federal franchise contract, employment, or agency, can have such Constitutional rights in relation to the national government. Franchisees called federal employees, agents, contractors, and the military DO NOT have such rights and therefore need not be part of the “notice and comment” process that is inherent in the rulemaking process so as to protect rights and provide for “reasonable notice”. The Supreme Court confirmed that public employees have no constitutional rights in relation to their employer, the federal government, when it said the following:

“The restrictions that the Constitution places upon the government in its capacity as lawmaker, i.e., as the regulator of private conduct, are not the same as the restrictions that it places upon the government in its capacity as employer. We have recognized this in many contexts, with respect to many different constitutional guarantees. Private citizens perhaps cannot be prevented from wearing long hair, but policemen can. Kelley v. Johnson, 425 U.S. 238, 247 (1976). Private citizens cannot have their property searched without probable cause, but in many circumstances government employees can. O’Connor v. Ortega, 480 U.S. 709, 723 (1987) (plurality opinion); id., at 732 (SCALIA, J., concurring in judgment). Private citizens cannot be punished for refusing to provide the government information that may incriminate them, but government employees can be dismissed when the incriminating information that they refuse to provide relates to the performance of their job. Gardner v. Broderick, [497 U.S. 62, 95] 392 U.S. 273, 277-278 (1968). With regard to freedom of speech in particular: Private citizens cannot be punished for speech of merely private concern, but government employees can be fired for that reason. Connick v. Myers, 461 U.S. 138, 147 (1983). Private citizens cannot be punished for partisan political activity, but federal and state employees can be dismissed and otherwise punished for that reason. Public Workers v. Mitchell, 330 U.S. 75, 101 (1947); Civil Service Comm’n v. Letter Carriers, 413 U.S. 548, 556 (1973); Broadrick v. Oklahoma, 413 U.S. 601, 616-617 (1973).”
[Rutan v. Republican Party of Illinois, 497 U.S. 62 (1990)]

1 There is no question in the mind of the Plaintiff that the Court ruled correctly in the case of Granse, by discounting the
2 requirement for implementing regulations for Mr. Granse, who by his own omission and admission, was engaged in the 3 privileged “public office” (“trade or business”) franchise that created a type of federal “agency” and fiduciary
4 relationship under 26 U.S.C. §6903 that made him liable to obey Subtitle A of the I.R.C. This is simply not the case
5 with the Plaintiff, once again, who was not engaged in the “trade or business” franchise or any other type of federal 6 employment or agency in the context of the disputed matters at any time during the period in question and who has
7 overwhelming evidence to support such a conclusion, which is also reflected in his sworn Complaint, Docket #5. You
8 will also note that the definition of “person” under the penalty provisions of the I.R.C. also confirms that the only
9 “persons” liable for penalties, including injunctive relief under 26 U.S.C. §6700 and 6701, have a fiduciary relationship
10 with the federal government created by the receipt of federal benefits, employment, contracts, or the exercise of other 11 forms of “private law” based on personal consent. To wit:

12 TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 68 > Subchapter B > PART I > § 6671
13 § 6671. Rules for application of assessable penalties

14 (b) Person defined

15 The term “person”, as used in this subchapter, includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member
16 *or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a 17 duty to perform the act in respect of which the violation occurs.

18 [Emphasis added]

19 The “duty” which they are referring to above in the emphasized passage is the fiduciary duty created under 26 U.S.C.
20 §6903 by declaring oneself a “public officer” engaged in the privileged “trade or business” franchise. Private law and 21 private contract is the only way to create such a fiduciary relationship, and the Respondent at no time has ever
22 produced any substantive evidence documenting the existence of such a relationship in the case of the Plaintiff.
23 Positive law CANNOT create such a fiduciary relationship because it would impinge on the Constitutional Rights of 24 the sovereigns in the states of the Union, which Congress may not lawfully do. That is why 1 U.S.C. §204 identifies
25 the Internal Revenue Code as not being “positive law”: It is instead “private law” and “special law” that only applies 26 to specific persons and things who individually consent to be bound by it. This was admitted by the IRS itself in the 27 following document:

28 <http://sedm.org/Exhibits/EX1000.pdf>

29 See and rebut also the following, or remain silent if you agree:

30 <http://sedm.org/Forms/MemLaw/Consent.pdf>

31 Once a party consents or even acts as though he consents to the franchise agreement codified in I.R.C. Subtitle A, he or 32 she is considered to be “effectively connected with a trade or business in the United States”. In effect, the act of 33 consent “marries” a human being through private law to the state and makes them a “public officer” who is surety for a
34 specific public office that is the “res” which is the only proper subject of this proceeding. That marriage proposal
35 begins by selecting a “domicile” within the state and the marriage is consummated by the act of engaging in the 36 privileged or excise taxable franchise called a “trade or business”. Black’s Law Dictionary, in fact, defines 37 “commerce” as “intercourse”, and intercourse is what consummates the marriage. Real marriage works the same way:
38 Parties who “act” as though they are married and cohabit for some fixed period of time are treated under the common
39 law in many states as though they are legally married. Therefore, the Granse case and all cases in which the litigant
40 was a “taxpayer”, a “U.S. person”, or was engaged in a privileged activity such as a “trade or business” are simply 41 irrelevant and inapplicable to the circumstances of the Plaintiff and this case.

42 9. Similar arguments made by Plaintiff in this section may also universally be applied to every other type of similar tax
43 case the Respondent might wish to cite. This includes, for instance, Gass v. United States Department of Treasury, 44 216 F.3d 1087, 217 F.3d 1087 (10th Cir. 06/09/2000) and every other case the Plaintiff could find on the subject of the 45 requirement for implementing regulations. Therefore, Plaintiff was unable to locate any stare decisis useful to this 46 Court that would be applicable to or entirely compatible with the circumstances of the Plaintiff:

47 9.1. Who is a “nontaxpayer” not subject to any provision of the I.R.C.

48 9.2. Who is a “nonresident alien” under 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B)

- 1 9.3. All of whose earnings and property are a “foreign estate” as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(31).
- 2 9.4. Who is nonresident to any United States Judicial District or Internal Revenue District.
- 3 9.5. Who has never consented to the foreign jurisdiction of this Court or made a “general appearance” or “special
- 4 appearance”.
- 5 9.6. Who is a “national” under 8 U.S.C. §1101(a)(21), but not a “U.S. citizen” under 8 U.S.C. §1401.
- 6 9.7. Who has no employment or agency or contracts or “public office” relationship with the federal government, nor is
- 7 a recipient or qualified recipient of any federal benefit.
- 8 9.8. Who has refuted or rebutted all false reports of the receipt of “trade or business” income, such as W-2, 1099, and
- 9 Currency Transaction Reports (IRS Form 8300).

10 If the Court and the Respondent would be so kind as to provide caselaw that satisfies all the above criteria applicable in 11 the instant case, then Plaintiff would happily change his position.

- 12 10. The Respondent has mis-stated the cause of action in this case by over-generalizing it to unjustly advantage his
- 13 position. Bouvier's Maxims of Law indicates that fraud lies in such generalities, and that it is a fraud to conceal a
- 14 fraud, which means that counsel for the Respondent appears to have engaged in constructive fraud:

15 Fraus latet in generalibus.

19 [Bouvier's Maxims of Law, <http://famguardian.org/Publications/BouvierMaximsOfLaw/BouviersMaxims.htm>]

- 20 10.1. This Petition is NOT about whether the requirement for implementing regulations may be waived for franchisees,
- 21 federal employees, contractors, fiduciaries, or agents such as Granse himself, because the Plaintiff agrees that no
- 22 regulations are required for such a condition. Plaintiff does not dispute that such persons are “taxpayers”.
- 23 Respondent is self-servingly making the false, unconstitutional, and prejudicial “presumption” that everyone fits
- 24 the description of a “taxpayer” engaged in a “trade or business” and this simply is not the case. Both 26 U.S.C.
- 25 §7426 as well as the U.S. Supreme Court in South Carolina v. Regan, 465 U.S. 367 (1984) recognize the
- 26 existence of “nontaxpayers” and so must the Respondent and this Court. . “Nontaxpayers” who have not forfeited
- 27 their Constitutional rights by entering into the privileged “trade or business” or “public office” franchise or other
- 28 contractual relationships with the government do in fact exist and do have Constitutional rights which this Court
- 29 continues to have an affirmative duty to recognize and protect. Other Courts recognize the existence of these
- 30 sovereign “nontaxpayers” and so should Respondent and this Court.

31 “The revenue laws are a code or system in regulation of tax assessment and collection. They relate to taxpayers,
 32 and not to nontaxpayers. The latter are without their scope. No procedure is prescribed for nontaxpayers, and
 33 no attempt is made to annul any of their rights and remedies in due course of law. With them Congress does not
 34 assume to deal, and they are neither of the subject nor of the object of the revenue laws...”
 35 [Long v. Rasmussen, 281 F. 236 (1922)]

36 “Revenue Laws relate to taxpayers and not to non-taxpayers. The latter are without their scope. No
 37 procedures are prescribed for non-taxpayers and no attempt is made to annul any of their Rights or Remedies
 38 in due course of law. With them Congress does not assume to deal and they are neither of the subject nor of the 39 object of federal revenue laws.”
 40 [Economy Plumbing & Heating v. U.S., 470 F2d. 585 (1972)]

- 41 10.2. The main issue raised in this Petition to Dismiss instead is whether the requirement for implementing regulations
- 42 may be waived without violating positive law found in the Federal Register Act, 44 U.S.C. §1505(a)(1) and the
- 43 Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U.S.C. §553(a) in the case of those such as the Plaintiff who meet ALL of the
- 44 criteria below. The Granse case cited by the Respondent does not answer this question because Granse did not
- 45 meet all the criteria below as the Plaintiff does:

- 46 10.2.1. The Plaintiff is domiciled in a state of the Union, which is a “foreign state”, or in some other foreign state
- 47 or foreign country.

48 “Generally, the states of the Union sustain toward each other the relationship of independent sovereigns or 49 independent foreign states, except in so far as the United States is paramount as the dominating government,
 50 and in so far as the states are bound to recognize the fraternity among sovereignties established by the federal

1 Constitution, as by the provision requiring each state to give full faith and credit to the public acts, records, and 2 judicial proceedings of the other states..."
3 [81A Corpus Juris Secundum (C.J.S.) §29, legal encyclopedia]
4

5 "Foreign states. Nations which are outside the United States. Term may also refer to another state; i.e. a 6 sister state.

7 "The term "foreign nations," as used in the statement of the rule that the laws of foreign nations should be
8 proved in a certain manner, should be construed to mean all nations and states other than that in which the 9 action is brought; and hence one state of the Union is foreign to another, in the sense of that rule.

10 "A "foreign state" within statute providing for expatriation of American citizen who is naturalized under laws of 11 foreign state is a country which is not the United States, or its possession or colony, an alien country, other 12 than our own. Kletter v. Dulles, D.C.D.C., 111 F.Supp. 593, 598."
13 [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 648]

14 10.2.2. The Plaintiff does not have any contracts, agency, employment, or fiduciary duty with the federal 15 government and does not participate in the "trade or business" franchise. The Respondent has never 16 disagreed with these assertions and therefore agrees, pursuant to Fed.Rul.Civ.Proc. 8(b)(6). This means that 17 Plaintiff has not surrendered any Constitutional rights through the operation of private law or special law
18 such as 26 U.S.C. or 42 U.S.C. This also means that the Plaintiff has not surrendered sovereign immunity
19 under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. §1605. Therefore, the Courts may not flagrantly
20 ignore the protection of the Constitutional rights of such persons as they do in the case of federal 21 "employees"

22 "The restrictions that the Constitution places upon the government in its capacity as lawmaker, i.e., as the 23 regulator of private conduct, are not the same as the restrictions that it places upon the government in its
24 capacity as employer. We have recognized this in many contexts, with respect to many different constitutional
25 guarantees. Private citizens perhaps cannot be prevented from wearing long hair, but policemen can. Kelley v.
26 Johnson, 425 U.S. 238, 247 (1976). Private citizens cannot have their property searched without probable
27 cause, but in many circumstances government employees can. O'Connor v. Ortega, 480 U.S. 709, 723 (1987)
28 (plurality opinion); id., at 732 (SCALIA, J., concurring in judgment). Private citizens cannot be punished for
29 refusing to provide the government information that may incriminate them, but government employees can be
30 dismissed when the incriminating information that they refuse to provide relates to the performance of their job.
31 Gardner v. Broderick, [497 U.S. 62, 95] 392 U.S. 273, 277-278 (1968). With regard to freedom of speech
32 in particular: Private citizens cannot be punished for speech of merely private concern, but government
33 employees can be fired for that reason. Connick v. Myers, 461 U.S. 138, 147 (1983). Private citizens cannot be
34 punished for partisan political activity, but federal and state employees can be dismissed and otherwise
35 punished for that reason. Public Workers v. Mitchell, 330 U.S. 75, 101 (1947); Civil Service Comm'n v. Letter

37 Rutan v. Republican Party of Illinois, [497 U.S. 62 (1990)]

38 10.2.3. The Plaintiff is not in the military, which 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\) stipulates is excluded from the requirement for 39 implementing regulations.

40 10.2.4. The Plaintiff is not engaged in any privileged or excise taxable activities such as a "public office" or a 41 "trade or business" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\).

42 10.2.5. The Plaintiff is a "nontaxpayer" and he is not a taxpayer as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(14\).

43 10.2.6. The Plaintiff is a "nonresident alien" as defined under 26 U.S.C. §7701\(b\)\(1\)\(B\).

44 10.2.7. The Plaintiff is a "national" under 8 U.S.C. §1101\(a\)\(21\) but not a "citizen" under 8 U.S.C. §1401. See 45 and rebut Exhibit 7 attached to the Petition, Docket #5 if you disagree or remain silent if you agree.

46 10.2.8. Plaintiff is not an alien or an "individual" as defined in 26 CFR §1.1441-1(c)(3). All "individuals" are 47 aliens within the Internal Revenue Code and those who are non-citizen nationals under 8 U.S.C.
48 §1101(a)(21) are not "individuals" or "nonresident alien individuals".

49 10.2.9. The Plaintiff is has correctly reflected all of the above aspects of his legal status on every government
50 form currently on file with the government and especially any withholding forms they may have submitted.

51
52 Plaintiff asserts that the failure of the Courts and the Respondent to recognize the existence of the rights of 53 "nontaxpayers" and foreign sovereigns such as the Plaintiff that is at the heart of why the materials exist that the 54 government would like to enjoin in this case. Unless and until the Court is willing to address and protect the rights
55 of such sovereign Americans as those described above, it will be shirking its chief duty under the Constitution and 56 will spawn further injustice and unlawful activity on the part of the Respondent and the Internal Revenue Service,

1 both within the context of this proceeding and more generally in the case of all Americans Nationals. To remain
2 silent on such an important issue as this constitutes constructive fraud, and such an omission constitutes a
3 conspiracy against rights in violation of 18 U.S.C. §241 and the Bill of Rights. Stated another way, the Plaintiff is 4 simply asking where is the proof of consent to taxation as an individual? Domicile is the usual source of said
5 consent, but the Plaintiff has no domicile anywhere within the “United States”. A free people cannot be free
6 without the requirement for consent being enforced in EVERY human interaction, and especially at the point of 7 interface between the Sovereign People and their servant government. This Court alluded to this requirement for 8 consent in Docket # 20, where the Court said on p. 9 the following:

9 “Plaintiff’s assertion that the United States or its counsel entered into a contract by virtue of quoting portions
10 of his materials in the Complaint is unsupported by any authority. “An essential element of any contract is the 11 consent of the parties, or mutual assent.” Donovan v. RRL Corp., 26 Cal. 4th 261,270 (2001); Cal. Civ. Code 5 12 1550.”
13 [Order, Docket #20, p. 9]

14 Well, if the United States must consent, then why doesn’t the same equal protection of the law apply to the 15 Plaintiff, and more generally to ALL Americans, in the case of Subtitle A of the Internal Revenue Code? Taxes
16 pay for the support of government services which domiciliaries have consented in some way to procure and
17 therefore pay for. The government is a corporation (see 28 U.S.C. §3002\(15\)\(A\)) and a business that delivers
18 “protection” to its domiciliaries, and there is no reason why the services it offers cannot be just as market driven as 19 any other industry. That consent to procure government services in the form of “protection” occurs by declaring a 20 domicile within the jurisdiction of the government and by availing oneself of government franchises, neither of 21 which Plaintiff nor any of the people he associates with in the context of these proceedings, have done. Therefore,
22 any effort to enforce the payment of “income taxes” to compensate the government for services that a human
23 being does not lawfully, explicitly and voluntarily consent to receive in writing amounts to racketeering and an 24 unlawful monopoly in violation of 18 U.S.C. §1951. Any attempt by the Dept. of Justice, the IRS, or this Court to 25 compel participation in any tax “scheme” to collect monies for services that are not wanted and which the recipient
26 of the services actually classifies as HARMFUL is practicing organized crime and extortion. Is this Court going to 27 involve itself in a clear instance of racketeering and interference with the commercial affairs of those who do not 28 choose to do business with it? This concept is at the heart of why the IRS calls our tax system a system of 29 “voluntary compliance”, because those who don’t want the services or the benefits and who change their domicile
30 to be outside of government jurisdiction, and who refuse to accept any government service or benefit have “un-31 volunteered” and no longer have any obligation to “comply” or “donate”.

- 32 11. Respondent’s serious error in his opposition originates from a magnanimous failure to recognize the important 33 distinctions between “public employment” and “private employment”. Over “private employment” and “private 34 conduct” of the Plaintiff, this Court, and Congress itself, enjoys NO LEGISLATIVE OR ENFORCEMENT POWER.
35 The U.S. Supreme Court acknowledged this fact when it ruled:

36 “The power to “legislate generally upon” life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the “power to provide modes
37 of redress” against offensive state action, was “repugnant” to the Constitution. Id., at 15. See also United States
38 v. Reese, 92 U.S. 214, 218 (1876); United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 639 (1883); James v. Bowman, 190
39 U.S. 127, 139 (1903). Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been superseded or 40 modified, see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964); United States v. Guest,

42 been questioned.”
43 [City of Boerne v. Flores, Archbishop of San Antonio, 521 U.S. 507 (1997)]

44 Notice the emphasis above on the phrase “state action”. The Internal Revenue Code Subtitle A is law mainly for “state 45 actors” and “public officers” engaged in the “trade or business” franchise, none of whom require implementing 46 regulations in order to be commanded by Congress. Plaintiff continues to assert that it is the most fundamental and 47 Sacred duty of all duties of this Court and its officers to protect “private rights” coming under the purview of the 48 federal Constitution. That responsibility of protection cannot be fulfilled by chronically and habitually making self-49 serving, prejudicial presumptions that have the injurious consequence of effectively making everyone throughout the 50 country into presumed “public officers” who have no rights, all of whom are engaged in the “trade or business” (a 51 “public office”) franchise, which is the main method by which anyone can earn “gross income” under Subtitle A of the 52 Internal Revenue Code.

- 53 12. There is no question that the Constitution confers upon Congress, under Article 4, Section 3, Clause 2, the authority “to 54 dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the

1 United States”. There is also no question that the mechanism it uses for doing that is passing “special law” or “private
2 law” which only applies on federal territory, is not positive law, and usually applies only to its own franchisees such as 3 employees, agents, contractors, benefit recipients, and the military, which are all exempted from the requirement for 4 implementing regulations by the Federal Register Act and the Administrative Procedures Act. However, it DOES
5 NOT have the authority to directly regulate private conduct within the states of the Union without the need for 6 implementing regulations, as pointed out above. Most laws that Congress passes, in fact, are law for government, and 7 not for the private citizen. That is why the Internal Revenue Code is not positive law and is special/private law that 8 only applies to those engaged in consensual federal franchises, such as a “public office”. All such “public offices” are 9 the equivalent of federal property that is subject to the direct statutory supervision of Congress. However, for those 10 who have not availed themselves of such “privileges”, I.R.C. Subtitle A is as “foreign” as the laws of China are to the 11 average American. The laws of China are not “law” for Americans. Likewise, Subtitle A is not “law” in the case of 12 “nontaxpayers”, but simply private law and a franchise agreement that applies to those who have consented to it’s 13 provisions in some way and thereby become party to it. The burden of proof imposed on the government as moving 14 party in such a circumstance is to produce written evidence of consent to become involved in such federal franchises.
15 So far, the Respondent has refused his affirmative, fiduciary duty to satisfy this requirement and therefore defaulted to 16 the position of the Plaintiff in the instant matter, in accordance with Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(b)(6).

- 17 13. There is no question that the Secretary has broad authority under 26 U.S.C. §7805\(a\) to write “all needful rules and 18 regulations” to enforce the Internal Revenue Code. HOWEVER, neither he nor the IRS have the authority to:
19 13.1. Waive any requirements imposed by the Bill of Rights upon his or their conduct in the context of persons
20 domiciled in states of the Union and who are protected by the Bill of Rights.
21 13.2. MAKE law, but only interpret and apply existing law.

22 “When enacting §7206(1) Congress undoubtedly knew that the Secretary of the Treasury is empowered to
23 prescribe all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of the internal revenue laws, so long as they 24 carry into effect the will of Congress as expressed by the statutes. Such regulations have the force of law. The 25 Secretary, however, does not have the power to make law. Dixon v. United States, supra.”
26 [United States v. Levy, 533 F.2d 969 (1976)]

- 27 13.3. Waive the requirements of any positive law, including the Federal Register Act, 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\) or the 28 Administrative Procedures Act, 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\). These two acts positively require that any enforcement action
29 that adversely affects the Constitutional rights of those domiciled in a state of the Union MUST have 30 implementing regulations published in the Federal Register. This is a requirement imposed by the Fifth
31 Amendment, which requires “due notice” to the persons whose rights are adversely affected. The Federal 32 Register is the method of providing this “due notice” to the general public about laws “having general 33 applicability and legal effect”. The only exceptions are listed in these acts, which include ONLY federal 34 employees, contractors, agents, benefit recipients, and members of the military. The Plaintiff is not a member of 35 ANY of these restricted groups and therefore in his case, as a “nontaxpayer”, implementing regulations are 36 required for this case to proceed, because it constitutes an enforcement action which will adversely affect the 37 Constitutional rights of the Plaintiff.
38 13.4. Presume or assume anything that would adversely affect the Constitutional rights of those domiciled or present in 39 a state of the Union, whether thorough regulation or statute. All presumption which prejudices constitutionally 40 guaranteed rights is a violation of Constitutional due process and a tort. See:

Presumption: Chief Weapon for Unlawfully Enlarging Federal Jurisdiction, Form #05.017
<http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm>

- 41 13.5. Assume that a human being not representing an office does not have Constitutional rights or is not protected
42 by the Bill of Rights. This “presumption” would prejudice Constitutional rights and therefore be unconstitutional.
43 13.6. Presume that a human being protected by the Constitution is federal franchisee called a “taxpayer”, or an 44 “employee”, contractor, agent, fiduciary, benefit recipient, or “public officer” engaged in a “trade or business”
45 without at least producing proof under penalty of perjury of consent to engage in the the franchise. That evidence
46 must come from someone with a personal knowledge who does not have a financial interest in the outcome. Such 47 a “presumption” would prejudice Constitutional rights and therefore is unconstitutional. It would also have the 48 practical result of slavery for the object of the presumption, because it would obligate the subject to satisfy all the 49 obligations of federal employment without just compensation for his labor and effort, which would be involuntary
50 servitude in violation of the Thirteenth Amendment. This false, prejudicial, and unconstitutional presumption, in 51 fact, is the ONLY real basis employed by the Respondent to proceed and which it is the purpose of this Petition to 52 invalidate because prejudicial and injurious.

1 14. Plaintiff emphasizes that no ruling of any federal court is sufficient to overturn the affirmative requirements of enacted
2 positive law found in the Federal Register Act, 44 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\) and the Administrative Procedures Act, [5 U.S.C.
3 §553\(a\)](#). These acts unequivocally state that those who have Constitutional rights and who have not surrendered those
4 rights by signing up for federal franchises or “public rights” can only have a federal law enforced against them AFTER 5 an implementing regulation is published in the Federal Register, in satisfaction of the requirements of the Bill of 6 Rights, which require “due notice” to the parties affected. The Granse case cited by the Respondent didn’t declare
7 these positive law requirements unconstitutional or invalidate them at all. Rather, it was completely consistent with the 8 Petition to Dismiss by virtue of the fact that Granse was involved in a “public office” and a “trade or business”.
9 Federal courts may not amend or repeal a positive law. Their job is to interpret, and not to make or overrule law that 10 they view as Constitutional but “politically incorrect”. “judicial activism” of the sort demanded by the Respondent 11 which are aimed at expanding federal revenues and corruptly interfering with private commerce would involve the 12 court in “political questions” beyond its reach:

13 “Political questions. Questions of which courts will refuse to take cognizance, or to decide, on account of their 14 purely political character, or because their determination would involve an encroachment upon the executive or 15 legislative powers.

16 *“Political questions doctrine” holds that certain issues should not be decided by courts because their resolution
17 is committed to another branch of government and/or because those issues are not capable, for one reason or 18 another, of judicial resolution. Islamic Republic of Iran v. Pahlavi, 116 Misc.2d 590, 455 N.Y.S.2d 987, 990.*

19 *A matter of dispute which can be handled more appropriately by another branch of the government is not a
20 “justiciable” matter for the courts. However, a state apportionment statute is not such a political question as to 21 render it nonjusticiable. Baker v. Carr, 369 U.S. 186, 208-210, 82 S.Ct. 691, 705-706, 7 L.Ed.2d 663.
22 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, pp. 1158-1159]*

23 15. This Court may not lawfully “assume”, or “presume” any status or standing or condition of the Plaintiff which is 24 contrary to that specified under penalty of perjury by the Plaintiff in his Petition, Docket #5 and subsequent pleadings.
25 To do otherwise would be to prejudice Constitutionally guaranteed rights, to violate the oath of office of the judge, and 26 violate the Declaratory Judgments Act, 28 U.S.C. §2201\(a\), which excludes the court from declaring or presuming any 27 status other than that specified by the substantive evidence before it relating to a tax issue. The U.S. Supreme Court
28 has also ruled that all “statutory presumptions” are unconstitutional, which also means by implication that all 29 presumptions implemented through “judge-made law” which are equally prejudicial are also unconstitutional:

30 *“(1) [8:4993] Conclusive presumptions affecting protected interests: A conclusive presumption may be 31 defeated where its application would impair a party’s constitutionally-protected liberty or property interests. In 32 such cases, conclusive presumptions have been held to violate a party’s due process and equal protection
33 rights. Vlandis v. Kline (1973) [412 U.S. 441, 449, 93 S.Ct 2230, 2235; Cleveland Bd. of Ed. v. LaFleur
34 (1974) 414 US 632, 639-640, 94 S.Ct. 1208, 1215-presumption under Illinois law that unmarried fathers are 35 unfit violates process]
36 [Rutter Group Practice Guide-Federal Civil Trials and Evidence, paragraph 8:4993, page 8K-34]*

37
38 “It is apparent that a constitutional prohibition cannot be transgressed indirectly by the creation of a statutory 39 presumption any more than it can be violated by direct enactment. The power to create presumptions is not a 40 means of escape from constitutional restrictions.” 219 U.S., at 239.

41 *Thus the Court held that presumptions, while often valid (and some of which, I think, like the presumption of 42 death based on long unexplained absence, may perhaps be even salutary in effect), must not be allowed to stand 43 where they abridge or deny a specific constitutional guarantee.”
44 [United States v. Gainly, 380 U.S. 63 (1965)]*

45 For this Court to “presume” any standing other than that explicitly declared in the Petition, Docket #5 and subsequent 46 pleadings of the Plaintiff would prejudice the Constitutional rights of the Plaintiff and would be an unconstitutional tort 47 for which the officers of this Court and the Respondent surrender their official immunity and become personally liable.
48 At no time has Plaintiff ever surrendered his Constitutional rights by entering into any federal contracts, agency, or 49 employment that still exists today. Therefore, this court may not make any of the following false presumptions without 50 committing a tort which shall be named in the Cross Complaint to be filed shortly:

51 15.1. That the Plaintiff meets any of the exemptions to the requirement for implementing regulations found in 44
52 U.S.C. §1505\(a\)\(1\) or 5 U.S.C. §553\(a\). These provisions are positive law that cannot be overruled using false
53 presumption by that which is not positive law, such as the Internal Revenue Code. 1 U.S.C. §204 says that the

1 Internal Revenue Code is not “positive law”, and therefore is only “presumed” to be law. Since prejudicial and 2 statutory presumptions are unconstitutional, then the Internal Revenue Code, by this statute, cannot be 3 “presumed” to be law except in the case of those who have no Constitutional rights, which does NOT include the 4 Plaintiff.

- 5 15.2. That the Internal Revenue Code is “positive law”, or that at least the provisions cited by the Respondent as 6 authority in this case are positive law, being 26 U.S.C. §6700, 6701, and 7408. To do otherwise is effectively to 7 create a statutory presumption. Once again, the Respondent has not met the burden of proof that the statutes in 8 question are positive law and therefore, they must be presumed to be the contrary until proven otherwise so as not
9 to prejudice constitutional rights of the Plaintiff. The presumption of “innocent until proven guilty” applies here.
10 That presumption implies that the Plaintiff is a “nontaxpayer” until positive law and evidence is used to prove that 11 he is a “taxpayer”
- 12 15.3. That Plaintiff is a “taxpayer” subject to the I.R.C. as defined under 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(14\).
- 13 15.4. That Plaintiff is a “U.S. person” as defined under 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(30\).
- 14 15.5. That Plaintiff is engaged in any franchise or excise taxable activity, including a “trade or business” as defined in 15 26 U.S.C. §7701\(a\)\(26\).
- 16 15.6. That Plaintiff is the “person” subject to the penalty provisions of the I.R.C. and defined in 26 U.S.C. §6671\(b\) as 17 being limited exclusively to “an officer or employee of a corporation”.
- 18 15.7. That this court has any authority to expand any definition, including that in 26 U.S.C. §6671\(b\) above, without 19 violating the rules of statutory construction and also thereby committing a tort by unconstitutionally creating
20 jurisdiction through false “presumption” where none exists. This is called “legislating from the bench”:

21 *“Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
22 thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,*
23 *170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons
24 or things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
25 inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects*
26 of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded.”
27 [Black’s Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]

- 28 15.8. That the Plaintiff ever made an “appearance” in this matter or gave his consent to the jurisdiction of this Court.
29 Every pleading has been submitted as a petition under the First Amendment that is coerced and not consensual.
30 Therefore, this court may not proceed in this civil matter without consent and must dismiss the case. The 31 Declaration of Independence says that all just powers of government derive from the consent of the governed
32 and I never gave my consent, therefore, this is an unjust proceeding.
- 33 15.9. That Plaintiff maintains a domicile within any United States Judicial District or Internal Revenue District. He 34 has declared otherwise in his Affidavit of Material Facts, Docket #5.
- 35 15.10. That this court may involuntarily move the Plaintiff’s domicile to the District of Columbia under 26 U.S.C.
36 §7701\(a\)\(39\) and 26 U.S.C. §7408\(c\) without his explicit written consent and thereby involve itself in 37 kidnapping and identity theft in violation of 18 U.S.C. §1201.
- 38 15.11. That this Court and the Respondent have any lawful authority to continue to mail “threatening 39 communications” to a foreign country and foreign state, to the address of a nonresident such as the Plaintiff, in 40 violation of 18 U.S.C. §877, which have enslaved and oppressed his Constitutional rights without satisfying the 41 requirement for implementing regulations or at least without demonstrating the existence of some form of 42 consent, private law, or special law whereby he made himself subject to the provisions of the Internal Revenue 43 Code.
- 44 15.12. That there are injured parties within the jurisdiction of this Court located within the exterior limits of the 45 judicial district. The Respondent has produced NONE so far, and therefore lacks standing. Because the 46 Plaintiff is “innocent until proven guilty”, this Court must presume that there are no injured parties and 47 therefore no standing exist until proven otherwise.
- 48 15.13. That the Plaintiff ever made any promises or assurances about the effectiveness of any of the materials in 49 question. He declares otherwise in his Petition under penalty of perjury.
- 50 15.14. That the Plaintiff, a nonresident alien and a foreign sovereign, ever forfeited his sovereign immunity by any 51 explicit act under 28 U.S.C. §1605, and as required by 28 U.S.C. §1330.
- 52 15.15. That the requirements of the Minimum Contacts Doctrine/Longarm Jurisdiction have been satisfied by the 53 Respondent, who has yet to demonstrate what the Plaintiff did to people within federal jurisdiction to cause him
54 to surrender sovereign immunity under 28 U.S.C. §1605.
- 55 15.16. That the judge in this case maintains a domicile on federal territory as required by 28 U.S.C. §134\(b\) without 56 submitting proof on the record that this is in fact the case.

1 15.17. That the Court may ignore any issue raised in this pleading and without admitting the truthfulness of it under
2 the principle of Estoppel in pais:

3 "Silence is a species of conduct, and constitutes an implied representation of the existence of facts in question.
4 When silence is of such character and under such circumstances that it would become a fraud, it will operate as 5 an Estoppel."
6 [Carmin v. Bowen, 64 A. 932]

7
8 "Equitable estoppel, or estoppel in pais, is a term applied usually to a situation where, because of something
9 which he has done or omitted to do, a party is denied the right to plead or prove an otherwise important fact. 2
10 The term has also been variously defined, frequently by pointing out one or more of the elements of, or 11 prerequisites to, 3 the application of the doctrine or the situations in which the doctrine is urged. 4 The most
12 comprehensive definition of equitable estoppel or estoppel in pais is that it is the principle by which a party who 13 knows or should know the truth is absolutely precluded, both at law and in equity, from denying, or asserting 14 the contrary of, any material fact which, by his words or conduct, affirmative or negative, intentionally or 15 through culpable negligence, he has induced another, who was excusably ignorant of the true facts and who
16 had a right to rely upon such words or conduct, to believe and act upon them thereby, as a consequence
17 reasonably to be anticipated, changing his position in such a way that he would suffer injury if such denial or 18 contrary assertion was allowed. 5 In the final analysis, however, an equitable estoppel rests upon the facts and 19 circumstances of the particular case in which it is urged, 6 considered in the framework of the elements, 20 requisites, and grounds of equitable estoppel, 7 and consequently, any attempted definition usually amounts to 21 no more than a declaration of an estoppel under those facts and circumstances. 8 The cases themselves must 22 be looked to and applied by way of analogy rather than rule. 9"
23 [American Jurisprudence 2d, Estoppel and Waiver, §27: Definitions and Nature]
24

25 "The doctrine of estoppel is based upon the grounds of public policy, fair dealing, good faith, and justice, and 26 its purpose is to forbid one to speak against his own act, representations, or commitments to the injury of one to
27 whom they were directed and who reasonably relied thereon. 11 The doctrine of estoppel springs from 28 equitable principles and the equities in the case. 12 It is designed to aid the law in the administration of justice
29 where without its aid injustice might result. 13 Thus, the doctrine of equitable estoppel or estoppel in pais is 30 founded upon principles of morality and fair dealing and is intended to subserve the ends of justice. 14
31 It always presupposes error on one side and fault or fraud upon the other and some defect of which it would be 32 inequitable for the party against whom the doctrine is asserted to take advantage. 15 It concludes the truth in 33 order to prevent fraud and falsehood and imposes silence on a party only when in conscience and honesty he 34 should not be allowed to speak. 16

35 The proper function of equitable estoppel is the prevention of fraud, actual or constructive, 17 and the 36 doctrine should always be so applied as to promote the ends of justice and accomplish that which ought to be
37 done between man and man. 18 Such an estoppel cannot arise against a party except when justice to the rights
38 of others demands it 19 and when to refuse it would be inequitable. 20 The doctrine of estoppel should be
39 applied cautiously and only when equity clearly requires it to be done. 1 Hence, in determining the application
40 of the doctrine, the counterequities of the parties are entitled to due consideration. 2 It is available only in 41 defense of a legal or equitable right or claim made in good faith and can never be asserted to uphold crime,
42 fraud, injustice, or wrong of any character. 3 Estoppel is to be applied against wrongdoers, not against the 43 victim of a wrong, 4 although estoppel is never employed as a means of inflicting punishment for an unlawful 44 or wrongful act. 5"
45 [American Jurisprudence 2d, Estoppel and Waiver, §28: Basis, function, and purpose]
