1 Introduction

The Internal Revenue Code Subtitle A functions essentially as an indirect excise tax upon a "trade or business", which 1. 3 is defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office". 4 2. It is UNLAWFUL to exercise "the functions of a public office" without actually BEING a public officer. 18 U.S.C. 5 §912. 6 There is no way to collect an income tax WITHOUT reporting the receipt of income. 3. 7 All income reports under 26 U.S.C. §6041 with very few exceptions are connected to a "trade or business", and thus 4. 8 nearly all "taxpayers" are engaged in a public office, whether they know it or not. 9 No objective criteria is provided in the Internal Revenue Code for determining what IS and what is NOT a "trade or 5. 10 business". Judges are not legislators and thus cannot add to the definition by fiat either. So its up to the recipient to of 11 money to determine whether they IN EFFECT want to donate the PRIVATE property they received to a public use, a 12 public purpose, and a public office. No one else can do that without STEALING: 13 "Men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, -'life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness,' 14 and to 'secure,' not grant or create, these rights, governments are instituted. That property [or income] which a 15 man has honestly acquired he retains full control of, subject to these limitations: 16 17 [1] First, that he shall not use it to his neighbor's injury, and that does not mean that he must use it for his neighbor's benefit [e.g. SOCIAL SECURITY, Medicare, and every other public "benefit"]: 18 [2] second, that if he devotes it to a public use, he gives to the public a right to control that use; and 19 [3] third, that whenever the public needs require, the public may take it upon payment of due compensation." 20 [Budd v. People of State of New York, 143 U.S. 517 (1892)] 21 There are occasions where I.R.C. Subtitle A imposes a tax upon earnings NOT connected to a "trade or business". 6. 22 That scenario occurs ONLY in the case of nonresident aliens under 26 U.S.C. §871. Everything else is PRESUMED to 23 be connected to the "trade or business" excise taxable franchise: 24 26 U.S. Code § 864 - Definitions and special rules 25 26 (c)Effectively connected income, etc. (4)Income from sources without United States 27 (A)Except as provided in subparagraphs (B) and (C), no income, gain, or loss from sources without the United 28 States shall be treated as effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business within the United States. 29 Even among nonresident aliens NOT engaged in the "trade or business" excise taxable franchise, information return 30 reports such as the Forms 1042 and 1042-s purport to document receipt of "gross income" that is NOT connected to the 31 "trade or business" franchise according to the form instructions. And yet the form instructions CONTRADICT the 32 authority for the forms, which is 26 U.S.C. §6041(a). That statutory only authorizes them to be filed if they are "trade 33 or business" and NOT "gross income". This is FRAUD. 34 The national government has jurisdiction over its own property wherever it is situated in the world under Article 4, 8. 35 Section 3, Clause 2 of the constitution. 36 9. Direct legislative CIVIL jurisdiction over property and jurisdiction over people in POSSESSION of said property are 37 not synonymous. The fact that someone is in possession of property belonging to the government who does not 38 occupy an office in the government does not make them automatically subject to civil legislation of its owner. They 39 are "bailees" involved in a bailment, but they have no legal obligation to do as the owner says. Only a MORAL 40 obligation: 41

The thesis this document shall attempt to prove consists of the following propositions:

California Civil Code Section 2224

"One who gains a thing by fraud, accident, mistake, undue influence, the violation of a trust, or other wrongful act, is, unless he or she has some other and better right thereto, an involuntary trustee of the thing gained, for the benefit of the person who would otherwise have had it."

- 10.1. Public offices that are legislative creations of and therefore property of the national government.
- 10.2. Physical property.
- 10.3. Land and buildings.
- 10.4. Chattel personal property.
- 10.5. Rights of any kind.
- 11. 4 U.S.C. §72 limits the exercise of public offices to the District of Columbia "and not elsewhere except as expressly authorized by law".
- 12. Congress has never "expressly authorized" the exercise of public offices in the constitutional states of the Union and therefore they are NOT authorized.
- 13. Any civil statutory status to which obligations attach is an office within the government grantor, including "persons", "citizens", "residents", "taxpayers", etc.
- 14. Those who pursue the "benefits" and privileges associated with any civil statutory office implicitly consent to the civil 16 statutory obligations also attached to the office. Otherwise they would be stealing.
- 15. The Internal Revenue Code does not purport to create NEW public offices, but merely to tax those exercising 18 EXISTING office. The people serving in civil statutory offices such as "taxpayer", "citizen", and "resident" must be 19 lawfully elected or appointed ELSEWHERE in Title 5 of the U.S. Code in order to add duties to any office in the 20 Internal Revenue Code. 21
- 16. A public office is legally defined as someone in charge of the PROPERTY of the public. Only public officers can 22 manage public property and not private people. Otherwise, they are embezzling public property. 23
- "Public office. The right, authority, and duty created and conferred by law, by which for a given period, either 24 fixed by law or enduring at the pleasure of the creating power, an individual is invested with some portion of the 25 sovereign functions of government for the benefit of the public. Walker v. Rich, 79 Cal.App. 139, 249 P. 56, 58. 26 27 An agency for the state, the duties of which involve in their performance the exercise of some portion of the sovereign power, either great or small. - 17. There is no provision anywhere in the constitution or any statute we have found that expressly allows the government 37 to CREATE new public offices merely by handing people PUBLIC property. 38
  - 17.1. Those serving in public offices must STILL be lawfully elected or appointed under the requirements of Title 5 of the U.S. code.

17.2. The fact that the courts by naked fiat allow mere transfers of government property to create new offices without 41 the express consent and often without the knowledge of the target makes them de facto and operating 42 unconstitutionally. This consent is what we call "invisible consent", and it is always implied rather than express. 43 Another word for this implied consent is "assent". 44

17.3. Unconstitutional "judicial fiat" seems to be behind every effort to make pursuit of EXTRATERRITORIAL privileges into the origin of civil jurisdiction over the recipients. See:

- How Judges Unconstitutionally "Make Law", Litigation Tool #01.009, Section 7 https://sedm.org/Litigation/01-General/HowJudgesMakeLaw.pdf
- 18. A government that bases its revenue scheme upon unlawfully created public offices is a de facto government: 47

48 49 50	"An unconstitutional act is not a law; it confers no rights; it imposes no duties; it affords no protection; it creates no office; it is in legal contemplation, as inoperative as though it had never been passed." [Norton v. Shelby County, 118 U.S. 425 (1885)]
51
52	de facto: In fact, in deed, actually. This phrase is used to characterize an officer, a government, a past action
53	or a state of affairs which must be accepted for all practical purposes, but is illegal or illegitimate. $\it Thus,$

1		an office, a position or status existing under a claim or color of
2		right such as a de facto corporation. In this sense it is the contrary of de jure, which
3		means rightful, legitimate, just, or constitutional. Thus, an officer, king, or government de facto is one who is
4		in actual possession of the office or supreme power, but by usurpation, or without lawful title; while an officer,
5		king, or governor de jure is one who has just claim and rightful title to the office or power, but has never had
6		plenary possession of it, or is not in actual possession. MacLeod v. United States, 229 U.S. 416, 33 S.Ct. 955,
7		57 L.Ed. 1260. A wife de facto is one whose marriage is voidable by decree, as distinguished from a wife de jure,
8 9		or lawful wife. But the term is also frequently used independently of any distinction from de jure; thus a blockade de facto is a blockade which is actually maintained, as distinguished from a mere paper blockade. Compare De
10		jure.

17	19.	Whatever method that any government uses to acquire or lose rights over others must also be permitted against them
18		under the concept of equal protection and equal treatment. For instance:
19		19.1. If the government declares as they did in Clark v. United States that all contracts must be in writing and never
20		verbal or parole contracts, then we also have the same right to prevent them from acquiring our implied consent
21		or assent.
22		"Every man is supposed to know the law. A party who makes a contract [or enters into a franchise, which is also
23		a contract] with an officer [of the government] without having it reduced to writing is knowingly accessory to a
24		violation of duty on his part. Such a party aids in the violation of the law."
25		[Clark v. United States, 95 U.S. 539 (1877)]
26		19.2. If the civil statutory code is being used as a contracting vehicle to entice people into government offices such as
27		"person", "citizen", "taxpayer", etc., then private individuals may lawfully acquire jurisdiction over the
28		government by the same mechanisms: Write a contract offer, , define the terms of acceptance by implied consent,
29		serve it to them to give them notice, and enforce the obligations of the contract against the government for their
30		implied consent. The Federal Register does the same thing: giving the constitutionally required public notice.

39		21.4. "person" under 26 U.S.C. §6671(b) and 26 U.S.C. §7343 (read the definition).
40	22.	A "nonresident alien" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(B) is:
41		22.1. NOT a public office by itself. It defines what it IS NOT, but not what it IS.
42		22.2. Is a method of imposing taxes upon certain types of property that started out as government property and never
43		private property. Thus, to be taxable the U.S. source earnings must be paid by the government or one of its
44		instrumentalities to one of its contractors or officers. Otherwise, the taxation process would intefere with the
45		right to contract with otherwise private parties in violation of Article 1, Section 10.
46		22.3. BECOMES a public office the minute the "nonresident alien" files a "taxpayer" form and invokes the

22	27.5. Consent destroys the separation of powers.
23 24	27.6. Consent creates criminal financial conflicts of interest in the government. It changes the goal of government from that of protecting private property to converting as much private property to public property as possible so it can

  - BING CHAT GPT ANSWER: The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and the U.S. tax code provide several tests to determine whether income is effectively connected with a trade or business12. Here are some of the key tests:
    - 1. Asset-Use Test: The income must be associated with U.S. assets used in, or held for use in, the conduct of a U.S. trade or business1.

1	2. Business Activities Test: The activities of that trade or business conducted in the United States are a material
2	factor in the realization of the income1.
3	In general, you must be engaged in a trade or business during the tax year to be able to treat income received in
4	that year as Effectively Connected Income (ECI)1. You usually are considered to be engaged in a U.S. trade or
5	business when you perform personal services in the United States 1.

13	For the purposes of the above "U.S. assets" means GOVERNMENT property and NOT the geographical "United States", So
14	it is a synonym for PUBLIC property. How do we know this? Because if "U.S. assets" meant PRIVATE property, the legal
15	definition of justice itself (the right to be left alone) would mean that they would have to leave it alone and not tax or regulate
16	it. Government has to own the property before they can tax or regulate it because if they didn't, it would be a common law

"It is only where some right or privilege [which are BOTH public/government property granted to the recipient] is conferred by the government or municipality upon the owner, which he can use in connection with his property, or by means of which the use of his property is rendered more valuable to him, or he thereby enjoys an advantage over others, that the compensation to be received by him becomes a legitimate matter of regulation [or legislation or taxation]. Submission to the regulation of compensation in such cases is an implied condition of the grant, and the State, in exercising its power of prescribing the compensation, only determines the conditions upon which its concession [sale as a MERCHANT under the UCC with you as the Buyer!] shall be enjoyed. When the privilege ends, the power of regulation [or taxation] ceases. [Munn v. Illinois, 94 U.S. 113 (1874)]

A "concession" is an act of SELLING PROPERTY and YOU are the buyer if you ask for that property. That property can 27 consist of physical property, rights, services, "benefits", or civil statuses such as "person" that CONVEY these rights and 28 privileges. These considerations are why the statutory "U.S. person", "U.S. citizen", or "U.S. resident" identified as parties 29 "LIABLE TO" rather than "LIABLE FOR" the income tax in 26 C.F.R. §1.1-1(a) are liable for tax on their worldwide 30 earnings: 31

The IRS and the court BOTH interpreted the type of citizen on his 1040 return as a 48 STATUTORY citizen and NOT a constitutional citizen, even though he intended otherwise. 49

Property of the national government, public property, and "U.S. assets" are all synonymous in the I.R.C. Anyone who uses PUBLIC property is availing themselves of a PUBLIC GRANT and a PRIVILEGE and will be treated AS IF they are a public officer through IMPLIED consent in this case. The definition of "public office" confirms that a public officer is someone in charge of "THE PROPERTY OF THE PUBLIC":

- "Public office. The right, authority, and duty created and conferred by law, by which for a given period, either fixed by law or enduring at the pleasure of the creating power, an individual is invested with some portion of the sovereign functions of government for the benefit of the public. We just love how the IRS website is cited so heavily in the above ChatGPT dialog and others. Of course they say themselves we can't trust anything on their website. The courts repeat the same thing! See:

We also love how the ChatGPT chatbot uses "trade or business" in the definitions they provide, as does the IRS when defining or describing anything having to do with "trade or business" as statutorily defined and not commonly understood. It's a tautology designed to deceive. All of the 'evidence' in support of these claims boils down to tautologies and circular reasoning.

IRS publications and websites are the exoteric. The code and regs the esoteric. IRS is counting on the fact that the average 33 American doesn't read the statutes or the regulations and instead will rely on LIES on their website. The DECEPTION on 34 the IRS website is designed to equivocate using the word "United States" to make the average reader falsely believe that 35 "United States" includes the exclusive jurisdiction of states of the Union among those who don't CONSENT to anything the 36 government offers them. "United States" can include ANYTHING one wants it to mean if the reader has already determined 37 that they consent to pay the tax by volunteering for a public office in the "United States" federal corporation. Of course such 38 volunteers are "in the United States" and even a "source within the United States" as a legal fiction and corporation. Public 39 officers of the "United States" are, in fact SYNONYMOUS with that corporation while serving on official duty. But its 40 ultimately a fraud because: 41

- If they knew or were even ALLOWED TO LEARN that they were volunteering by shysters in what Mark Twain called
   "the District of Criminals", they would UNVOLUNTEER. It is literally and ABSURDITY to presume that someone can serve in a public office WITHOUT:
  - 1.1. Being informed that they have a right to refuse and how to manifest that lack of consent to volunteer. By that I mean recognizing on every tax form that you REMOVE consent to volunteer and offering a civil status block that

1 2 3		<ul><li>recognizes you as in effect a "nonresident alien not engaged in a trade or business with no District of Columbia or governmental source income".</li><li>1.2. Being permitted to know exactly what language or behavior it is that indicated their implied consent. Every</li></ul>
4		aspect of how you volunteer is ALWAYS implied consent so you don't need to expressly consent. See:
		Invisible Consent* , SEDM

5		1.3. At least a proper oath and appointment or even compensation for that matter as required by Title 5 of the U.S.
	2	Code. $1 \leq 1 \leq 1 \leq 1 \leq 1 \leq 1 \leq 2 \leq 2 \leq 2 \leq 2 \leq $
	2.	It is unlawful to UNILATERALLY "elect" yourself into a public office without a proper oath or appointment as mandated by Title 5 of the U.S. Code. Any civil statutory status that has civil obligations attached to it is a public office:
		"The term office' has no legal or technical meaning attached to it, distinct from its ordinary acceptations. An office is a public charge or employment; but, as every employment is not an office, it is sometimes difficult to distinguish between employments which are and those which are not offices A public officer is one who has some duty to perform concerning the public; and he is not the less a public officer when his duty is confined to narrow limits, because it is the duty, and the nature of that duty, which makes him a public officer, and not the extent of his authority.' 7 Bac.Abr. 280; Carth. 479 Where an employment or duty is a continuing [65] one, which is defined by rules prescribed by law and not by contract, such a charge or employment is an office, and the person who performs it is an officer" [Ricker's Petition, 66 N.H. 207 (1890)]
	3.	It is also a criminal offense to in effect BRIBE the government to treat you AS IF you lawfully occupy an appointed or elected public office and bribe them with "tax withholdings" or "tax paid" that is actually a donation to treat you AS IF you are a public officer called a STATUTORY "citizen", "resident", "taxpayer", "person", etc.
		18 U.S. Code § 210 - Offer to procure appointive public office Whoever pays or offers or promises any money or thing of value, to any person, firm, or corporation in consideration of the use or promise to use any influence to procure any appointive office or place under the United States for any person, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than one year, or both. (June 25, 1948, ch. 645, 62 Stat. 694, § 210, formerly § 214; renumbered § 210, Pub. L. 87–849, § 1(b), Oct. 23, (dane 25, 1946, en. 545, 52 bian. 547, 5216, jormeny 5214, renambered 5216, Fub. E. 67, 547, 5716, 661. 25, 1962, 76 Stat. 1125; Pub. L. 103–322, title XXXIII, § 330016(1)(H), Sept. 13, 1994, 108 Stat. 2147.)
		The tax code cannot and does not expressly authorize the creation of any new public offices that were not already lawfully elected or appointed somewhere ELSE in the U.S. Code BEFORE they became "taxpayers" under Title 26, in fact. The phrase "election" as frequently used in the Internal Revenue Code and Treasury Regulation is therefore LITERALLY indicating that you are "electing yourself into a public office", and doing so ILLEGALLY.
	4.	No one other than the Legislative Branch can add to the statutory definitions by presumption or consent. This would be an unconstitutional violation of the separation of powers, as described in:
		Government Conspiracy to Destroy the Separation of Powers , Form #05.023 https://sedm.org/Forms/05-MemLaw/SeparationOfPowers.pdf
	Tha	at process of volunteering is extensively documented in:

		ost courts, both state and federal, like to divert attention away from the subject of this section by saying that the income tax NOT a tax on "property".
		"An inheritance tax is not a tax on property, but rather on the transmission of property upon the death of the decedent ." [Hildebrand v. New Orleans, 549 So.2d.1218 (1989)]
		"However, it has been well said that a tax on incomes is not a tax on property, and a tax on property does not embrace incomes. Hence "property," as the term is used in Ark. Const. art. XVI, § 5, means the property itself as distinguished from the annual gain or revenue from it." [Weiss v. McFadden, 353 Ark. 868 (2003)]
	01	allange to Income Tax Enforcement Authority Within Constitutional States of the Union 24 of 116

We now know from this section, however, that this statement is NOT entirely correct because it uses the word "property" in

2 only ONE context: That of the "taxpayer", and not "government" or PUBLIC property. In fact, in all cases where an income

3 tax is levied, the ACTIVITY subject to excise tax always involves GOVERNMENT property in some form

- 4 CONSENSUALLY consumed or used by the "taxpayer", such as:
- Pursing the privileges of a civil statutory office legislatively created by the government and therefore absolutely owned property of the government. This includes STATUTORY "citizen", "resident", "person", "driver", etc. All such
- <sup>7</sup> offices have PUBLIC rights created and enforced by the government associated with them that cost money to deliver.
- EVERY ONE of the PUBLIC RIGHTS attached to said civil statutory offices are PROPERTY in a legal sense. ALL RIGHTS, in fact, are PROPERTY of one kind or another. See:
   Hierarchy of Sovereignty: The Power to Tax is the Power to Create, Family Guardian Fellowship

https://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Remedies/PowerToCreate.htm

- Services provided by the government to the CONSENTING "taxpayer" in connection with the activity subject to income.
- Monetary "benefits" or payments which are property, and often UNEARNED property, such as the tax upon Social Security in 26 U.S.C. §861(a)(8).
- As an example of the above, domicile is the SOLE BASIS for the collection of state income taxes:
- The obligation of one domiciled within a state to pay taxes there, arises 15 from unilateral action of the state government in the exercise of the most 16 plenary of sovereign powers, that to raise revenue to defray the expenses 17 of government and to distribute its burdens equably among those who 18 enjoy its benefits. Hence, domicile in itself establishes a basis for taxation. 19 Enjoyment of the privileges of residence within the state, and the 20 attendant right to invoke the protection of its laws, are inseparable from 21 the responsibility for sharing the costs of government. See Fidelity & 22 Columbia Trust Co. v. Louisville, 245 U.S. 54, 58; Maguire v. Trefry, 253 23 U.S. 12, 14, 17; Kirtland v. Hotchkiss, 100 U.S. 491, 498; Shaffer v. Carter, 24 252 U.S. 37, 50. The Federal Constitution imposes on the states no particular modes of taxation, and 25 apart from the specific grant to the federal government of the exclusive 280*280 power to levy certain limited 26 classes of taxes and to regulate interstate and foreign commerce, it leaves the states unrestricted in their power 27 28 to tax those domiciled within them, so long as the tax imposed is upon property within the state or on privileges enjoyed there, and is not so palpably arbitrary or unreasonable as to infringe the Fourteenth Amendment. 29 Kirtland v. Hotchkiss, supra. 30 31 Taxation at the place of domicile of tangibles located elsewhere has been thought to be beyond the jurisdiction of the state, Union Refrigerator Transit Co. v. Kentucky, 199 U.S. 194; Frick v. Pennsylvania, 268 U.S. 473, 488-32 489; but considerations applicable to ownership of physical objects located outside the taxing jurisdiction, which 33 have led to that conclusion, are obviously inapplicable to the taxation of intangibles at the place of domicile or 34 of privileges which may be enjoyed there. See Foreign Held Bond Case, 15 Wall. 300, 319; Frick v. Pennsylvania, 35 supra, p. 494. And the taxation of both by the state of the domicile has been uniformly upheld. Kirtland v. 36 37 Hotchkiss, supra; Fidelity & Columbia Trust Co. v. Louisville, supra; Blodgett v. Silberman, 277 U.S. 1; Maguire v. Trefry, supra; compare Farmers Loan & Trust Co. v. Minnesota, 280 U.S. 204; First National Bank v. Maine, 38 39 284 U.S. 312. The present tax has been defined by the Supreme Court of Mississippi as an excise and not a property tax, 40 Hattiesburg Grocery Co. v. Robertson, 126 Miss. 34; 88 So. 4; Knox v. Gulf, M. & N.R. Co., 138 Miss. 70; 104 41 So. 689, but in passing on its constitutionality we are concerned only with its practical operation, not its definition 42 or the precise form of descriptive words which may be applied to it. See Educational Films Corp. v. Ward, 282 43 U.S. 379, 387; Pacific Co. v. Johnson, 285 U.S. 480; Shaffer v. Carter, supra, pp. 54-55. 44

And what is the criteria for establishing what amounts to a CIVIL STATUTORY domicile? Quite simply, either you participated in the government as a public officer called a CIVIL STATUTORY "citizen", "resident", or "person" that is their legislatively created property, or you VOLUNTARILY and CONSENSUALLY consumed government services of some kind that cost money to deliver. Thus, you have an equitable obligation to reimburse the government and if you don't, you are engaging in "unjust enrichment". Don't believe us? The issues discussed here are the HEART of the fraud that is protected with silence, equivocation, and deception to ensure it is never discovered. They are all THIRD RAIL issues NO ONE in the government can ever talk about without committing commercial suicide. Now do you know why our best President honestly said the following:

The taxpayer - that's someone who works for the federal government but doesn't have to take the civil service examination. Ronald Reagan BrainyQuote*

3 Summary of Legal Constraints Upon Income Tax Enforcement Jurisdiction

1. 4 U.S.C. §72 is positive law that provides the litmus test for the jurisdiction granted to the office of the Secretary of the United States Treasury who is also sometimes referenced as the Secretary and/or his delegates. It decrees (emphasis added) as follows:

"All offices attached to the seat of government shall be exercised in the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere, except as otherwise expressly provided by law."

- 4 U.S.C. §72 specifies WHERE the authority for the United States offices can be exercised not WHAT said offices can do. The breakdown and analysis of this law is as follows:
  - a. ALL offices attached to the seat of government are covered in this law, including the Secretary, the IRS, the Department of Justice ("DOJ"), etc.;
  - b. All offices are vested by Congress with specific authority to be exercised by officers holding a particular official positions (i.e., the Secretary and his delegates).
  - c. All offices attached does not mean physically connected "wall to wall". It means connected or related to the seat of government by a delegated authority.
  - d. The provisions of 4 U.S.C. §72 are mandatory by the use of the word "shall". This is not an "optional" consideration for any United States officer, Court, Agency, etc.;
  - e. The "exercise" of the functions delegated to ALL government offices is limited to "the District of Columbia" by default as the ONLY place where said jurisdiction is granted by the added enforcer "and not elsewhere";

1		f. Any "exception" from the "and not elsewhere" territorial authority of an office of the United States must be
		" expressly " granted by Congress through "law" before any such office may extend its authority outside "the 2
3		District of Columbia";
		a Since only the Lagislative Dranch (Congress) has the evolution outherity to greate low for the United States
4		g. Since only the Legislative Branch (Congress) has the exclusive authority to create law for the United States
5		(District of Columbia) and territories or insular possessions, any "exceptions" to the 4 U.S.C. §72 mandates
6		must be found only in United States " law ", NOT in Codes of Regulations or presidential executive orders (Executive Branch) or in Supreme Court rulings (Judicial Branch).
7		(Executive Branch) of in Supreme Court runnigs (Judicial Branch).
8	3.	As "exceptions" to the limitations mandated by 4 U.S.C. §72 are to be "expressly" authorized only by Congress in United States " law ", the Courts are not empowered to extend the authority of any office beyond "the District of 9
10		Columbia" (see case cited in ¶ 26.c herein).
11		The Supreme Court states:
10		"Official commencement he active ded haven difference and access any implications of the event liference of a proving
12		"Official powers cannot be extended beyond the terms and necessary implications of the grant. If broader powers he desirable they must be conformed by Congress," Federal Trade Commission v. Beladam Co. 282 II S. 642
13		be desirable, they must be conferred by Congress ." Federal Trade Commission v. Raladam Co., 283 U.S. 643, 51 S.C. 527 (1021)/Furthering details
14		51 S.Ct. 587 (1931)(Emphasis added)
15	4.	When Congress extends the authority of any office of the United States beyond the mandates for "the District of
16		Columbia, and not elsewhere," Congress "expressly" extends authority for the office of the Secretary by leaving no doubt
17		that said authority has been extended to a particular geographical area outside "the District of Columbia." The definition
18		of "expressly" from Black's Law Dictionary, 6th Ed. is as follows:
19		"In an express manner; in direct and unmistakable terms; explicitly; definitely; directly. St. Louis Union Trust
20		Co. v. Hill, 336 Mo. 17, 76 S.W.2d. 685, 689. The opposite of impliedly. Bolles v. Toledo Trust Co., 144 Ohio.St.
21		195, 58 N.E.2d. 381, 396." (Emphasis added)
22		[Black's Law Dictionary, 6 th Ed.]

23	5.	The following examples of United States laws show that Congress knows very well how to "expressly" extend authority

5 6 7		d. 48 U.S.C. §1801. Approval of Covenant to Establish Commonwealth of Northern Mariana Islands That the Covenant to Establish a Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands in Political Union with the United States of America, the text of which is as follows [note to this section], is hereby approved .
8		and the Covenant which was approved by Congress states in part:
9		"Article VI"
10		"revenue and taxation"
11 12 13		"Section 601. (a) The income tax laws in force in the United States will come into force in the Northern Mariana Islands as a local territorial income tax on the first day of January following the effective date of this Section, in the same manner as those laws are in force in Guam."
14		In the NOTES under References in Text it states:
15 16		"The income-tax laws in force in the United States of America, referred to in text, are classified to Title 26 , Internal Revenue Code."
17 18 19 20 21 22 23	6.	Likewise, in 55 Stat. 685, the War Department, later renamed to Department Of Defense ("DOD") was "expressly" authorized by Congress to enter Arlington County, Virginia and occupy an office building on land which had already been designated and approved for the Department of Agriculture. This shows conclusively that even when the federal government has expressly authorized one office of the government to exercise its authority and to function outside the District of Columbia and within one of the several 50 union states (i.e. Virginia) pursuant to 4 U.S.C. §72, another office of the government seeking to exercise its authority in the same area is required to obtain the expressly granted authority from Congress before that specific office may exercise its authority in said same specific geographical area.
24 25 26 27	7.	Unless Congress, through United States law, expressly grants to the Office of the Secretary the authority to Act outside "the District of Columbia", any non-specific general authority dealing with "WHO" has authority or "WHAT" authority is given to a particular office attached to the seat of government is to be construed as limited to and restricted to ONLY "the District of Columbia, and NOT ELSEWHERE ," pursuant to 4 U.S.C. §72.
28 29 30 31	8.	U.S. attorneys have been unable to find and submit into evidence any such United States law by which Congress expressly extends the authority of the Office of the Secretary to the several states <sup>2</sup> in like manner as Congress has so expressly extended said authority to Virgin Islands, Guam and the Northern Mariana Islands - soil over which Congress has "exclusive" legislative jurisdiction.
32 33 34 35	9.	In addition to the mandates of 4 U.S.C. §72, Congress has also enacted United States law that restricts the delegates of the Secretary and the Commissioner from leaving "the District of Columbia" and entering the several states without designated authority from the Secretary and the Commissioner. In 1994, 26 U.S.C. §7803(b)(1) stated in part the following:
36		"(b) Appointment and supervision
37		"(1) Designation of Post of Duty

&lt;sup>2</sup> In the case of Walden v. U.S., #A-05-CA-444-LY, U.S. District Court, Austin, TX, the Court issued a protective order so the United States attorneys do not have to expose the Material Fact that Congress has not so "expressly" extended the authority of the Secretary to the several 50 union states. Declarations by Courts that the IRS or the Secretary can exercise their authority without substantiating said allegation with an "expressly" extended authority granted by Congress in United States law are nothing more than opinions, and bear no evidentiary weight when confronted with United States law 4 U.S.C. §72 to determine if the Secretary has jurisdiction in the several states pursuant thereto.

1 2		"The Secretary shall determine and designate the posts of duty of all such persons engaged in field work or traveling on official business outside the District of Columbia ." <sup>3</sup> (Emphasis added)
3	10.	The same law is now found in 26 U.S.C. §7804(b)(1) and reads as follows:
4		"(b) Posts of duty of employees in field service or traveling
5		"Unless otherwise prescribed by the Secretary
5		"(1) Designation of post of duty
7 8		"The Commissioner shall determine and designate the posts of duty of all such persons engaged in field work or traveling on official business outside of the District of Columbia ." <sup>3</sup> (Emphasis added)
9 0 1 2 3 4	11.	In order to confirm whether the Secretary, the Commissioner or their delegate IRS Agents have the authority to administer and enforce internal revenue laws within the several states, the government has the burden of proof to produce the delegation of authority from the Secretary to the Commissioner, or from other alleged delegates which "designate" agents or other delegates acting on behalf of the Secretary to a "post of duty" in geographical areas "outside the District of Columbia" and within the several states for the purpose of conducting "official business" pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7803(b)(1) (1994) (re-codified as 26 U.S.C. §7804(b)(1)) and 4 U.S.C. §72?
5 6 7 8 9	12.	Without evidence of said law or said delegation of authority, it can only be concluded that no such delegation of authority exists in United States law. This may be one reason why no delegation has been published in the Federal Register thereby giving notice to the people in the several states of the purportedly extended powers of the Secretary and his delegates. As no such United States law exists, then not even the Secretary has any authority "expressly" granted by Congress to be exercised within the several states.
0 1 2 3 4 5	13.	It should be conclusive that Congress knows how to, and did "expressly" extend the authority of the Secretary to other locations outside "the District of Columbia" in United States law when it intended to do so. In fact, if Congress follows its own mandates of 4 U.S.C. §72 with regard to the Virgin Islands, Guam and the Northern Mariana Islands - territories or insular possessions of the United States over which it has exclusive legislative authority - why wouldn't (or shouldn't) Congress follow the same mandate with respect to the several states - areas over which it does NOT have exclusive legislative jurisdiction?
5 7 3	14.	There is no legal argument or basis in law for the contention that the mandates of 4 U.S.C. §72 should only be followed in regard to territories or insular possessions of the United States over which Congress has "exclusive" legislative authority, but ignored in regards to the several states over which Congress has "limited" legislative or constitutional authority.
9 ) 1 2	15.	It has been long established by the Courts that in personam and subject-matter jurisdiction are paramount to an Agency's authority to act. The following ruling by the Supreme Court demonstrates that it is not frivolous for one to demand from agents acting on behalf of the Secretary to identify the Act of Congress "expressly" extending the authority of the Secretary outside "the District of Columbia" to the several states pursuant to 4 U.S.C. §72:
3 4 5		"The laws of Congress in respect to those matters do not extend into the territorial limits of the States, but have force only in the District of Columbia , and other places that are within the exclusive jurisdiction of the national government." [Caha v. United States, 152 U.S. 211 (Emphasis added)]
, 1	16.	The location of "The United States", as defined by law, further confirms that the authority for the Office of the Secretary is restricted to "the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere." The Uniform Commercial Code at § 9-307(h) states:
)		"(h) The United States is located in the District of Columbia." [Uniform Commercial Code at § 9-307(h)]
2		TITLE 26 > Subtitle F > CHAPTER 79 > Sec. 7701. [Internal Revenue Code] Sec. 7701 Definitions

<sup>3</sup> Said field service personnel which have been so designated outside the District of Columbia by the Secretary or the Commissioner can be designated to work inside the District of Columbia and then reassigned, by delegation of authority, to a designated post of duty back outside the District of Columbia after their work is done (See 26 U.S.C. §7803(b)(1) (1994) (re-codified as 26 U.S.C. §7804(b)(1))).

1		(a) Definitions
2		(9) United States
3		The term "United States" when used in a geographical sense includes only the States and the District of
4		Columbia.
5		(10) State
6		The term "State" shall be construed to include the District of Columbia, where such construction is necessary to
7		carry out provisions of this title.
8	17.	This exact provision is reflected in various state codes, including, but not limited to California and Texas. <sup>4</sup>
9	18.	Judges and even government prosecutors are not legislators and may not add to statutory definitions without becoming
10		legislators:
11		"Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
12		thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles,
13		170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or
14		things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
15		inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."
16 17		[Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]
18		"When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that term's

24 25		943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include the Attorney
26		General's restriction "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the contrary."
27		[Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 (2000)]
28	19.	Judges and prosecutors adding to statutory geographical definitions by presumption without an express statutory
29		authority is a violation of the separation of powers doctrine, and a criminal conspiracy against the rights of those who
30		are the victims of all such unsubstantiated presumptions:
		(1) 18,40021 Conclusive magnumeticus affecting material interactor. A conclusive magnumeticus way be defected
31 32		(1) [8:4993] Conclusive presumptions affecting protected interests: A conclusive presumption may be defeated where its application would impair a party's constitutionally-protected liberty or property interests. In such
33		cases, conclusive presumptions have been held to violate a party's due process and equal protection rights.
34		[Vlandis v. Kline (1973) 412 U.S. 441 , 449, 93 S.Ct. 2230, 2235; Cleveland Bed. of Ed. v. LaFleur (1974) 414

37		[Federal Civil Trials and Evidence, Rutter Group, paragraph 8:4993, p. 8K-34]
38	20.	Because judges and prosecutors cannot expand statutory definitions, it is pointless and an act of deception and even
39		FRAUD to cite any court case, state or federal, as a conclusive authority for expanding a statutory definition to include
40		things not expressly stated in the statutes themselves.
41	21.	Likewise, the U.S. Congress describes the essence of communism itself as the failure or refusal to recognize or enforce
42		the constitutional or statutory limits upon the authority of those in government, such as judges or prosecutors intent on
43		unconstitutionally expanding statutory definitions. The BEGINNING of that limitation is the definitions found in
44		statutes:

1	The Congress finds and declares that the Communist Party of the United States [consisting of the IRS, DOJ, and
2	a corrupted federal judiciary] , although purportedly a political party, is in fact an instrumentality of a conspiracy
3	to overthrow the [de jure] Government of the United States [ and replace it with a de facto government ruled by
4	the judiciary]. It constitutes an authoritarian dictatorship [IRS, DOJ, and corrupted federal judiciary in
5	collusion] within a [constitutional] republic, demanding for itself the rights and [FRANCHISE] privileges
6	[including immunity from prosecution for their wrongdoing in violation of Article 1, Section 9, Clause 8 of the
7	Constitution ] accorded to political parties, but denying to all others the liberties [Bill of Rights] guaranteed by
8	the Constitution [Form #10.002]. Unlike political parties, which evolve their policies and programs through
9	public means, by the reconciliation of a wide variety of individual views, and submit those policies and programs
10	to the electorate at large for approval or disapproval, the policies and programs of the Communist Party are
11	secretly [by corrupt judges and the IRS in complete disregard of, Form #05.014, the tax franchise "codes",
12	Form #05.001] prescribed for it by the foreign leaders of the world Communist movement [the IRS and Federal
13	Reserve]. Its members [the Congress, which was terrorized to do IRS bidding by the framing of Congressman
14	Traficant have no part in determining its goals, and are not permitted to voice dissent to party objectives. Unlike
15	members of political parties, members of the Communist Party are recruited for indoctrination [in the public
16	FOOL system by homosexuals, liberals, and socialists] with respect to its objectives and methods, and are
17	organized, instructed, and disciplined [by the IRS and a corrupted judiciary] to carry into action slavishly the
18	assignments given them by their hierarchical chieftains. Unlike political parties, the Communist Party [thanks
19	to a corrupted federal judiciary] acknowledges no constitutional or statutory limitations upon its conduct or
20	upon that of its members [ANARCHISTS!, Form #08.020]. The Communist Party is relatively small
21	numerically, and gives scant indication of capacity ever to attain its ends by lawful political means. The peril
22	inherent in its operation arises not from its numbers, but from its failure to acknowledge any limitation as to
23	the nature of its activities, and its dedication to the proposition that the present constitutional Government of
24	the United States ultimately must be brought to ruin by any available means, including resort to force and
25	violence [or using income taxes]. Holding that doctrine, its role as the agency of a hostile foreign power [the
26	Federal Reserve and the American Bar Association (ABA)] renders its existence a clear present and continuing
27	danger to the security of the United States. It is the means whereby individuals are seduced fillegally
28	KIDNAPPED via identity theft!, Form #05.046] into the service of the world Communist movement [using
29	FALSE information returns and other PERJURIOUS government forms, Form #04.0011, trained to do its

31	accuracy of, Form #05.007], and directed and controlled [using FRANCHISES illegally enforced upon
32	NONRESIDENTS, Form #05.030] in the conspiratorial performance of their revolutionary services.
33	Therefore, the Communist Party should be outlawed

2	a.	"Tr	easury Order 150-10 (See ¶ 31) extends the Secretary's authority to the Commissioner."
3		i.	This Treasury Order does not prove "expressly" delegated authority for Secretary;
4 5 6		ii.	This is a general delegation of authority which merely addresses "WHAT" the Commissioner can do and does not address "WHERE" the Commissioner can exercise the Secretary's authority pursuant to 4 U.S.C. §72;
7		iii.	Nothing in TDO 150-10 "expressly" extends the authority of the Commissioner to the several states;
8 9 10 11		iv.	This Treasury Order has not been published in the Federal Register pursuant to 44 U.S.C. §1505 and 5 U.S.C. §553. By his ruling in 1953, <sup>6</sup> the Secretary required all IRS divisions or units to publish in the Federal Register any item of concern to the American public. This was even more clearly stated in 1955 <sup>7</sup> as follows:
12 13 14 15			"It shall be the policy to publish for public information all statements of practices and procedure issued primarily for internal use, and, hence, appearing in internal management documents, which affect rights or duties of taxpayers or other members of the public under the Internal Revenue Code and related statutes." ( Emphasis added )
16 17		v.	Since TDO 150-10 has not been published in the Federal Register, it is not applicable to the people in the several states; and
18		vi.	Therefore, citing TDO 150-10 is non-responsive to the mandates of 4 U.S.C. §72.
19 20 21 22 23	b.	cha auth 26 l	. Attorneys have cited Hughes v. U.S. , 953 F.2d. 531, 542-43 (9th Cir. 1991) in response to the jurisdictional llenges regarding the Secretary. The Hughes ruling claims that 4 U.S.C. §72 does not foreclose the IRS nority outside the District of Columbia. The only reason given by the Hughes Court is that the President in U.S.C. §7621 is authorized to establish internal revenue districts outside Washington, D.C. <sup>8</sup> This argument is every aspect of the 4 U.S.C. §72 litmus test as follows:
24 25 26 27 28		i.	Establishing internal revenue districts outside Washington, D.C. does not have the same effect in law as establishing internal revenue districts within the several states ; especially in light of 4 U.S.C. §72. It has already been cited supra that Congress has granted the Secretary leave, to leave Washington, D.C. and enter The Virgin Islands, Guam and the Northern Marianas. The question still remains whether a leave to enter the several states was "expressly" granted by Congress;
29 30 31 32		ii.	4 U.S.C. §72 mandates that ALL offices associated with the seat of government shall be "expressly" authorized by Congress in United States law in order to have jurisdiction and act within the several states. Authorizing the office of President in 26 U.S.C. §7621 does not "expressly" authorize the office of Secretary when the Secretary is not even mentioned in §7621;
33 34 35		iii.	The term ALL OFFICES, whether defined or not, includes all offices associated with the seat of government. If this refers to buildings, then ALL BUILDINGS are to be in "the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere" unless Congress "expressly" provides otherwise in United States law.
36 37 38 39		iv.	It is unlikely that Congress intended that the term "offices" would refer to buildings since buildings cannot exercise anything. Only people can exercise the authority vested with a particular office and it is the authority of said offices which must be "exercised" only within the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere, except as expressly granted;
40 41		v.	With few exceptions, it is the Secretary who is authorized by Congress to write all needful rules and regulations for the administration and enforcement of Title 26 (See 26 U.S.C. §§ 7801, 7805). Therefore

	1 2			it is not the office of the President, but the office of the Secretary which must by law be granted "express" leave by Congress to act within the several states.
	3 4 5		vi.	The Hughes Court implies in error that 26 U.S.C. §7621 is the "expressly" stated grant of leave issued by Congress as required under 4 U.S.C. §72, claiming that the office of the President is somehow the same as the office of the Secretary.
:	6 7 8 9		vii.	The term "State" as used in 26 U.S.C. §7621 includes "the District of Columbia" (see 26 U.S.C. $(10)^9$ ). How can "State" be construed to include one of the several states when clearly a definition cannot "expressly" extend the office of Secretary to the several states. Furthermore, the several states are not even mentioned in the meaning of "State" as used in §7621 (see § 7701(a)(10)).
10 1 12 12 14	1 2 3		viii.	Any "definition" or "term" is a limitation upon the term defined and it excludes what is not specifically included (See Black's Law Dictionary, 6th Edition for "Definition" and "Term"). Without rebuttal to the contrary, Congress has limited the Secretary's authority to "the District of Columbia," the Virgin Islands, Guam and the Northern Marianas (see $\P$ 5 supra ), never having "expressly" granted the Secretary the statutory leave to exercise authority in the several states.
1: 10 17 13	6 7		ix.	Moreover, there is no evidence in the Hughes case or in any other case to prove that any President has in fact established said internal revenue districts within the several states <sup>10</sup> . There is evidence that " customs districts " were established - but none that the President established internal revenue districts in the several states.
19 20 2	0		x.	If one argues that the President has authorized the Secretary to create internal revenue districts, then what evidence exists that the Secretary has, by treasury order or regulation, created internal revenue districts within the several states?
2: 2: 2:	3		xi.	If no internal revenue districts have been established in the several states by the President or even by the Secretary, then out of which internal revenue districts does the Secretary administer and enforce internal revenue laws within the several states?
2	5	c.	Sev	eral Court rulings have stated that the IRS can exercise its authority outside the District of Columbia.
20 21 21	7		i.	Every court case cited by any U.S. Attorney is off-point because 4 U.S.C. §72 states that any "expressly" granted exceptions from "the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere" as mandated, are to be found in the United States written law and NOT in the Courts.
2: 3: 3	0			"Official powers cannot be extended beyond the terms and necessary implications of the grant. If broader powers be desirable, they must be conferred by Congress ." [Federal Trade Commission v. Raladam Co., 283 U.S. 643, 51 S.Ct. 587 (1931)(Emphasis added)]
3: 3: 3:	3			Generally, the cases cited by U.S. Attorneys have dealt with WHAT the Secretary can do and not WHERE he can do it. 4 U.S.C. §72 establishes the geographical location WHERE the Secretary can exercise authority, and nothing else.
3: 3: 3	6		iii.	Unless one can present the law which "expressly" extends the authority of the Secretary to the several states, said authority may only be exercised within the geographical areas "expressly" authorized by Congress in law (See $\P$ 5 supra );
3	8		iv.	Therefore citing court rulings is an irrelevant and non-responsive argument.
3: 4( 4) 4)	D 1	d.	that mist	ges have attempted to protect U.S. Attorneys and the government by stating on the record and in court orders "the defendant is arguing that the Secretary cannot leave the District of Columbia." Such statement is a representation of the argument which has always been that the Secretary has not been "expressly" granted by Congress through United States law to enter the several states. It has been shown supra that the

&lt;sup>10</sup> In 1998, via Executive Order ("E.O.") #10289, as amended, President William J. Clinton authorized the Secretary to establish revenue districts under authority of 26 U.S.C. §7621. Although § 7621 is not listed in the Parallel Table of Authorities and Rules, E.O. #10289 is listed. The implementing regulations for said Executive Order are found in 19 C.F.R. Part 101. Said regulation establishes "customs collection offices" in each of the several states; it does not establish "internal revenue districts". A note at 26 C.F.R. §301.7621-1 confirms that E.O. #10289 is the only authority for establishing revenue districts.

Neither the Courts nor the Secretary and his delegates can enforce internal revenue laws he several states without the Secretary having an "expressly" granted authority. To do so would be a denial of ections guaranteed by United States law - 4 U.S.C. §72 and 26 U.S.C. §7803(b)(1) (1994) (re-codified as 26 §7804(b)(1)) - to not be bothered by the government (See 18 U.S.C. §242) and, if said right is denied or ignored e than two officers of the United States, such denial constitutes a denial of rights per 18 U.S.C. §241.

33 34		c.	TDO 150-104 of January 24, 1985, Designation of Internal Regions and Regional Service Centers, at paragraph 4. U.S. Territories and Insular Possessions:
35 36 37 38			"The Commissioner, Internal Revenue Service shall, to the extent of authority otherwise vested in him, provide for the administration of the United States Internal Revenue laws in the U.S. Territories and insular possessions and other authorized areas of the world." (Emphasis added) [TDO 150-104]
39 40		d.	Then, in February 27, 1986, the Secretary delegated additional authority to the Commissioner in TDO 150-01 51 Fed. Reg. 9571 on Page 9573, it states:
41 42 43			"the Commissioner shall, to the extent of authority otherwise vested in him, provide for the administration of the United States Internal Revenue laws in the " U.S. Territories and insular possessions and other authorized areas of the world." (Emphasis added)
44 45		e.	TDO 150-01 dated October 27, 1987 at Paragraph 5: U.S. Territories and Insular Possessions " is identical to TDO 150-01 of Feb. 27, 1986.

1 2		f. TDO 150-01 dated September 28, 1995, at Paragraph 3. U.S. Territories and Insular Possessions " is identical to TDO 150-01 of October 27, 1987.
3 4 5 6 7		"The Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall, to the extent of authority vested in the Commissioner, provide for the administration of the United States internal revenue laws in the U.S. territories and insular possessions and other areas of the world [again, areas "expressly" authorized by Congress and by other delegations of authority]." (Emphasis added) [TDO 150-01]
8	31.	In TDO 150-10 the Secretary delegates his authority to the Commissioner as follows:
9 10		"1. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall be responsible for the administration and enforcement of the Internal Revenue laws."
11 12 13 14 15		While the loose and general language in TDO 150-10 may mislead one to think that the Commissioner now has authority to administer and enforce internal revenue law without any geographical limitations, 4 U.S.C. §72, still restricts said authority to those areas "expressly" authorized by Congress in United States law (i.e., The District of Columbia, The Virgin Islands, Guam and the Northern Marianas, etc.). [TDO 150-10]
16 17	32.	It must also be noted that the cancellation of TDO 150-01 by TDO 150-02 decommissioned the districts in the several states and located the 13 offices created by TDO 150-02 within the District of Columbia.
18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26	33.	In short, when districts existed within the several states, the Commissioner was authorized by the Secretary to act only within the District of Columbia and within the Panama Canal Zone, Puerto Rico the Virgin Islands, U.S. territories and insular possessions. When the districts are decommissioned in the several states, the commissioner is given a general authority to act on behalf of the Secretary. By this action, one can only conclude that 4 U.S.C. §72 now becomes the limiting factor since Congress has not "expressly" extended the authority of the Secretary to the several states, and the Secretary therefore can only extend his authority granted by Congress to the Commissioner and other delegates in TDO 150-10 to the same geographical areas in which Congress has authorized the Secretary to enter (i.e., the District of Columbia, the Virgin Islands, Guam and the Northern Marianas pursuant to 4 U.S.C. §72, 48 U.S.C. §§ 1612(a), 1397, 1421i, 1801 (citing Northern Marianas Covenant § 601), respectively).
27 28 29 30 31 32 33	34.	Since the Secretary knows how to, and has on previous occasions "expressly" granted authority to the Commissioner in accordance with the mandates of 4 U.S.C. §72, for specific areas outside "the District of Columbia" — namely "Panama Canal Zone", "Puerto Rico", "the Virgin Islands" and "U.S. territories and insular possessions" — it is reasonable to expect the Secretary to follow the same lawful protocol and mandates of 4 U.S.C. §72 and "expressly" grant the Commissioner the authority to administer and enforce internal revenue law outside "the District of Columbia" to geographical areas over which the Secretary was granted express authority, and to further delegate it to the Commissioner and his Delegates
34 35	35.	In order to properly address this jurisdictional challenge, it is necessary to provide the Act of Congress which "expressly" extends the authority of the Secretary to the several states.
36 37 38 39	36.	In light of the above there is no excuse for the Courts and Agencies NOT to presume that the authority of the Secretary, the Commissioner and the IRS is limited and restricted to "the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere" when there is no evidence that Congress has "expressly" extended the authority of the Secretary in United States law to the several states.
40 41 42 43 44	37.	In the confirmation hearings of Supreme Court Justices John G. Roberts, Jr. and Samuel Anthony Alito, Jr., it was reiterated numerous times that this country operates under the rule of law and that it is the intent of Congress expressed in said law, not the arbitrary decisions of a Court, that must dictate the outcome of cases. Thus the rule of law mandates that pursuant to 4 U.S.C. ?2, no office attached to the seat of government can exercise authority outside "the District of Columbia", unless Congress "expressly" extends said authority as shown in ¶ 5 supra .
45	38.	In footnote 16 of a 1980 case, U.S. v. Will, 449 U.S. 200, the court states:
46 47 48		" We have no more right to decline the exercise of jurisdiction which is given, than to usurp that which is not given. The one or the other would be treason to the constitution . Questions may occur which we would gladly avoid; but we cannot avoid them." Id., at 404 (Emphasis added)
49	39.	In the context of this jurisdictional challenge one must consider 4 U.S.C. §73 which states:

"In case of the prevalence of a contagious or epidemic disease at the seat of government, the President may permit and direct the removal of any or all the public offices to such other place or places as he shall deem most safe and convenient for conducting the public business."

- 4 40. Is 4 U.S.C. §73 a Congressional grant of authority to the President to remove any or all public offices to places outside the United States (i.e. other countries)? Or is this a grant to remove offices of the government from "the District of Columbia" and to exercise said offices within the surrounding several states which have not been affected by said epidemic disease?
- 41. If 4 U.S.C. §72 does not indeed require "expressly" granted authority for offices attached to the seat of government to be exercised within the several states, then why did Congress make such specific grant to the President in 4 U.S.C. §73?
   Clearly, nobody would argue that the President was authorized to take our government to another country and therefore it had to be "expressly" granted in 4 U.S.C. §73. Such argument would be absurd.

1	4.2	Interrogatories
2 3 4	Q1.	Does 4 U.S.C. §72 restrict the office of the Secretary to "the District of Columbia" if said office is not "expressly" authorized by Congress to act in specific geographical areas outside "the District of Columbia" over which Congress has jurisdiction?
5		DEFAULT ANSWER: Yes.
6 7	Q2.	What United States law did Congress enact pursuant to 4 U.S.C. §72 to "expressly" extend the authority for the office of the Secretary to administer and enforce internal revenue laws within the several states?
8		DEFAULT ANSWER: None.
9	Q3.	Since the definition of "expressly" from Black's Law Dictionary, 6 th Ed. is as follows:
10 11 12 13		"In an express manner; in direct and unmistakable terms; explicitly ; definitely ; directly . St. Louis Union Trust Co. v. Hill, 336 Mo. 17, 76 S.W.2d. 685, 689. The opposite of impliedly . Bolles v. Toledo Trust Co., 144 Ohio.St. 195, 58 N.E.2d. 381, 396." (Emphasis added). [Black's Law Dictionary, 6 th Ed.]
14 15		Does 26 U.S.C. §7621 qualify as an "expressly" granted authority to the Secretary to act in areas within the several states or does §7621 at best present only an "impliedly" granted authority ("the opposite of expressly")?
16		DEFAULT ANSWER: No. It presents no implied authority
17	Q4.	Is IRS enforcement authority limited to enforcing ONLY in Internal Revenue Districts?
18		26 U.S. Code § 7601 - Canvass of districts for taxable persons and objects
19		(a)GENERAL RULE
20 21 22 23		The Secretary shall, to the extent he deems it practicable, cause officers or employees of the Treasury Department to proceed, from time to time, through each internal revenue district and inquire after and concerning all persons therein who may be liable to pay any internal revenue tax , and all persons owning or having the care and management of any objects with respect to which any tax is imposed.
24		(b)PENALTIES
25 26		For penalties applicable to forcible obstruction or hindrance of Treasury officers or employees in the performance of their duties, see section 7212.

30		26 U.S. Code § 7621 - Internal revenue districts
31		(a)ESTABLISHMENT AND ALTERATION
32 33		The President shall establish convenient internal revenue districts for the purpose of administering the internal revenue laws. The President may from time to time alter such districts.
34		(b)BOUNDARIES

4 Q6. If you don't have any evidence expressly identifying "State" as a constitutional state of the Union, then by what 5 constitutional authority can you add to the express definition of "State" above?

6	"Expressio unius est exclusio alterius. A maxim of statutory interpretation meaning that the expression of one
7 8	thing is the exclusion of another. Burgin v. Forbes, 293 Ky. 456, 169 S.W.2d. 321, 325; Newblock v. Bowles, 170 Okl. 487, 40 P.2d. 1097, 1100. Mention of one thing implies exclusion of another. When certain persons or
9	things are specified in a law, contract, or will, an intention to exclude all others from its operation may be
10	inferred. Under this maxim, if statute specifies one exception to a general rule or assumes to specify the effects
11	of a certain provision, other exceptions or effects are excluded."
12	[Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 581]
13	"When a statute includes an explicit definition, we must follow that definition, even if it varies from that term's
14	ordinary meaning. Meese v. Keene, 481 U.S. 465, 484-485 (1987) ("It is axiomatic that the statutory definition
15	of the term excludes unstated meanings of that term"); Colautti v. Franklin, 439 U.S. at 392-393, n. 10 ("As a rule, `a definition which declares what a term "means" excludes any meaning that is not stated"); Western
16 17	Union Telegraph Co. v. Lenroot, 323 U.S. 490, 502 (1945); Fox v. Standard Oil Co. of N.J., 294 U.S. 87, 95-96
18	(1935) (Cardozo, J.); see also 2A N. Singer, Sutherland on Statutes and Statutory Construction § 47.07, p. 152,
19	and n. 10 (5th ed. 1992) (collecting cases). That is to say, the statute, read "as a whole," post at 998 [530 U.S.
20	943] (THOMAS, J., dissenting), leads the reader to a definition. That definition does not include the Attorney
21 22	General's restriction "the child up to the head." Its words, "substantial portion," indicate the contrary." [Stenberg v. Carhart, 530 U.S. 914 (2000)]
23	DEFAULT ANSWER: There is no constitutional authority to add to statutory definitions. All attempts to do so are
24	a violation of the separation of powers doctrine, cause the judge to act as a legislator, and produce the following
25	consequences, according to the man that designed our three-system branch of government:
26	"When the legislative and executive powers are united in the same person, or in the same body of magistrates,
20	there can be no liberty; because apprehensions may arise, lest the same monarch or senate should enact tyrannical
28	laws, to execute them in a tyrannical manner.
29	Again, there is no liberty, if the judiciary power be not separated from the legislative and executive. Were it joined
30	with the legislative, the life and liberty of the subject would be exposed to arbitrary control; for the judge would
31	be then the legislator. Were it joined to the executive power, the judge might behave with violence and oppression
32	[sound familiar?].
33	There would be an end of everything, were the same man or the same body, whether of the nobles or of the people,
34 35	to exercise those three powers, that of enacting laws, that of executing the public resolutions, and of trying the causes of individuals."
36	[]
37	In what a situation must the poor subject be in those republics! The same body of magistrates are possessed, as
38	executors of the laws, of the whole power they have given themselves in quality of legislators. They may
39	plunder the state by their general determinations; and as they have likewise the judiciary power in their hands,
40 41	every private citizen may be ruined by their particular decisions." [The Spirit of Laws, Charles de Montesquieu, Book XI, Section 6, 1758;

43	Q7. Does 26 U.S.C. §7621 satisfy the following litmus tests of 4 U.S.C. §72:
44	a. "All offices" — the Secretary or just the President?
45	b. "shall" — is this mandatory?
46 47	c. "the District of Columbia, and not elsewhere" — is this a restriction to the geographical area of the District of Columbia?
48 49	<ul> <li>d. "expressly" — does an "implied" grant of authority to the President meet the "expressly" criteria of 4 U.S.C. §72?</li> </ul>
50	DEFAULT ANSWER: Yes.

- Q8. If one cites Hughes v. United States, 953 F.2d. 531, 542-43 (9th Cir. 1991) in response to inquiries regarding the jurisdictional authority of the Secretary in the several states, does the wording of 4 U.S.C. §72 support the conclusion of the Hughes Court which claims that "4 U.S.C. §72 does not foreclose [restrict] the authority of the IRS [Secretary] outside the District of Columbia?"
  - DEFAULT ANSWER: No.

- Q9. Is there anything in the English language that would support the conclusion of the Hughes Court especially when the IRS operates under the authority granted by Congress to the Secretary?
  - DEFAULT ANSWER: No.
- Q10. The only reason given by the Hughes Court for their rendition of 4 U.S.C. §72 is that the President is authorized to establish internal revenue districts outside Washington, D.C. Do you have a statutory definition of "State" that expressly includes anything OTHER than the District of Columbia, as identified in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(10)?
- 12 DEFAULT ANSWER: No.
- Q11. Since 4 U.S.C. §72 mandates that ALL offices be "expressly" authorized by law to act outside the District of Columbia, is "expressly" authorizing the office of the President also "expressly" authorizing the office of Secretary when neither Secretary nor the office is even mentioned in 26 U.S.C. §7621?
- 16 DEFAULT ANSWER: No.
- Q12. Can one rightly infer from the Hughes Court that 26 U.S.C. §7621 "expressly" extends the authority of the Secretary to the several states when §7621 does not even mention the several states and the term "State" is defined in 26 U.S.C.
   §7701(a)(10) to EXCLUDE everything but the District of Columbia?
- 20 DEFAULT ANSWER: No.
- Q13. Is the Hughes Court correct when it implies that 26 U.S.C. §7621 "expressly" extends the authority of the Secretary when §7621 only authorizes the office of the President to act, without any mention to the office of the Secretary?
- 23 DEFAULT ANSWER: No.
- Q14. With few exceptions, it is the office of Secretary which is authorized by Congress to write all needful rules and regulations for the administration and enforcement of internal revenue laws (See 26 U.S.C. §§7801, 7805). Therefore, is it specifically the office of Secretary which must acquire "express" permission from Congress to act within the several states pursuant to 4 U.S.C. §72?
- 28 DEFAULT ANSWER: Yes.
- Q15. The term "State" as used in 26 U.S.C. §7621 includes ONLY "the District of Columbia" (see 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(10))
   (See Footnote <sup>9</sup>). Even if "State" could be construed to include the several states by implication only, does this definition "expressly" extend the office of Secretary or does it allegedly extend the office of President?
- 32 DEFAULT ANSWER: No. It only extends to office of the President.
- Q16. Does §7621 "expressly" extend said enforcement authority to constitutional and not statutory "states" when the several states are not "expressly" mentioned in the definition of "State" as used in §7621 (see §7701(a)(10))?
- 35 DEFAULT ANSWER: No.
- Q17. Has the President in fact established said internal revenue districts in the constitutional rather than statutory states of the Union? If so, please produce evidence of same.
- 38 DEFAULT ANSWER: No. We have no evidence.
- Q18. Is there any evidence that the President established any other tax collection districts besides "customs districts" within the several states?
- 41 DEFAULT ANSWER: No.
- 42 Q19. Is there any Presidential Executive Order by which the President has established internal revenue districts within the 43 several states?
- 44 DEFAULT ANSWER: No.

- Q20. If one argues that the Secretary has been given the authority to create internal revenue districts, is there any evidence 1 on the record to prove that the Secretary has created internal revenue districts within the exclusive jurisdiction of 2 constitutional states of the Union pursuant to 4 U.S.C. §72, 26 U.S.C. §7621, Executive Order #10289 and/or 26 U.S.C. 3 §7803(b)(1) (1994) (re-codified as 26 U.S.C. §7804(b)(1))? 4

Q21. If one cannot prove that either the President or the Secretary has established internal revenue districts within the 6 Constitutional and not statutory "States", out of which non-existent internal revenue districts does the Secretary have 7 the authority to administer and enforce internal revenue laws? 8

DEFAULT ANSWER: There is no such remaining internal revenue district.

Q22. Explain the Secretary's authority within the several states in light of 4 U.S.C. §72 and the following: 10

11	"It is no longer open to question that the general [federal] government, unlike the states , Hammer v. Dagenhart,

49	4.	Admit that states cannot consent to the enlargement of federal powers within their borders.
50		"The people of the United States, by their Constitution, have affirmed a division of internal governmental powers
51		between the federal government and the governments of the several states-committing to the first its powers by
52		express grant and necessary implication; to the latter, or [301 U.S. 548, 611] to the people, by reservation, 'the
53		powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States.' The Constitution

	thus affirms the complete supremacy and independence of the state within the field of its powers. Carter v. Carter Coal Co., 298 U.S. 238, 295 , 56 S.Ct. 855, 865. The federal government has no more authority to invade that field than the state has to invade the exclusive field of national governmental powers; for, in the oft-repeated words of this court in Texas v. White, 7 Wall. 700, 725, 'the preservation of the States, and the maintenance of their governments, are as much within the design and care of the Constitution as the preservation of the Union and the maintenance of the National government. The necessity of preserving each from every form of illegitimate intrusion or interference on the part of the other is so imperative as to require this court, when its judicial power is properly invoked, to view with a careful and discriminating eye any legislation challenged as constituting such an intrusion or interference. See South Carolina v. United States, 199 U.S. 437, 448, 26 S.Ct. 110, 4 Ann.Cas. 737."
	The precise question, therefore, which we are required to answer by an application of these principles is whether the congressional act contemplates a surrender by the state to the federal government, in whole or in part, of any state governmental power to administer its own unemployment law or the state pay roll-tax funds which it has collected for the purposes of that law. An affirmative answer to this question, I think, must be made.
	I do not, of course, doubt the power of the state to select and utilize a depository for the safe-keeping of its funds; but it is quite another thing to agree with the selected depository that the funds shall be withdrawn for certain stipulated purposes, and for no other. Nor do I doubt the authority of the federal government and a state government to co- operate to a common end, pro-[301 U.S. 548, 612] vided each of them is authorized to reach it. But such co-operation must be effectuated by an exercise of the powers which they severally possess, and not by an exercise, through invasion or surrender, by one of them of the governmental power of the other.
	The force of what has been said is not broken by an acceptance of the view that the state is not coerced by the federal law. The effect of the dual distribution of powers is completely to deny to the states whatever is granted exclusively to the nation, and, conversely, to deny to the nation whatever is reserved exclusively to the states. The determination of the Framers Convention and the ratifying conventions to preserve complete and unimpaired state self-government in all matters not committed to the general government is one of the plainest facts which emerges from the history of their deliberations. And adherence to that determination is incumbent equally upon the federal government and the states. State powers can neither be appropriated on the one hand nor abdicated on the other.' Carter v. Carter Coal Co., supra, 298 U.S. 238, at page 295, 56 S.Ct. 855, 866. The purpose of the Constitution in that regard does not admit of doubt or qualification; and it can be thwarted no more by voluntary surrender from within than by invasion from without.
	Nor may the constitutional objection suggested be overcome by the expectation of public benefit resulting from the federal participation authorized by the act. Such expectation, if voiced in support of a proposed constitutional enactment, would be quite proper for the consideration of the legislative body. But, as we said in the Carter Case, supra, 298 U.S. 238, at page 291, 56 S.Ct. 855, 864, 'nothing is more certain than that beneficent aims, however great or well directed, can never serve in lieu of constitutional power.' Moreover, everything which the act seeks to do for the relief of unemployment might have been accomplished, as is done by this same act for the relief of the misfortunes of old age, with- [301 U.S. 548, 616] out obliging the state to surrender, or share with another government, any of its powers.
	If we are to survive as the United States, the balance between the powers of the nation and those of the states must be maintained. There is grave danger in permitting it to dip in either direction, danger-if there were no other-in the precedent thereby set for further departures from the equipoise. The threat implicit in the present encroachment upon the administrative functions of the states is that greater encroachments, and encroachments upon other functions, will follow. Admit that the only geographical place where rights guaranteed by the Constitution are NOT "Unalienable" is either on 9. federal territory or abroad where the Constitution does not apply. 8

> "Indeed, the practical interpretation put by Congress upon the Constitution has been long continued and uniform to the effect [182 U.S. 244, 279] that the Constitution is applicable to territories acquired by purchase or conquest, only when and so far as Congress shall so direct. Notwithstanding its duty to 'guarantee to every state in this Union a republican form of government' (art. 4, 4), by which we understand, according to the definition of Webster, 'a government in which the supreme power resides in the whole body of the people, and is exercised by representatives elected by them,' Congress did not hesitate, in the original organization of the territories of Louisiana, Florida, the Northwest Territory, and its subdivisions of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, and Wisconsin and still more recently in the case of Alaska, to establish a form of government bearing a much greater analogy to a British Crown colony than a republican state of America, and to vest the legislative power either in a governor and council, or a governor and judges, to be appointed by the President. It was not until they had attained a certain population that power was given them to organize a legislature by vote of the people. In all these cases, as well as in territories subsequently organized west of the Mississippi, Congress thought it necessary either to extend to Constitution and laws of the United States over them, or to declare that the inhabitants should be entitled to enjoy the right of trial by jury, of bail, and of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, as well as other privileges of the bill of rights. "Justice, as a moral habit, is that tendency of the will and mode of conduct which refrains from disturbing the lives and interests of others, and, as far as possible, hinders such interference on the part of others. This virtue springs from the individual's respect for his fellows as ends in themselves and as his co equals. The different spheres of interests may be roughly classified as follows: body and life; the family, or the extended individual life; property, or the totality of the instruments of action; honor, or the ideal existence; and finally freedom, or the possibility of fashioning one's life as an end in itself. The law defends these different spheres, thus giving rise to a corresponding number of spheres of rights, each being protected by a prohibition.... To violate the rights, to interfere with the interests of others, is injustice. All injustice is ultimately directed against the life of the neighbor; it is an open avowal that the latter is not an end in itself, having the same value as the individual's own life. The general formula of the duty of justice may therefore be stated as follows: Do no wrong yourself, and permit no wrong to be done, so far as lies in your power; or, expressed positively: Respect and protect the right." [Readings on the History and System of the Common Law, Second Edition, Roscoe Pound, 1925, p. 2]

"The makers of our Constitution undertook to secure conditions favorable to the pursuit of happiness. They recognized the significance of man's spiritual nature, of his feelings and of his intellect. They sought to protect Americans in their beliefs, their thoughts, their emotions and their sensations. They conferred, as against the Government, the right to be let alone - the most comprehensive of rights and the right most valued by civilized men.

International law	"United States*"	"These united States ," when traveling abroad, you come under the jurisdiction of the President through his agents in the U.S. State Department, where "U.S." refers to the sovereign society. You are a "Citizen of the United States" like someone is a Citizen of France, or England. We identify this version of "United States" with a single asterisk after its name: "United States*" throughout this article.
		2	"It may designate the territory over which the sovereignty of the United States extends, or"	Federal law Federal forms	"United States"	"The United States (the District of Columbia, possessions and territories)". Here Congress has exclusive legislative jurisdiction. In this sense, the term "United States" is a singular noun. You are a person residing in the District of Columbia, one of its Territories or Federal areas (enclaves). Hence, even a person living in the one of the sovereign States could still be a member of the Federal area and therefore a "citizen of the United States." This is the definition used in most "Acts of Congress" and federal statutes. We identify this version of "United States" with two asterisks after its name: "United States" throughout this article. This definition is also synonymous with the "United States" corporation found in 28 U.S.C. §3002(15)(A).
		3	"as the collective name for the states which are united by and under the Constitution."	Constitution of the United States	"United States"	"The several States which is the united States of America." Referring to the 50 sovereign States , which are united under the Constitution of the United States of America . The federal areas within these states are not included in this definition because the Congress does not have exclusive legislative authority over any of the 50 sovereign States within the Union of States. Rights are retained by the States in the 9th and 10th Amendments, and you are a " Citizen of these united States ." This is the definition used in the Constitution for the United States of America. We identify this version of "United States" with three asterisks after its name: "United States" throughout this article.

1.	Admit that Congress has jurisdiction over its own property regardless of where it is physically located, and including in a Constitutional state:
	United States Constitution
	Article 4, Section 3
	The Congress shall have Power to dispose of and make all needful Rules and Regulations respecting the Territory or other Property belonging to the United States; and nothing in this Constitution shall be so construed as to Prejudice any Claims of the United States, or of any particular State.
	"The Constitution permits Congress to dispose of and to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States. This power applies as well to territory belonging to the United States, as beyond them. It comprehends all the public domain, wherever it may be. The argument is, that 510*510 the power to make "ALL needful rules and regulations" "is a power of legislation," "a full legislative power;" "that it includes all subjects of legislation in the territory," and is without any limitations, except the positive prohibitions which affect all the powers of Congress. Congress may then regulate or prohibit slavery upon the public domain within the new States, and such a prohibition would permanently affect the capacity of a slave, whose master might carry him to it. And why not? Because no power has been conferred on Congress. This is a conclusion universally admitted. But the power to "make rules and regulations respecting the territory" is not restrained by State lines, nor are there any constitutional prohibitions upon its exercise in the domain of the United States within the States; and whatever rules and regulations respecting territory Congress may constitutionally make are supreme, and are not dependent on the situs of "the territory."" ## 5 Criminal consequences suffered by all judges and public officers who REFUSE to address the issues in this document

Any and all public servants who omit, avoid, or fail to answer or deal with the jurisdictional issues raised in this document rate highly susceptible to DEFINITE, SEVERE criminal consequences. Those consequences and the CRIMINAL DURESS they institute against the submitter of this document are described in the following document incorporated herein by reference:

<sup>23</sup> 6 Admissibility of this document into evidence in any and all litigation <sup>24</sup> relating to the submitter

Because this document establishes the FACT that the submitter is illegally being compelled to assume the duties and obligations of a public office that he or she does not consent to fill and cannot fill, then:

- Under the Public Records Exception of the Hearsay Rule, Federal Rule of Evidence 803(8), this document is admissible.
- Any attempt to interfere with the admission of this evidence into the proceeding or to deprive the jury of access to it by the judge shall constitute the following CRIMES
  - 2.1. Obstruction of justice.

31

A violation of 28 U.S.C. §144 and 455 and 18 U.S.C. §208, where the judge interfering with said admission of evidence has a criminal financial conflict of interest.

The court WILL NOT be allowed to impute a DE FACTO office to the Submitter and at the same time INTERFERE with exercising ALL the "benefits" of said office at least long enough to prove that it is NOT lawfully exercised. A public office that is not lawfully exercised is called a de facto office and the person filling it is a de facto officer under the De Facto Officer 1

Doctrine. The illegal and unconstitutional CREATION or perpetuation of said office is exhaustively described in the 2

following documents incorporated herein by reference: 3

- 1. Proof That There is a "Straw Man", Form #05.042 4 https://sedm.org/Forms/05-MemLaw/StrawMan.pdf 5

7 What this document is NOT 8

This document is NOT a request for legal advice of any kind. It merely demands that you obey the law. You can't OBEY 9 that law without READING and interpreting it. In fact, public officers working inside the government are the only ones who 10 can and even MUST interpret, obey, and enforce the law and when they cease to do this, they commit TREASON: 11

"A private person cannot make constitutions or laws, nor can he with authority construe them, nor can he 12 administer or execute them." 13 [United States v. Harris, 106 U.S. 629, 1 S.Ct. 601, 27 L.Ed. 290 (1883)] 14

You can't do your job and stay within the limits of your statutory authority WITHOUT reading and interpreting ALL of the 15 written law. This is an unavoidable consequence of the fact that we are a "society of laws and NOT men".<sup>12</sup> That means 16 you SHOULD: 17

1. Know what REAL law is in a classical sense: 18 What is "law"?, Form #05.030 https://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm Be regularly reading and learning the law. 2. 19 Liberty University, SEDM

https://sedm.org/LibertyU/LibertyU.htm

Not be asking another employee or ANY man about what you should do or even CAN do in this circumstance. 3. 20

Not follow agency policy or procedures. 4. 21

I remind you that the courts have repeatedly and consistently held that you cannot trust what ANYONE in the government 22 says or anything the government writes or publishes: 23

Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability, Form #05.007 https://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm

The ONLY basis for reasonable belief about what the law requires in this case is YOUR OWN reading of the law. 24

25	" No man in this country is so high that he is above the law . No officer of the law may set that law at defiance
26	with impunity. All the officers of the government, from the highest to the lowest, are creatures of the law and are
27	bound to obey it. It is the only supreme power in our system of government, and every man who by accepting
28	office participates in its functions is only the more strongly bound to submit to that supremacy, and to observe
29	the limitations which it imposes upon the exercise of the authority which it gives," 106 U.S., at 220. "Shall it be
30	said that the courts cannot give remedy when the Citizen has been deprived of his property by force, his estate
31	seized and converted to the use of the government without any lawful authority, without any process of law, and
32	without any compensation, because the president has ordered it and his officers are in possession? If such be
33	the law of this country, it sanctions a tyranny which has no existence in the monarchies of Europe, nor in any
34	other government which has a just claim to well-regulated liberty and the protection of personal rights," 106
35	U.S., at 220, 221.

Rather, this document: 38

1	1.	Acknowledges that YOU, the Recipient are the moving party in this enforcement action or solicitation.
2	2.	DEMANDS that you satisfy your burden of proof with court admissible evidence or to discontinue permanently our
3	_	interactions.
4	3.	Acknowledges that it is NOT my responsibility to respond to a mere BELIEF on your part, whether that BELIEF
5		derives from untrustworthy government publications or another equally untrustworthy man. The courts have
6		repeatedly held that all government publications, all statements by government actors are UNTRUSTWORTHY and
7		therefore devolve to a mere "belief" akin to a religion. See:
		Reasonable Belief About Income Tax Liability, Form #05.007
		https://sedm.org/Forms/05-MemLaw/ReasonableBelief.pdf
8		Since the government cannot use such "beliefs" to create a religion without violating the First Amendment, then it
9		can't in effect FORCE me to obey whatever that belief is. If I can't force the GOVERNMENT to act on MY religious belief, then THEY can't establish or especially ENFORCE their own flavor of religion with THEIR beliefs or 10		presumptions against me EITHER. <sup>13</sup>
11		presumptions against me ETTTER.
12		Never to our knowledge has the Court interpreted the First Amendment to require the Government itself to
13		behave in ways that the individual believes will further his or her spiritual development or that of his or her
14		family. The Free Exercise Clause simply cannot be understood to require the Government to conduct its own
15		internal affairs in ways that comport with the religious beliefs of particular citizens. Just as the Government
16		may not insist that appellees engage in [476 U.S. 693, 700] any set form of religious observance, so appellees
17 18		may not demand that the Government join in their chosen religious practices by refraining from using a number to identify their daughter. "[T]he Free Exercise Clause is written in terms of what the government cannot do to
19		the individual, not in terms of what the individual can extract from the government." Sherbert v. Verner, 374 U.S.
20		398, 412 ( 1963) (Douglas, J., concurring).
21 22		As a result, Roy may no more prevail on his religious objection to the Government's use of a Social Security number for his daughter than he could on a sincere religious objection to the size or color of the Government's
22		filing cabinets. The Free Exercise Clause affords an individual protection from certain forms of governmental
24		compulsion; it does not afford an individual a right to dictate the conduct of the Government's internal
25		procedures."
26		[Bowen v. Roy, 476 U.S. 693 (1986)]
27		This document therefore establishes that attempts to ENFORCE your belief without supporting evidence provided
28		directly to me and signed under penalty of perjury with the real legal name of a government witness is nothing more
29		than a violation of the above and hence, a PRIVATE commercial transaction that I am billing you for. Anything NOT
30		so signed under penalty of perjury will be treated as a NON-RESPONSE and a mere "belief" rather than a court
31		admissible FACT that is actionable to me. Every time I want you to do something, I have to sign under penalty of 32		perjury. I expect the same measure of accountability from you as you impose on me. If you refuse that accountability, you are a hypocrite, and elitist, and an economic terrorist in violation of Constitution Article 4, Section 4.

40		5.1. Making yourself subject to the Uniform Commercial Code.
41		5.2. Approaching me as a Buyer (U.C.C. §2-103(1)(a)) of my absolutely owned private property.
42		5.3. The party to an acceptance of my terms as the Merchant (U.C.C. §2-104(1)) offering use or control but not

- 6. Destroys any possibility of creating or enforcing IMPLIED CONSENT to anything you are offering in the context of our interactions. Since all JUST authority of government derives from the CONSENT of those "governed" according to the Declaration of Independence, then that makes this interaction UNJUST and tort.
  - 7. Identifies your enforcement presentment or correspondence as:
    - 7.1. Based upon inadmissible presumption and belief rather than facts. Federal Rule of Evidence 610 and/or
      - 7.2. Without evidentiary foundation and/or . . .
      - 7.3. Based on knowingly false information that you already agree is false or inapplicable by your failure to deny, in satisfaction of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 8(b)(6)... and/or
      - 7.4. Malicious, because you have been presented with legally admissible evidence that your actions are illegal or unconstitutional and yet continue to tortiously proceed anyway.
  - 8. Creates an equitable estoppel against further administrative or judicial enforcement action.
- Destroys any possibility of "mens rea" on me, the Submitter, should criminal proceedings be undertaken related to our future interactions.

This document also does NOT advocate any of the following flawed arguments, so don't proceed further with these false arguments to answer or presume issues that are NOT advocated or presented herein as a red herring:

1. That anyone other than statutory "withholding agents" are liable for I.R.C. Subtitles A and C income taxes. In fact, the 17 only parties EXPRESSLY made liable for income tax are withholding agents under 26 U.S.C. §1461. Everyone ELSE 18 is, by implication, a volunteer and not a statutory "taxpayer". They can only be made liable AFTER they voluntarily 19 consent to assume the duties of a withholding agent, just as any indirect excise requires, and to consent to do so in a 20 physical place where they are legally allowed to alienate otherwise inalienable rights, such as abroad or on federal 21 territory but not in a constitutional state:

26 U.S. Code § 1461 - Liability for withheld tax

Every person required to deduct and withhold any tax under this chapter is hereby made liable for such tax and is hereby indemnified against the claims and demands of any person for the amount of any payments made in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

"Tax' is legal imposition, exclusively of statutory origin, and liability to taxation must be read in statute, or it does not exist." [Bente v. Bugbee, 137 A. 552; 103 N.J. Law. 608 (1927)]

- "The taxpayer must be liable for the tax. Tax liability is a condition precedent to the demand. Merely demanding payment, even repeatedly, does not cause liability." [Bothke v. Terry, 713 F.2d. 1405, at 1414 (1983)]
- That the United States government has no legislative jurisdiction outside of federal territory or outside the District of Columbia. Instead:

2.1. The government has legislative jurisdiction over its own property WHEREVER it is found under Article 4, Section 4 of the Constitution.

"The Constitution permits Congress to dispose of and to make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property belonging to the United States. This power applies as well to territory belonging to the United States within the States, as beyond them. It comprehends all the public domain, wherever it may be. The argument is, that the power to make 'ALL needful rules and regulations' 'is a power of legislation,' 'a full legislative power;' that it includes all subjects of legislation in the territory, 'and is without any limitations, except the positive prohibitions which affect all the powers of Congress. Congress may then regulate or prohibit slavery upon the public domain within the new States, and such a prohibition would permanently affect the capacity of a slave, whose master might carry him to it. And why not? Because no power has been conferred on Congress. This is a conclusion universally admitted. But the power to 'make rules and regulations respecting the territory' is not restrained by State lines, nor are there any constitutional prohibitions upon its exercise in the domain of the United States within the States; and whatever rules and regulations respecting territory Congress may constitutionally make are supreme, and are not dependent on the situs of 'the territory."" [Dred Scott v. Sandford, 60 U.S. 393, 509-510 (1856)]

2.2. The government has jurisdiction over its own OFFICERS wherever they are found, PROVIDED that such jurisdiction is EXPRESSLY authorized as required by 4 U.S.C. §72.

"It is true, that the person who accepts an office may be supposed to enter into a compact to be answerable to the government, which he serves, for any violation of his duty; and, having taken the oath of office, he would unquestionably be liable, in such case, to a prosecution for perjury in the Federal Courts. But because one man, by his own act [CONSENT], renders himself amenable to a particular jurisdiction, shall another man, who has not incurred a similar obligation, be implicated? If, in other words, it is sufficient to vest a jurisdiction in this court, that a Federal Officer is concerned; if it is a sufficient proof of a case arising under a law of the United States to affect other persons, that such officer is bound, by law, to discharge his duty with fidelity; a source of jurisdiction is opened, which must inevitably overflow and destroy all the barriers between the judicial authorities of the State and the general government. Anything which can prevent a Federal Officer from the punctual, as well as from an impartial, performance of his duty; an assault and battery; or the recovery of a debt, as well as the offer of a bribe, may be made a foundation of the jurisdiction of this court; and, considering the constant disposition of power to extend the sphere of its influence, fictions will be resorted to, when real cases cease to occur. A mere fiction, that the defendant is in the custody of the marshall, has rendered the jurisdiction of the King's Bench universal in all personal actions.'' [United States v. Worrall, 2 U.S. 384 (1798)

- 2.3. The government has jurisdiction over all of the powers expressly granted to it under Article 1, Section 8 of the United States Constitution.
  - 2.4. The Sixteenth Amendment created NO new powers of taxation within states of the union and therefore did not add to the powers expressly listed in Article 1, Section 8 of the Constitution.

"The contention is that as the tax here imposed is not on the net product but in a sense somewhat equivalent to a tax on the gross product of the working of the mine by the corporation, therefore the tax is not within the purview of the Sixteenth Amendment and consequently it must be treated as a direct tax on property because of its ownership and as such void for want of apportionment. But aside from the obvious error of the proposition intrinsically considered, it manifestly disregards the fact that by the previous ruling it was settled that the provisions of the Sixteenth Amendment conferred no new power of taxation but simply prohibited the previous complete and plenary power of income taxation possessed by Congress from the beginning from being taken out of the category of indirect taxation to which it inherently belonged" [Stanton v. Baltic Mining Co., 240 U.S. 103 (1916)]

A franchise tax upon public offices is the only type of tax that can or does satisfy the reason the amendment was passed. A tax that only applies to those exercising the public office franchise, defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) as "the functions of a public office" is in fact an indirect excise tax and a franchise tax limited to those in government. Those serving in said offices are not tied to a specific geographical place, as the U.S. Supreme Court said that it MUST limit itself to in the following. Note the language "wherever the GOVERNMENT extends", not wherever the GEOGRAPHY extends". The only way the tax could be "without limitation as to place" is to place the tax on an activity and to regard "United States" as a corporation as the LEGAL and not PHYSICAL place within which the activity is conducted.

"Loughborough v. Blake, 5 Wheat. 317, 5 L.Ed. 98, was an action of trespass or, as appears by the original record, replevin, brought in the circuit court for the District of Columbia to try the right of Congress to impose a direct tax for general purposes on that District. 3 Stat. at L. 216, chap. 60. It was insisted that Congress could act in a double capacity: in one as legislating [182 U.S. 244, 260] for the states; in the other as a local legislature for the District of Columbia. In the latter character, it was admitted that the power of levying direct taxes might be exercised, but for District purposes only, as a state legislature might tax for state purposes; but that it could not legislate for the District under art. 1, 8, giving to Congress the power 'to lay and collect taxes, imposts, and excises, ' which 'shall be uniform throughout the United States,' inasmuch as the District was no part of the United States [described in the Constitution]. It was held that the grant of this power was a general one without limitation as to place, and consequently extended to all places over which the government extends; and that it extended to the District of Columbia as a constituent part of the United States. The fact that art. 1, 2, declares that 'representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several states . . . according to their respective numbers' furnished a standard by which taxes were apportioned, but not to exempt any part of the country from their operation. 'The words used do not mean that direct taxes shall be imposed on states only which are represented, or shall be apportioned to representatives; but that direct taxation, in its application to states, shall be apportioned to numbers.' That art. 1, 9, 4, declaring that direct taxes shall be laid in proportion to the census, was applicable to the District of Columbia, 'and will enable Congress to apportion on it its just and equal share of the burden, with the same accuracy as on the respective states. If the tax be laid in this proportion, it is within the very words of the restriction. It is a tax in proportion to the census or enumeration referred to.' It was further held that the words of the 9th section did not 'in terms require that the system of direct taxation, when resorted to, shall be extended to the territories, as the words of the 2d section require that it shall be extended to all the states. They therefore may, without violence, be understood to give a rule when the territories shall be taxed, without imposing the necessity of taxing them.' [Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901)]

2.5. Whatever legislative jurisdiction it wishes to exercise beyond the above MUST be demonstrated with evidence BEFORE enforcement is attempted and if it isn't it becomes a constitutional TORT.

"Every State or nation possesses an exclusive sovereignty and jurisdiction within her own territory, and her laws affect and bind all property and persons residing within it. It may regulate the manner and circumstances under which property is held, and the condition, capacity, and state of all persons therein, and also the remedy and modes of administering justice. And it is equally true that no State or nation can affect or bind property out of its territory, or persons not residing [domiciled] within it. No State therefore can enact laws to operate beyond its own dominions, and if it attempts to do so, it may be lawfully refused obedience. Such laws can have no inherent authority extraterritorially. This is the necessary result of the independence of distinct and separate sovereignties.

"Now it follows from these principles that whatever force or effect the laws of one State or nation may have in the territories of another must depend solely upon the laws and municipal regulations of the latter, upon its own jurisprudence and polity, and upon its own express or tacit consent. [Dred Scott v. John F.A. Sanford, 60 U.S. 393 (1856)]

- That the ability to enforce the I.R.C. Subtitles A and C is limited to the District of Columbia in the case of human 3. 15 beings. Instead, it is limited to aliens (born in a foreign country OTHER than a constitutional state of the Union) at 16 home and STATUTORY citizens/residents abroad, meaning: 17
  - 3.1. Those domiciled on federal territory and born or naturalized there and temporarily abroad under 26 U.S.C. §911. The "citizens" or "residents" under the Internal Revenue Code are in fact domiciled on federal territory and described in 8 U.S.C. §1401, 26 C.F.R. §1.1-1(c), and 26 U.S.C. §7701(b)(1)(A). 26 C.F.R. §1.1441-1(d)(1) even expressly exempts these parties from withholding and reporting when they are not abroad in a foreign country. Such parties are referred to as statutory "U.S. persons" in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30).
  - 3.2. Statutory "nonresident aliens" not physically present in the statutory "United States" but doing business there and surrendering sovereign immunity by doing so under the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act, 28 U.S.C. Chapter 97. You will note that the ONLY withholding provisions relevant to a human being are found in 26 U.S.C. Subchapter A, and pertain ONLY to "nonresident aliens" in 26 U.S.C. §1441.
  - Those domiciled in states of the Union and born there are non-residents and non-persons and would fall in NEITHER of the above statuses. They are also NOT statutory "U.S. persons" under 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(30) unless they are acting as officers of the national government on official business representing the MAIN "U.S. citizen", which is "U.S. Inc". Non-Resident Non-Person Position, Form #05.020

Instead, this document insists that the moving party, which is the government in this case, has the burden of PROVING 30 jurisdiction on the record with court admissible evidence signed under penalty of perjury using the real legal birthname of 31 the respondent. The burden of proof must disprove the evidence herein in its entirety by answering the questions indicated 32 in the previous section. 11 8.1 Private

The word "private" when it appears in front of other entity names such as "person", "individual", "business", "employee", "employer", etc. shall imply that the entity is:

- In possession of absolute, exclusive ownership and control over their own labor, body, and all their property. In Roman Law this was called "dominium".
- On an EQUAL rather than inferior relationship to government in court. This means that they have no obligations to any government OTHER than possibly the duty to serve on jury and vote upon voluntary acceptance of the obligations of the civil status of "citizen" (and the DOMICILE that creates it). Otherwise, they are entirely free and unregulated unless and until they INJURE the equal rights of another under the common law.
- 20 3. A "nonresident" in relation to the state and federal government.
- 4. Not a PUBLIC entity defined within any state or federal statutory law. This includes but is not limited to statutory "person", "individual", "taxpayer", "driver", "spouse" under any under any civil statute or franchise.
- 5. Not engaged in a public office, "trade or business" (per 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26)). Such offices include but are not limited to statutory "person", "individual", "taxpayer", "driver", "spouse" under any civil statute or franchise.
  - "PRIVATE PERSON. An individual who is not the incumbent of an office." [Black's Law Dictionary, Fourth Edition, p. 1359]
- Not consenting to contract with or acquire any public status, public privilege, or public right under any state or federal franchise. For instance, the phrase "private employee" means a common law worker that is NOT the statutory "employe" defined within 26 U.S.C. §3401(c) or 26 C.F.R. §301.3401(c)-1 or any other federal or state law or statute.
  - 7. Not sharing ownership or control of their body or property with anyone, and especially a government. In other words:
    - 7.1. Ownership is not "qualified" but "absolute".
      - 7.2. There are not moities between them and the government.
    - 7.3. The government has no usufructs over any of their property.
- Not subject to civil enforcement or regulation of any kind, except AFTER an injury to the equal rights of others has occurred. Preventive rather than corrective regulation is an unlawful taking of property according to the Fifth Amendment takings clause.
- 9. Not "privileged" or party to a franchise of any kind:

"PRIVILEGE. "A right, power, franchise, or immunity held by a person or class, against or beyond the course of the law. [...] That which releases one from the performance of a duty or obligation, or exempts one from a liability which he would otherwise be required to perform, or sustain in common [common law] with all other

5	"Is it a franchise? A franchise is said to be a right reserved to the people by the constitution, as the elective franchise. Again, it is said to be a privilege conferred by grant from government, and vested in one or more
6 7	individuals, as a public office. Corporations, or bodies politic are the most usual franchises known to our laws.
8	In England they are very numerous, and are defined to be royal privileges in the hands of a subject. An
9	information will lie in many cases growing out of these grants, especially where corporations are concerned, as
10	by the statute of 9 Anne, ch. 20, and in which the public have an interest. In 1 Strange R. (The King v. Sir William
11	Louther,) it was held that an information of this kind did not lie in the case of private rights, where no franchise
12	of the crown has been invaded.
13	If this is soif in England a privilege existing in a subject, which the king alone could grant, constitutes it a
14	franchisein this country, under our institutions, a privilege or immunity of a public nature, which could not be
15 16	exercised without a legislative grant, would also be a franchise. " [People v. Ridgley, 21 Ill. 65, 1859 WL 6687, 11 Peck 65 (Ill., 1859)]
17	10. The equivalent to a common law or Constitutional "person" who retains all of their common law and
18	Constitutional protections and waives none.
19	"The words "privileges" and "immunities," like the greater part of the legal phraseology of this country, have
20	been carried over from the law of Great Britain, and recur constantly either as such or in equivalent expressions
21	from the time of Magna Charta. For all practical purposes they are synonymous in meaning, and originally
22	signified a peculiar right or private law conceded to particular persons or places whereby a certain individual
23	or class of individuals was exempted from the rigor of the common law. Privilege or immunity is conferred
24	upon any person when he is invested with a legal claim to the exercise of special or peculiar rights, authorizing
25	him to enjoy some particular advantage or exemption."

34	Every attempt by anyone in government to alienate rights that the Declaration of Independence says are UNALIENABLE
35 36 37	shall also be treated as "PRIVATE BUSINESS ACTIVITY" that cannot be protected by sovereign, official, or judicial immunity. So called "government" cannot make a profitable business or franchise out of alienating inalienable rights without ceasing to be a classical/de jure government and instead becoming in effect an economic terrorist and de facto government
38	in violation of Article 4, Section 4.
39 40 41	"No servant [or government or biological person] can serve two masters ; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or else he will be loyal to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon [government]." [Luke 16:13, Bible, NKJV]
42 43 44	8.2 Tax
45 46	The term " tax " includes any method to collect revenues to support ONLY the operation of the government. It does NOT include the abuse of taxing power to transfer wealth between ordinary citizens or residents and when it is used for this purpose
47	it is THEFT, not "taxation".
48	"The power to tax is, therefore, the strongest, the most pervading of all powers of government, reaching directly
49	or indirectly to all classes of the people. It was said by Chief Justice Marshall, in the case of McCulloch v.
50	Md., 4 Wheat. 431, that the power to tax is the power to destroy. A striking instance of the truth of the
51	proposition is seen in the fact that the existing tax of ten per cent, imposed by the United States on the circulation
52	of all other banks than the National Banks, drove out of existence every *state bank of circulation within a year
53	or two after its passage. This power can be readily employed against one class of individuals and in favor of another, so as to ruin the one class and give unlimited wealth and prosperity to the other, if there is no implied limitation of the uses for which the power may be exercised.

	To lay, with one hand, the power of the government on the property of the citizen, and with the other to bestow it upon favored individuals to aid private enterprises and build up private fortunes, is none the less a robbery because it is done under the forms of law and is called taxation. This is not legislation. It is a decree under legislative forms.
	Nor is it taxation. 'A tax,' says Webster's Dictionary, 'is a rate or sum of money assessed on the person or property of a citizen by government for the use of the nation or State.' 'Taxes are burdens or charges imposed by the Legislature upon persons or property to raise money for public purposes.' Cooley, Const.
	Lim., 479.
	Coulter, J., in Northern Liberties v. St. John's Church, 13 Pa.St. 104 says, very forcibly, 'I think the common mind has everywhere taken in the understanding that taxes are a public imposition, levied by authority of the government for the purposes of carrying on the government in all its machinery and operations—that they are imposed for a public purpose.' See, also Pray v. Northern Liberties, 31 Pa.St. 69; Matter of Mayor of N.Y., 11 Johns., 77; Camden v. Allen, 2 Dutch., 398; Sharpless v. Mayor, supra; Hanson v. Vernon, 27 Ia., 47; Whiting
	v. Fond du Lac, supra."
	[Loan Association v. Topeka, 20 Wall. 655 (1874)]
	"A tax, in the general understanding of the term and as used in the constitution, signifies an exaction for the support of the government. The word has never thought to connote the expropriation of money from one group for the benefit of another." [U.S. v. Butler, 297 U.S. 1 (1936)]

Federal income tax 8.6 8

The term "federal income tax", in the context of this website, means the revenue scheme described in Subtitle A of the Internal 9 Revenue Code as applied specifically and only to human beings who are not statutory "persons" or "individuals" under federal 10 law and shall NOT refer to businesses or artificial entities. This website does NOT concern itself with businesses or 11 corporations or artificial entities of any description. 12

8.7 Protection

The word "protection" includes only CRIMINAL, constitutional, and common law protection. It excludes every type of 15 government activity, franchise, or program that requires a predicate civil status (Form #13.008) to enforce, such as "citizen", 16 "resident", "taxpayer", "spouse", Social Security beneficiary, etc. Every attempt to impose, acquire, or enforce a civil status 17 or to enforce duties upon a civil status NOT related to voting or jury service constitutes the following: 18

- 1. An INJURY and an INJUSTICE (Form #05.050). 19
- Identity Theft (Form #05.046). 2. 20

9.1 General constraints 23

The only group of people the government can write CIVIL statutory codes or franchises for are its own agents, officers, 24 1. and employees for the most part and NOT private people. The designer of our three-branch system of government, 25 Charles de Montesquieu, calls this "political law" in his famous work The Spirit of Laws.<sup>15</sup> The courts call the 26 audience for these statutes "state actors". 27 "A private person cannot make constitutions or laws, nor can he with authority construe them, nor can he 28 administer or execute them.' 29 30

"All the powers of the government [including ALL of its civil enforcement powers against the public] must be carried into operation by individual agency, either through the medium of public officers, or contracts made with [private] individuals. [Osborn v. Bank of U.S., 22 U.S. 738 (1824)]

"The power to "legislate generally upon" life, liberty, and property, as opposed to the "power to provide modes of redress" against offensive state action, was "repugnant" to the Constitution. Although the specific holdings of these early cases might have been superseded or modified, 4 see, e.g., Heart of Atlanta Motel, Inc. v. United States, 379 U.S. 241 (1964); United States v. Guest, 383 U.S. 5 745 (1966), their treatment of Congress' §5 power as corrective or preventive, not definitional, has not been 6 questioned.' 7 [City of Boerne v. Florez, Archbishop of San Antonio, 521 U.S. 507 (1997)] 8 1.1. President Obama admitted in his Farewell Address that a "citizen" is a public office! 9 President Obama Admits in His Farewell Address that "citizen" is a public office, Exhibit #01.018 https://youtu.be/XjVyEZU0mlc 1.2. The U.S. Supreme Court even identified a statutory "citizen" as an AGENT of government! If you don't want to 10 be an agent of government and therefore an agent of what the Bible calls "The Beast" in Revelation 19:19, you 11 can't have a domicile within the civil statutory jurisdiction of the government. By the way, if the government has 12 any more power than a single human being, it has supernatural or superior powers and is like a God, in which 13 case you as a statutory "citizen" become an idolater who is violating the First Commandment not to serve other 14 Gods. 15 "Under our own systems of polity, the term 'citizen', implying the same or similar relations to the government and 16 to society which appertain to the term, 'subject' in England, is familiar to all. Under either system, the term used 17 is designed to apply to man in his individual character and to his natural capacities -- to a being or agent [of 18 government, also called a PUBLIC OFFICER!] possessing social and political rights and sustaining social, 19 political, and moral obligations. It is in this acceptation only, therefore, that the term 'citizen', in the article of 20 21 the Constitution, can be received and understood. When distributing the judicial power, that article extends it to controversies between 'citizens' of different states. This must mean the natural physical beings composing 22 23 those separate communities, and can by no violence of interpretation be made to signify artificial, incorporeal, theoretical, and invisible creations. A corporation, therefore, being not a natural person, but a mere creature 24 of the mind, invisible and intangible, cannot be a citizen of a state, or of the United States, and cannot fall 25 within the terms or the power of the above mentioned article, and can therefore neither plead nor be impleaded 26 27 in the courts of the United States." [Rundle v. Delaware & Raritan Canal Company, 55 U.S. 80, 99 (1852) from dissenting opinion by Justice Daniel] 28 1.3. The reason why governments cannot regulate or tax PRIVATE rights or anyone other than their own PUBLIC 29 officers or agents is that they are equal to everyone else. If you can't regulate your neighbor without his or her 30 consent, then they can't regulate you without YOUR express consent. Therefore you are legislatively foreign 31 and a nonresident to the government public office and civil statutory law franchise unless and until you 32 EXPRESSLY consent to it. Without such consent, the Declaration of Independence says any attempt to enforce 33 civil laws against non-consenting parties is UNJUST. That consent must at least come by selecting a domicile 34 within that government AND accepting the OFFICE implemented within the civil statute called "person". 35 1.4. Charles de Montesquieu, the designer of our three-branch system of government stated that the POLITICAL law 36 should not EVER be mingled with the CIVIL law or else tyranny will result. By "civil law" the only thing he can 37 mean is what we call today the "common law". We have violated that requirement and corrupted our three-38 branch system of government by turning the CIVIL law into the POLITICAL law and using it to regulate EVERY 39 aspect of our behavior unjustly and in violation of the Thirteenth Amendment. 40 The Spirit of Laws, Book XXVI, Section 15 41 15. That we should not regulate by the Principles of political Law those Things which depend on the Principles 42 of civil Law. 43 As men have given up their natural independence to live under political laws, they have given up the natural 44 community of goods to live under civil laws. 45 By the first, they acquired [PUBLIC] liberty; by the second, [PRIVATE] property. We should not decide by the 46 laws of [PUBLIC] liberty, which, as we have already said, is only the government of the community, what 47 ought to be decided by the laws concerning [PRIVATE] property. It is a paralogism to say that the good of the 48 individual should give way to that of the public; this can never take place, except when the government of the 49 50 community, or, in other words, the liberty of the subject is concerned; this does not affect such cases as relate to private property, because the public good consists in every one's having his property, which was given him 51 by the civil laws, invariably preserved. 52 Cicero maintains that the Agrarian laws were unjust; because the community was established with no other view 53 54 than that every one might be able to preserve his property.

1	Let us, therefore, lay down a certain maxim, that whenever the public good happens to be the matter in question,
2	it is not for the advantage of the public to deprive an individual of his property, or even to retrench the least
3	part of it by a law, or a political regulation. In this case we should follow the rigour of the civil law, which is
4	the Palladium of [PRIVATE] property.
F	Thus when the public has eccession for the actate of an individual, it exacts never to get by the vice we of political
5 6	Thus when the public has occasion for the estate of an individual, it ought never to act by the rigour of political law; it is here that the civil law ought to triumph, which, with the eyes of a mother, regards every individual as
7	the whole community.
8	If the political magistrate would erect a public edifice, or make a new road, he must indemnify those who are
9	injured by it; the public is in this respect like an individual who treats with an individual. It is fully enough that
10	it can oblige a citizen to sell his inheritance, and that it can strip him of this great privilege which he holds from
11	the civil law, the not being forced to alienate his possessions.
12	After the nations which subverted the Roman empire had abused their very conquests, the spirit of liberty called
13	them back to that of equity. They exercised the most barbarous laws with moderation: and if any one should doubt
14	the truth of this, he need only read Beaumanoir's admirable work on jurisprudence, written in the twelfth century.
15	They mended the highways in his time as we do at present. He says, that when a highway could not be repaired,
16 17	they made a new one as near the old as possible; but indemnified the proprietors at the expense of those who reaped any advantage from the road. <sup>43</sup> They determined at that time by the civil law; in our days, we determine
18	by the law of politics.
19	[The Spirit of Laws, Charles de Montesquieu, Book XXVI, Section 15, 1758;

21	1.5. As long as you are acting under the authority or compulsion of any civil statute, you are regarded as a "state
22	actor" and officer of the government under the State Action Doctrine of the U.S. Supreme Court. Therefore
23	EVERYONE who either claims the "benefit" of a CIVIL statute or acts under the alleged authority of any civil statute is a "state actor" and therefore "state officer", even if they have no legitimate authority to do so. The 24	courts would say they are acting "under the color of law" and therefore are a "state actor". The "private person"
25
26	mentioned below who is under state compulsion of a statute in fact is NOT a "private person" and is therefore a
27	public officer EXACTLY because of the legal compulsion they speak of.
28	For petitioner to recover under the substantive count of her complaint, she must show a deprivation of a right
29	guaranteed to her by the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. Since the 'action inhibited by the first section of the Fourteenth Amendment is only such action as may fairly be said to be that of the States,'
30 31	Shelley v. Kraemer, 334 U.S. 1, 13, 68 S.Ct. 836, 842, 92 L.Ed. 1161 (1948), we must decide, for purposes of this
32	case, the following 'state action' issue: Is there sufficient state action to prove a violation of petitioner's
33	Fourteenth Amendment rights if she shows that Kress refused her service because of a state-enforced custom
34	compelling segregation of the races in Hattiesburg restaurants?
35	In analyzing this problem, it is useful to state two polar propositions, each of which is easily identified and
36	resolved. On the one hand, the Fourteenth Amendment plainly prohibits a State itself from discriminating
37	because of race. On the other hand, § 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment does not forbid a private party, not
38 39	acting against a backdrop of state compulsion or involvement, to discriminate on the basis of race in his personal affairs as an expression of his own personal predilections. As was said in Shelley v. Kraemer, supra,
40	§ 1 of '(t)hat Amendment erects no shield against merely private conduct, however discriminatory or wrongful.'
41	334 U.S., at 13, 68 S.Ct., at 842.
42	At what point between these two extremes a State's involvement in the refusal becomes sufficient to make the
43	private refusal to serve a violation of the Fourteenth Amendment, is far from clear under our case law. If a
44	State had a law requiring a private person to refuse service because of race, it is clear beyond dispute that the
45	law would violate the Fourteenth Amendment and could be declared invalid and enjoined from enforcement.
46 47	Nor can a State enforce such a law requiring discrimination through either convictions of proprietors who refuse to discriminate, or trespass prosecutions of patrons who, after being denied service pursuant to such a
47	law, refuse to honor a request to leave the premises.40
49	The question most relevant for this case, however, is a slightly different one. It is whether the decision of an
50	owner of a restaurant to discriminate on the basis of race under the compulsion of state law offends the
51	Fourteenth Amendment. Although this Court has not explicitly decided the Fourteenth Amendment state action
52	issue implicit in this question, underlying the Court's decisions in the sit-in cases is the notion that a State is
53	responsible for the discriminatory act of a private party when the State, by its law, has compelled the act. As
54	the Court said in Peterson v. City of Greenville, 373 U.S. 244, 248, 83 S.Ct. 1119, 1121 (1963) : 'When the State
55 56	has commanded a particular result, it has saved to itself the power to determine that result and thereby 'to a significant extent' has 'become involved' in it.' Moreover, there is much support in lower court opinions for
50 57	the conclusion that discriminatory acts by private parties done under the compulsion of state law offend the
58	Fourteenth Amendment. In Baldwin v. Morgan, supra, the Fifth Circuit held that '(t)he very act of posting

1		and maintaining separate (waiting room) facilities when done by the (railroad) Terminal as commanded by
2		these state orders is action by the state.' The Court then went on to say: 'As we have pointed out above the State
3		may not use race or color as the basis for distinction. It may not do so by direct action or through the medium
4		of others who are under State compulsion to do so.' Id., 287 F.2d. at 755—756 (emphasis added). We think the
5		same principle governs here.
6		For state action purposes it makes no difference of course whether the racially discriminatory act by the private
7		party is compelled by a statutory provision or by a custom having the force of law—in either case it is the State that has commanded the result by its law. Without deciding whether less substantial involvement of a State
8 9		might satisfy the state action requirement of the Fourteenth Amendment, we conclude that petitioner would
10		show an abridgement of her equal protection right, if she proves that Kress refused her service because of a
11		state-enforced custom of segregating the races in public restaurants.
12		[Adickes v. Kress Company, 398 U.S. 144, 90 S.Ct. 1598, 26 L.Ed.2d. 142 (1970)]
13		1.6. You can be an "agent" of the government through contract, but that doesn't automatically MAKE you a "public
14		officer". Public officers cannot be supervised but agents can. The definition of "employee" found in 5 U.S.C.
15		§2105(a) confirms that all STATUTORY "employees" are both "individuals" AND "officers" and therefore
16		"public officers". Those who are NOT "officers" cannot be statutory "employees" or even STATUTORY
17		"individuals".
18		1.7. Without public office LAWFULLY and CONSENSUALLY filled and exercised ONLY where expressly
19		authorized by 4 U.S.C. §72, the federal civil statutes cannot lawfully reach you because of the separation of powers doctrine. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(b) requires that the legal "person" against whom civil

22		following two conditions must exist before the federal civil law can lawfully reach YOU as a human being:
23		1.7.1. YOU have a physical domicile on federal territory OR
24		1.7.2. You represent a public office that is domiciled on federal territory.

		[Valmonte v. I.N.S., 136 F.3d. 914 (C.A.2, 1998)]
		"That it does not conflict with the Thirteenth Amendment, which abolished slavery and involuntary servitude, except as a punishment for crime, is too clear for argument. Slavery implies involuntary servitude—a state of bondage; the ownership of mankind as a chattel, or at least the control of the labor and services of one man for the benefit of another, and the absence of a legal right to the disposal of his own person, property, and services [in their entirety]. This amendment was said in the Slaughter House Cases, 16 Wall. 36, to have been intended primarily to abolish slavery, as it had been previously known in this country, and that it equally forbade Mexican peonage or the Chinese coolie trade, when they amounted to slavery or involuntary servitude and that the use of the word 'servitude' was intended to prohibit the use of all forms of involuntary slavery, of whatever class or name." [Plessy v. Ferguson, 163 U.S. 537, 542 (1896)]
		"Other authorities to the same effect might be cited. It is not open to doubt that Congress may enforce the Thirteenth Amendment by direct legislation, punishing the holding of a person in slavery or in involuntary servitude except as a punishment for a crime. In the exercise of that power Congress has enacted these sections denouncing peonage, and punishing one who holds another in that condition of involuntary servitude. This legislation is not limited to the territories or other parts of the strictly national domain, but is operative in the states and wherever the sovereignty of the United States extends. We entertain no doubt of the validity of this legislation, or of its applicability to the case of any person holding another in a state of peonage, and this whether there be municipal ordinance or state law sanctioning such holding. It operates directly on every citizen of the Republic, wherever his residence may be."

&lt;sup>17</sup> Congress, under the Act of February 21, 1871, ch. 62, § 34, 16 Stat. 419, 426, expressly extended the Constitution and federal laws to the District of Columbia. - Supreme Court. Your reaction should always be to insist that they produce evidence of your consent IN 1 WRITING AND prove that you were physically in a place outside of constitutional states where you could 2 lawfully alienate an otherwise INALIENABLE right. This is similar to what the courts do in the case of the 3 government, where they can't be sued or compelled to do anything without you producing an express waiver of 4 sovereign immunity by THEM. They got that authority and that sovereignty from you(!), because it was 5 delegated to them by We The People, so you must ALSO have sovereign immunity. Your job as a vigilant 6 American who cares about his freedom and rights is then to discover by what lawful mechanism you waived that 7 sovereign immunity, and the following document is very helpful in determining that mechanism: 8

      - 3.4.3. "taxpayer" (under the income tax franchise).
      - 3.4.4. "driver" (under the vehicle code franchise).
      - 3.4.5. "spouse" (under the family code franchise), etc.
    - 3.5. Who is compelled to obey the civil statutory laws without evidence on the record that they EXPRESSLY consented to:
      - 3.5.1. A civil domicile within the EXCLUSIVE jurisdiction of said government.
      - 3.5.2. The office of "citizen" and were lawfully elected or appointed to that office with the proper oath.
  - 3.6. Who can be unilaterally "elected" into public office as a PRIVATE human through a false third-party information return, such as IRS Forms W-2, 1042-S, or 1099.
    - 3.7. Who is not allowed to challenge third party information returns that elect them into the "public office" called "taxpayer".
    - 3.8. Who can be connected with any statutory status in civil franchises or civil law to which public rights attach without their EXPRESS WRITTEN consent. This is a Fifth Amendment taking without compensation, a violation of the right to contract and associate, and a conversion of PRIVATE property to PUBLIC property.
    - 3.9. Who is SOMEONE ELSE'S PROPERTY. That property is called a "person", "taxpayer" (under the tax code), "driver", "spouse" (under the family code). You volunteered to become someone else's property by invoking these statuses, which are government property.
    - 3.10. Who is compelled to economic or contractual servitude to anyone else, including a government. All franchises are contracts. Therefore, compelled participation is compelled contracting.

3.11. Whose ownership of property was converted from ABSOLUTE to QUALIFIED without their EXPRESS written and informed consent.

3.12. Who is not allowed to EXCLUDE government from benefitting from or taxing property held as ABSOLUTE title.

9.3 Limitations upon the EXERCISE of public offices 27

- 1. All public offices MUST be exercised ONLY where Congress EXPRESSLY authorizes, per 4 U.S.C. §72. If they did 28 not EXPRESSLY authorize the exercise of the office outside of the District of Columbia by statute, then the office is a 29 de facto office that is UNLAWFULLY exercised. 30
- The ONLY sufficient legal evidence of the existence of a public office is an Oath AND an Appointment document. 2. 31 Without such legal proof, the actor is presumed to be EXCLUSIVELY private. See 5 U.S.C. Subchapter 1 and 5 32 U.S.C. §3331. 33
- 3. You can be a contractor or agent of the government WITHOUT being a public officer. The only duties that may be 34 enforced against you in that condition are those EXPRESSLY identified in the contract itself.    TITLE 18 > PART I > CHAPTER 11 > § 201

   § 201. Bribery of public officials and witnesses

(a) For the purpose of this section—

(1) the term "public official" means Member of Congress, Delegate, or Resident Commissioner, either before or after such official has qualified, or an officer or employee or person acting for or on behalf of the United States, or any department, agency or branch of Government thereof, including the District of Columbia, in any official function, under or by authority of any such department, agency, or branch of Government, or a juror

- <sup>44</sup> 7. If you serve in a public office without satisfying the requirements of the previous section then:
  - 7.1. You become a de facto officer under the De Facto Officer Doctrine of the U.S. Supreme Court. See:
  - 7.2. You are committing the crime of impersonating a public office. 18 U.S.C. §912.
- 8. If you were the target of duress in occupying or accepting the public office, then the party instituting the duress is engaging in human trafficking so long as they continue to enforce the duties of the office upon you without your consent. 18 U.S.C. Chapter 77. Such duress includes but is not limited to financial or commercial incentives or enticements of any kind.
  - 9. You must be INFORMED of your working hours as a public officer:

9.1. You cannot be a public officer 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

- 9.2. When you are NOT officially on duty, the duties of the office cannot be enforced.
- 9.3. If you must represent a public office 24 hours a day, 7 days a week and the government REFUSES to recognize your right to be either off duty or to act in an EXCLUSIVELY private capacity, then you are a SLAVE and chattel of the national government.

6 9.4 Limitations upon the TERMINATION of public offices

- 7 1. You must be able to resign from the office for it to be lawful.
- 8 2. A human being who CANNOT resign is a SLAVE in violation of the Thirteenth Amendment.
- A human being who is NEVER treated as OFF DUTY, and therefore EXCLUSIVELY private is a SLAVE in violation of the Thirteenth Amendment.

9.5 "Trade or business" and Public office within the Internal Revenue Code<sup>19</sup>

The subject of exactly what constitutes a "public office" within the meaning described in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) is not defined in any IRS publication we could find. The reason is quite clear: the "trade or business" scam is the Achilles heel of the IRS fraud and both the IRS and the Courts are loath to even talk about it because there is nothing they can defend themselves with other than unsubstantiated presumption created by the abuse of the word "includes" and certain key "words of art". In the face of such overwhelming evidence of their own illegal and criminal mis-enforcement of the tax codes, silence or omission in either admitting it or prosecuting it can only be characterized as FRAUD on a massive scale, in fact:

7. The beneficiary of their fiduciary duty is other than the "public". Public service is a public trust, and the beneficiary of the trust is the public at large and not any one specific individual or group of individuals. See 5 C.F.R. §2635.101(b) 2 and Executive Order #12731.

All public officers must take an oath. The oath, in fact, is what creates the fiduciary duty that attaches to the office. This is 4 confirmed by the definition of "public official" in Black's Law Dictionary: 5

- A person who, upon being issued a commission, taking required oath, enters upon, for a fixed tenure, a position called an 6 office where he or she exercises in his or her own right some of the attributes of sovereign he or she serves for benefit of 7 public. Macy v. Heverin, 44 Md.App. 358, 408 A.2d. 1067, 1069. The holder of a public office though not all persons in 8 public employment are public officials, because public official's position requires the exercise of some portion of the 9 sovereign power, whether great or small. Town of Arlington v. Bds. of Conciliation and Arbitration, Mass., 352 N.E.2d. 10 11 914 12
  - [Black's Law Dictionary, Sixth Edition, p. 1230]

The oath for United States federal and state officials was prescribed in the very first enactment of Congress on March 4, 1789 13 as follows: 14

Be it enacted by the Senate and [Home of] Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the oath or affirmation required by the sixth article of the Constitution of the United States, shall be administered in the form following, to wit : " I, A, B. do solemnly swear or affirm (as the case may be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States." The said oath or affirmation shall be administered within three days after the passing of this act, by any one member of the Senate, to the President of the Senate, and by him to all the members and to the secretary; and by the Speaker of the House of Representatives, to all the members who have not taken a similar oath, by virtue of a particular resolution of the said House, and to the clerk: and in case of the absence of any member from the service of either House, at the time prescribed for taking the said oath or affirmation, the same shall be administered to such member, when he shall appear to take his seat.

- SEC. 2. And he it further enacted, That at the first session of Congress after every general election of Representatives, the 26 oath or affirmation aforesaid, shall be administered by any one member of the House of Representatives to the Speaker; and by him to all the members present, and to the clerk, previous to entering on any other business; and to the members who 29 shall afterwards appear, previous to taking their seats. The President of the Senate for the time being, shall also administer the said oath or affirmation to each Senator who shall hereafter be elected, previous to his taking his seat: and in any future 30 case of a President of the Senate. who shall not have taken the said oath or affirmation, the same shall be administered to him by any one of the members of the Senate.
  - SEC. 3. And be it further enacted. That the members of the several State legislatures, at the next sessions of the said legislatures, respectively, and all executive and judicial officers of the several States, who have been heretofore chosen or appointed, or who shall be chosen or appointed before the first day of August next, and who shall then be in office, shall, within one month thereafter, take the same oath or affirmation, except where they shall have taken it before; which may be administered by any person authorized by the law of the State, in which such office shall be holden, to administer oaths. And the members of the several State legislatures, and all executive and judicial officers of the several States, who shall be chosen or appointed after the said first day of August, shall, before they proceed to execute the duties of their respective offices, take the foregoing oath or affirmation, which shall be administered by the person or persons, who by the law of the State shall be authorized to administer the oath of office; and the person or persons so administering the oath hereby required to be taken, shall cause a re- cord or certificate thereof to be made, in the same manner, as, by the law of the State, he or they shall be directed to record or certify the oath of office.

SEC. 4. And he it further enacted, That all officers appointed, or hereafter to be appointed under the authority of the United 44 45 States, shall, before they act in their respective offices, take the same oath or affirmation, which shall be administered by the person or persons who shall be authorized by law to administer to such officers their respective oaths of office; and such 46 officers shall incur the same penalties in case of failure, as shall be imposed by law in case of failure in taking their respective 47 oaths of office. 48

49 SEC. 5. And be it further enacted, That the secretary of the Senate, and the clerk of the House of Representatives for the 50 time being, shall, at the time of taking the oath or affirmation aforesaid, each take an oath or affirmation in the words following, to wit: "1, A. B. secretary of the Senate, or clerk of the House of Representatives (as the case may be) of the United States of America, do solemnly swear or affirm, that I will truly and faithfully discharge the duties of my said office, to the best of my knowledge and abilities."

- Based on the above, the following persons within the government are "public officers": 54
- 1. Federal Officers: 55

  - 1.5. The secretary of the Senate.
    - 1.6. The clerk of the House of Representatives.

At the federal level, all those engaged in the above "public offices" are statutorily identified in 26 U.S.C. §2105. Consistent with this section, what most people would regard as ordinary common law employees are not included in the definition. Note the phrase "an officer AND an individual":

16 17	TITLE 5 > PART III > Subpart A > CHAPTER 21 > § 2105 § 2105. Employee
18 19	(a) For the purpose of this title, "employee", except as otherwise provided by this section or when specifically modified, means an officer and an individual who is—
20	(1) appointed in the civil service by one of the following acting in an official capacity—
21	(A) the President;
22	(B) a Member or Members of Congress, or the Congress;
23	(C) a member of a uniformed service;
24	(D) an individual who is an employee under this section;
25	(E) the head of a Government controlled corporation; or
26	(F) an adjutant general designated by the Secretary concerned under section 709 (c) of title 32;
27	(2) engaged in the performance of a Federal function under authority of law or an Executive act; and
28	(3) subject to the supervision of an individual named by paragraph $(1)$ of this subsection while engaged in the
29	performance of the duties of his position.
30	Within the military, only commissioned officers are "public officers". Enlisteds or NCOs (Non-Commissioned Officers) are 31 not.

Those holding Federal or State public office, county or municipal office, under the Legislative, Executive or Judicial branch, including Court Officials, Judges, Prosecutors, Law Enforcement Department employees, Officers of the Court, and etc., before entering into these public offices, are required by the U.S. Constitution and statutory law to comply with 5 U.S.C. $3331, "Oath of office." State Officials are also required to meet this same obligation, according to State Constitutions and State statutory law.

All oaths of office come under 22 C.F.R., Foreign Relations, Sections §§92.12 - 92.30, and all who hold public office come under 8 U.S.C. §1481 "Loss of nationality by native-born or naturalized citizen; voluntary action; burden of proof; presumptions."

The Oath of Office requires the public officials in his/her foreign state capacity to uphold the constitutional form of government or face consequences, according to 10 U.S.C. §333, "Interference with State and Federal law"

1 2 3 4	(1) so hinders the execution of the laws of that State, and of the United States within the State, that any part or class of its people is deprived of a right, privilege, immunity, or protection named in the Constitution and secured by law, and the constituted authorities of that State are unable, fail, or refuse to protect that right, privilege, or immunity, or to give that protection; or
5 6	(2) opposes or obstructs the execution of the laws of the United States or impedes the course of justice under those laws.
7 8	In any situation covered by clause (1), the State shall be considered to have denied the equal protection of the laws secured by the Constitution.
9	Willful refusal action while serving in official capacity violates 18 U.S.C. §1918, "Disloyalty and asserting the right to strike

11 12	Whoever violates the provision of 7311 of title 5 that an individual may not accept or hold a position in the Government of the United States or the government of the District of Columbia if he—

21 22	The "public offices" described in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(26) within the definition of "trade or business" are ONLY public offices located in the District of Columbia and not elsewhere. To wit:

28 29	The only provision of any act of Congress that we have been able to find which authorizes "public offices" outside the District of Columbia as expressly required by law above, is 48 U.S.C. §1612, which authorizes enforcement of the Internal Revenue Code within the U.S. Virgin Islands. There is NO PROVISION OF LAW which would similarly extend public offices or jurisdiction to enforce any provision of the Internal Revenue Code to any place within the exclusive jurisdiction of any state of the Union, because Congress enjoys
 NO LEGISLATIVE JURISDICTION THERE.

13	[Ashton v. Cameron County Water Improvement District No. 1, 298 U.S. 513, 56 S.Ct. 892 (1936)]
14	By law then, no "public office" may therefore be exercised OUTSIDE the District of Columbia except as "expressly provided
15	by law", including privileged or licensed activities such as a "trade or business". This was also confirmed by the U.S.
	Supreme Court in the License Tax Cases, when they said:
16	Supreme Court in the License Tax Cases, when they said.

24	to the States. No interference by Congress with the business of citizens transacted within a State is warranted
25	by the Constitution, except such as is strictly incidental to the exercise of powers clearly granted to the
26	legislature. The power to authorize a business within a State is plainly repugnant to the exclusive power of the
27	State over the same subject. It is true that the power of Congress to tax is a very extensive power. It is given in
28	the Constitution, with only one exception and only two qualifications. Congress cannot tax exports, and it must
29	impose direct taxes by the rule of apportionment, and indirect taxes by the rule of uniformity. Thus limited, and
30	thus only, it reaches every subject, and may be exercised at discretion. But, it reaches only existing subjects.

34	Since Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A is a tax on "public offices", which is called a "trade or business", then the tax can
35	only apply to those domiciled within the statutory but not constitutional "United States" (federal territory), wherever they
36	are physically located to include states of the Union, but only if they are serving under oath in their official capacity as "public

16	Another important point needs to be emphasized, which is that those working for the federal government, while on official
46
47	duty, are representing a federal corporation called the "United States", which is domiciled in the District of Columbia.

19	Government employees, including "public officers", while on official duty representing the federal corporation called the
20	"United States", maintain the character of the entity they represent and therefore have a legal domicile in the statutory but not constitutional "United States" (federal territory) within the context of their official duties. The Internal Revenue Code 21
22	also reflects this fact in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(39) and 26 U.S.C. §7408(d):

38	in, any United States judicial district, such citizen or resident shall be treated for purposes of this section as
39	residing in the District of Columbia.
40	Kidnapping and transporting the legal identity of a person domiciled outside the District of Columbia in a foreign state, which
41	includes states of the Union, is illegal pursuant to 18 U.S.C. §1201. Therefore, the only people who can be legally and
42	involuntarily "kidnapped" by the courts based on the above two provisions of statutory law are those who individually consent through private contract to act as "public officials" in the execution of their official duties. The fiduciary duty of these "public 43
44	officials" is further defined in the I.R.C. as follows, and it is only by an oath of "public office" that this fiduciary duty can
45	lawfully be created:

1	(b) Person defined
2	The term "person", as used in this subchapter, includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member or
3	employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in
4	respect of which the violation occurs.
5
6 7	TITLE 26 &gt; Subtitle F &gt; CHAPTER 75 &gt; Subchapter D > § 7343 § 7343. Definition of term "person"
8	The term "person" as used in this chapter includes an officer or employee of a corporation, or a member or employee of a partnership, who as such officer, employee, or member is under a duty to perform the act in respect
9 10	of which the violation occurs.
11	We remind our readers that there is no liability statute within Subtitle A of the I.R.C. that would create the duty documented
12 13	above, and therefore the ONLY way it can be created is by the oath of office of the "public officers" who are the subject of the tax in question. This was thoroughly described in the following article:
	There's No Statute Making Anyone Liable to Pay IRC Subtitle A Income Taxes , Family Guardian Fellowship http://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/Articles/NoStatuteLiable.htm
14 15 16 17 18	The existence of fiduciary duty of "public officers" is therefore the ONLY lawful method by which anyone can be prosecuted for an "omission", which is a thing they didn't do that the law required them to do. It is otherwise illegal and unlawful to prosecute anyone under either common law or statutory law for a FAILURE to do something, such as a FAILURE TO FILE a tax return pursuant to 26 U.S.C. §7203 . Below is an example of where the government gets its authority to prosecute "taxpayers" for failure to file a tax return, in fact:
19 20	"I: DUTY TO ACCOUNT FOR PUBLIC FUNDS § 909. In general
21 22 23 24 25 26	It is the duty of the public officer, like any other agent or trustee, although not declared by express statute, to faithfully account for and pay over to the proper authorities all moneys which may come into his hands upon the public account, and the performance of this duty may be enforced by proper actions against the officer himself, or against those who have become sureties for the faithful discharge of his duties." 27 28	In addition to the above, every attorney admitted to practice law in any state or federal court is described as an "officer of the court", and therefore ALSO is a "public officer":
29 30 31	Attorney at law . An advocate, counsel, or official agent employed in preparing, managing, and trying cases in the courts. An officer in a court of justice, who is employed by a party in a cause to manage it for him. In re Bergeron, 220 Mass. 472, 107 N.E. 1007, 1008, Ann.Cas.1917A, 549.

19	The above provisions of law imply that everyone who works for the government is a "trustee" of "We the People", who are
20	the sovereigns they serve in the public. In law, EVERY "trustee" is a "fiduciary" of the Beneficiary of the trust within which
20	he serves:

28	who holds the legal title to property for the benefit of another, while, in a broad sense, the term is sometimes
29 30	applied to anyone standing in a fiduciary or confidential relation to another. such as agent, attorney, bailee, etc. State ex rel. Lee v. Sartorius, 344 Mo. 912, 130 S.W.2d. 547, 549, 550. "Trustee" is also used In a wide and
31	perhaps inaccurate sense, to denote that a person has the duty of carrying out a transaction, in which he and
32	another person are interested, in such manner as will be most for the benefit of the latter, and not in such a way
33	that he himself might be tempted, for the sake of his personal advantage, to neglect the interests of the other. In
34	this sense, directors of companies are said to be "trustees for the shareholders." Sweet.
35	[Black's Law Dictionary, Fourth Edition, p. 1684]
	An exemple of someone who is NOT a "mublic officer" is a foderal worker on duty and who is not required to take an eath
36	An example of someone who is NOT a "public officer" is a federal worker on duty and who is not required to take an oath. These people may think of themselves as employees in an ordinary and not statutory sense and even be called employees by
37
38	their supervisor or employer, but in fact NOT be the statutory "employee" defined in 5 U.S.C. §2105(a). Remember that 5
39	U.S.C. §2105(a) defines a STATUTORY "employee" as " an officer and an individual " and you don't become an "officer"
40	in a statutory sense unless and until you take a Constitutional oath. Almost invariably, such workers also have some kind of
41	immediate supervisor who manages and oversees and evaluates his activities pursuant to the position description drafted for
42	the position he fills. He may be a "trustee" and he may have a "fiduciary duty" to the public as a "public servant", but he
43	isn't an "officer" or "public officer" unless and until he takes an oath of office prescribed by law. A federal worker, however,
44	can become a "public office" by virtue of any one or more of the following purposes that we are aware of so far:
45	1. Being elected to political office.
46	2. Being appointed to political office by the President or the governor of a state of the Union.
47	A "public office" is not limited to a human being. It can also extend to an entire entity such as a corporation. An example of an entity that is a "public office" in its entirety is a federally chartered bank, such as the original Bank of the United States
48
49	described in Osborn v. United States , in which the U.S. Supreme Court identified the original and first Bank of the United
50	States, a federally chartered bank corporation created by Congress, as a "public office":
51	All the powers of the government must be carried into operation by individual agency, either through the
52 53	medium of public officers, or contracts made with individuals. Can any public office be created, or does one exist, the performance of which may, with propriety, be assigned to this association [or trust], when
53 54	incorporated? If such office exist, or can be created, then the company may be incorporated, that they may be
57	meerperater. A such office each, or can be created, men me company may be meerportated, mai mey may be appointed to execute such office. Is there any portion of the public business performed by individuals upon contracts, that this association could be employed to perform, with greater advantage and more safety to the public, than an individual contractor? If there be an employment of this nature, then may this company be incorporated to undertake it.

 There is an employment of this nature. Nothing can be more essential to the fiscal concerns of the nation, than an agent of undoubted integrity and established credit, with whom the public moneys can, at all times, be safely deposited. Nothing can be of more importance to a government, than that there should be some capitalist in the country, who possesses the means of making advances of money to the government upon any exigency, and who is under a legal obligation to make such advances. For these purposes the association would be an agent peculiarly suitable and appropriate. [...]

The mere creation of a corporation, does not confer political power or political character. So this Court decided in Dartmouth College v. Woodward, already referred to. If I may be allowed to paraphrase the language of the Chief Justice, I would say, a bank incorporated, is no more a State instrument, than a natural person performing the same business would be. If, then, a natural person, engaged in the trade of banking, should contract with the government to receive the public money upon deposit, to transmit it from place to place, without charging for commission or difference of exchange, and to perform, when called upon, the duties of commissioner of loans, would not thereby become a public officer, how is it that this artificial being, created by law for the purpose of being employed by the government for the same purposes, should become a part of the civil government has given it power to take and hold property in a particular form, and to employ that property for particular purposes, and in the disposition of it to use a particular name? because the government has sold it a privilege [22 U.S. 738, 774] for a large sum of money, and has bargained with it to do certain things; is it, therefore, a part of the very government with which the contract is made?

If the Bank be constituted a public office, by the connexion between it and the government, it cannot be the mere legal franchise in which the office is vested; the individual stockholders must be the officers. Their character is not merged in the charter. This is the strong point of the Mayor and Commonalty v. Wood, upon which this Court ground their decision in the Bank v. Deveaux, and from which they say, that cause could not be distinguished. Thus, aliens may become public officers, and public duties are confided to those who owe no allegiance to the government, and who are even beyond its territorial limits.

With the privileges and perquisites of office, all individuals holding offices, ought to be subject to the disabilities of office. But if the Bank be a public office, and the individual stockholders public officers, this principle does not have a fair and just operation. The disabilities of office do not attach to the stockholders; for we find them every where holding public offices, even in the national Legislature, from which, if they be public officers, they are excluded by the constitution in express terms.

If the Bank be a public institution of such character as to be justly assimilated to the mint and the post office, then its charter may be amended, altered, or even abolished, at the discretion of the National Legislature. All public offices are created [22 U.S. 738, 775] purely for public purposes, and may, at any time, be modified in such manner as the public interest may require. Public corporations partake of the same character. So it is distinctly adjudged in Dartmouth College v. Woodward. In this point, each Judge who delivered an opinion concurred. By one of the Judges it is said, that 'public corporations are generally esteemed such as exist for public political purposes only, such as towns, cities, parishes and counties; and in many respects they are so, although they involve some private interests; but, strictly speaking, public corporations are such only as are founded by the government for public purposes, where the whole interest belongs also to the government. If, therefore, the foundation be private, though under the charter of the government, the corporation is private, however extensive the uses may be to which it is devoted, either by the bounty of the founder, or the nature and objects of the institution. For instance, a bank, created by the government for its own uses, whose stock is exclusively owned by the government, is, in the strictest sense, a public corporation. So, a hospital created and endowed by the government for general charity. But a bank, whose stock is owned by private persons, is a private corporation, although it is erected by the government, and its objects and operations partake of a public nature. The same doctrine may be affirmed of insurance, canal, bridge, and turnpike companies. In all these cases, the uses may, in a certain sense, be called public, but the corporations are private; as much [22 U.S. 738, 776] so, indeed, as if the franchises were vested in a single person.[...]

In what sense is it an instrument of the government? and in what character is it employed as such? Do the government employ the faculty, the legal franchise, or do they employ the individuals upon whom it is conferred? and what is the nature of that employment? does it resemble the post office, or the mint, or the custom house, or the process of the federal Courts?

The post office is established by the general government. It is a public institution. The persons who perform its duties are public officers. No individual has, or can acquire, any property in it. For all the services performed, a compensation is paid out of the national treasury; and all the money received upon account of its operations, is public property. Surely there is no similitude between this institution, and an association who trade upon their own capital, for their own profit, and who have paid the government a million and a half of dollars for a legal character and name, in which to conduct their trade.

Again: the business conducted through the agency of the post office, is not in its nature a private business. It is of a public character, and the [22 U.S. 738, 786] charge of it is expressly conferred upon Congress by the constitution. The business is created by law, and is annihilated when the law is repealed. But the trade of banking is strictly a private concern. It exists and can be carried on without the aid of the national Legislature. Nay, it is only under very special circumstances, that the national Legislature can so far interfere with it, as to facilitate its operations.

The post office executes the various duties assigned to it, by means of subordinate agents. The mails are opened and closed by persons invested with the character of public officers. But they are transported by individuals employed for that purpose, in their individual character, which employment is created by and founded in contract. To such contractors no official character is attached. These contractors supply horses, carriages, and whatever else is necessary for the transportation of the mails, upon their own account. The whole is engaged in the public service. The contractor, his horses, his carriage, his driver, are all in public employ. But this does not change their character. All that was private property before the contract was made, and before they were engaged in public employ, remain private property still. The horses and the carriages are liable to be taxed as other property, for every purpose for which property of the same character is taxed in the place where they are employed. The reason is plain: the contractor is employing his own means to promote his own private profit, and the tax collected is from the individual, though assessed upon the [22 U.S. 738, 787] means he uses to perform the public service. To tax the transportation of the mails, as such, would be taxing the operations of the government, which could not be allowed. But to tax the means by which this transportation is effected, so far as those means are private property, is allowable; because it abstracts nothing from the government; and because, the fact that an individual employs his private means in the service of the government, attaches to them no immunity whatever." [Osborn v. Bank of U.S., 22 U.S. 738 (1824)]

The record of the House of Representatives after the enactment of the first income tax during the Civil War in 1862, confirmed that the income tax was upon a "public office" and that even IRS agents, who are not "public officers" and who are not required to take an oath, are therefore exempt from the requirements of the revenue acts in place at the time. Read the amazing truth for yourself:

Below is an excerpt from that report proving our point. The Secretary of the Treasury at the time is comparing the federal tax liabilities of postal clerks to those of internal revenue clerks. At that time, the IRS was called the Bureau of Internal Revenue (B.I.R.). The office of Commissioner of Internal Revenue was established in 1862 as an emergency measure to fund the Civil War, which ended shortly thereafter, but the illegal enforcement of the revenue laws continued and expanded into the states over succeeding years:

32 33	House of Representatives, Ex. Doc. 99, 1867, pp. 1-2 39 th Congress, 2d Session
34	Salary Tax Upon Clerks to Postmasters
35 36	Letter from the Secretary of the Treasury in answer to A resolution of the House of the 12 th of February, relative to salary tax upon clerks to postmasters, with the regulations of the department
37 38	Postmasters' clerks are appointed by postmasters, and take the oaths of office prescribed in the 2d section of the act of July 2, 1862, and in the 2d section of the act of March 3, 1863.
39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50	Their salaries are not fixed in amount bylaw, but from time to time the Post master General fixes the amount', allotted to each postmaster for clerk hire, under the authority conferred upon him by tile ninth section of the act of June 5, 1836, and then the postmaster, as an agent for and in behalf of the United States, determines the salary to be paid to each of his clerks. These salaries are paid by the postmasters, acting as disbursing agents, from United States moneys advanced to them for this purpose, either directly from the Post Office Department in pursuance of appropriations made by law, or from the accruing revenues of their offices, under the instructions of the Postmaster General. The receipt of such clerks constitute vouchers in the accounts of the postmasters acting as disbursing agents in the settlements made with them by the Sixth Auditor. In the foregoing transactions the postmaster acts not as a principal, but as an agent of the United States, and the clerks are not in his private employment, but in the public employment of the United States. Such being the facts, these clerks are subjected to and required to account for and pay the salary tax , imposed by the one hundred and twenty-third section of the internal revenue act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the ninth section of the internal revenue act of July 13, 1864.
51 52 53 54	1866, upon payments for services to persons in the civil employment or service of the United States. Copies of the regulations under which such salary taxes are withheld and paid into the treasury to the credit of internal revenue collection account are herewith transmitted, marked A, b, and C. Clerks to assessors of internal revenue [IRS agents] are appointed by the assessors. Neither law nor regulations require them to take an oath

1	of office, because, as the law at present stands, they are not in the public service of the United States, through
2	the agency of the assessor, but are in the private service of the assessor, as a principal, who employs them.
3	The salaries of such clerks are neither fixed in amount by law, nor are they regulated by any officer of the Treasury
4	Department over the clerk hire of assessors is to prescribe a necessary and reasonable amount which shall not
5	be exceeded in reimbursing the assessors for this item of their expenses.
6	No money is advanced by the United States for the payment of such salaries, nor do the assessors perform the
7	duties of disbursing agents of the United States in paying their clerks. The entire amount allowed is paid directly
8	to the assessor, and he is not accountable to the United States for its payment to his clerks, for the reason that he
9	has paid them in advance, out of his own funds, and this is a reimbursement to him of such amount as the
10	department decides to be reasonable. No salary tax is therefore collected, or required by the Treasury
11	Department to be accounted for, or paid, on account of payments to the assessors' clerks, as the United States
12	pays no such clerks nor has them in its employ or service, and they do not come within the provisions of existing
13	laws imposing such a tax.
14	Perhaps no better illustration of the difference between the status of postmasters' clerks and that of assessors'
15	clerks can be given than the following: A postmaster became a defaulter, without paying his clerks,; his successor
16	received from the Postmaster General a new remittance for paying them; and if at any time, the clerks in a post
17	office do not receive their salaries, by reason of the death, resignation or removal of a postmaster, the new
18	appointee is authorized by the regulations of the Post Office Department to pay them out of the proceeds of the
19	office; and should there be no funds in his hands belonging to the department, a draft is issued to place money in
20	his hands for that purpose.
21	If an assessor had not paid his clerks, they would have no legal claim upon the treasury for their salaries. A
22	discrimination is made between postmasters' clerks and assessor's clerks to the extent and for the reasons
23	hereinbefore set forth.
24	I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant.
25	H. McCulloch, Secretary of the Treasury
26	[House of Representatives, Ex. Doc. 99, 1867, pp. 1-2]

Notice based on the above that revenue officers don't take an oath, so they don't have to pay the tax, while postal clerks take an oath, so they do. Therefore, the oath that creates the "public office" is the method by which the government manufactures "public officers", "taxpayers", and "sponsors" for its wasteful use or abuse of public monies. If you would like a whole BOOK full of reasons why the only "taxpayers" under the Internal Revenue Code, Subtitle A are "public offices", please see the following exhaustive analysis:

32 9.6 De Facto Public Officers<sup>26</sup>

Based on the previous sections, we are now thoroughly familiar with all the legal requirements for:

- 1. How public offices are lawfully created.
- 2. The only places where they can lawfully be exercised.
- 36 3. The duties that attach to the public office.
- 4. The type of agency exercised by the public officer.
- <sup>38</sup> 5. The relationship between the public office and the public officer.
- What we didn't cover in the previous section is what are all the legal consequences when someone performs the duties of a public office without satisfying all the legal requirements for lawfully occupying the office? In law, such a person is called
- a "de facto officer" and books have been written about the subject of the "de facto officer doctrine". Below is what the U.S.
- <sup>42</sup> Supreme Court held on the subject of "de facto officers":

<sup>43</sup>None of the cases cited militates against the doctrine that, for the existence of a de facto officer, there must be44an office de jure, although there may be loose expressions in some of the opinions, not called for by the facts,

1seemingly against this view. Where no office legally exists, the pretended officer is merely a usurper, to whose2acts no validity can be attached; and such, in our judgment, was the position of the commissioners of Shelby3county, who undertook to act as the county court, which could be constitutionally held only by justices of the4peace. Their right to discharge the duties of justices of the peace was never recognized by the justices, but from5the outset was resisted by legal proceedings, which terminated in an adjudication that they were usurpers, clothed6with no authority or official function.7[Norton v. Shelby Co State of Tennessee, 118 U.S. 425, 6 S.Ct. 1121, 30 L.Ed. 178 (1886)]

8 As we have already established, all statutory "taxpayers" are public offices in the U.S. and not state government. This is 9 exhaustively proven with evidence in:

Why Your Government is Either a Thief or You are a "Public Officer" for Income Tax Purposes, Form #05.008 http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm

A person who fulfills the DUTIES of a statutory "taxpayer" under 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(14) without lawfully occupying a public office in the U.S. government BEFORE becoming surety for the "taxpayer" public office would be a good example of a de facto public officer. Those who exercise the duties of a public officer without meeting all the requirements, from a legal perspective, are in fact committing the crime of impersonating a public officer.

14	TITLE 18 > PART 1 > CHAPTER 43 > § 912
15	§ 912. Officer or employee of the United States
16	Whoever falsely assumes or pretends to be an officer or employee acting under the authority of the United States or any department, agency or officer thereof, and acts as such, or in such pretended character demands or obtains any money, paper, document, or thing of value, shall be fined under this title or imprisoned not more than three years, or both.

- 20 What are some examples where a person would be impersonating a public officer unlawfully? Here are a few:
- You elect or appoint yourself into public office by filling out a tax form without being occupying said office BEFORE becoming surety for the statutory "taxpayer" office.
- You serve in the office in a geographic place NOT expressly authorized by law. For instance, 4 U.S.C. §72 requires that ALL federal public offices MUST be exercised ONLY in the District of Columbia and NOT ELSEWHERE, unless expressly authorized by law.
- A third party unilaterally ELECTS you into a public office by submitting an information return linking you to such a BOGUS office under the alleged but not actual authority of 26 U.S.C. §6041(a).
- You occupy the public office without either expressly consenting to it IN WRITING or without even knowing you occupy such an office.
- <sup>30</sup> If a so-called "GOVERNMENT" is established in which:

17

- The only kind of "citizens" or "residents" allowed are STATUTORY citizens and residents. CONSTITUTIONAL citizens are residents are either not recognized or allowed. ... OR
- All "citizens" and "residents" are compelled under duress to accept the duties of a public office, or ANY kind of duties imposed by the government upon them. Remember, the Thirteenth Amendment forbids "involuntary servitude", so if the government imposes any kind of duty or requires you to surrender private property of any kind by law, then they can only do so through the medium of a public office. . .OR
- Everyone is compelled to obey government statutory law. Remember, nearly all laws passed by government can and do regulate ONLY the government and not private people. See:

Why Statutory Civil Law is Law for Government and Not Private Persons, Form #05.037 http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm

...then you end up not only with a LOT of public officers, but a de facto GOVERNMENT as well. That government is thoroughly described in:

De Facto Government Scam, Form #05.043 http://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm Even at the state level, it is a crime in every state of the Union to pretend to be a public officer of the state government who does not satisfy ALL of the legal requirements for occupying the public office. Below is an itemized list by jurisdiction of constitutional and statutory requirements that are violated by those who either impersonate a state public officer OR who serve simultaneously as BOTH a FEDERAL public office and a STATE public office AT THE SAME TIME. That's right: When you either impersonate a state public officer OR serve in BOTH a FEDERAL public office and STATE public office AT THE SAME TIME, then you are committing a crime and have a financial conflict of interest and conflict of allegiance that can and should disqualify you from exercising or accepting the duties of the office:

10 Rebutted arguments against this document

10.1 Hughes v. United States, 953 F.2d 531 (1991)-4 U.S.C. §72 constraints 10

The following article rebuts the territorial limits imposed upon tax collection by 4 U.S.C. §72: 11

12 Arguments about authority of Internal Revenue Service outside the District of Columbia Another argument raised by tax protesters is that under section 72 of title 4 of the United States Code, the IRS 13 has no authority outside of Washington, D.C. That argument was rejected by the United States Court of Appeals 14 for the Ninth Circuit in Hughes v. United States<sup>[69]</sup> by the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Western District 15 of Washington in In re Myrland.<sup>[70]</sup> by the United States Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit in United States 16 v. Springer,<sup>[71]</sup> by the U.S. District Court for the District of South Dakota in United States v. Kuyper,<sup>[72]</sup> and by 17 the U.S. District Court for the Central District of Illinois in United States v. Barringer.<sup>[7]</sup> 18 [Wikipedia: Tax protester administrative arguments, Downloaded 6/5/23; SOURCE: 19 https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Tax_protester_administrative_arguments] 20 21 22 FOOTNOTES: 69. 953 F.2d 531 (9th Cir. 1992), at [11]. 23 70. ^ 209 B.R. 524 (Bankr. We 28 chose this case because it is the most detailed, is cited by the other cases, and directly mentions the limitations imposed by 4 29 U.S.C. §72 as an important focus of this document: 30 Unlike the Hughes case, this document does not challenge the authority of OFFICES of the IRS under 4 U.S.C. §72 to 1. 31 operate outside the District of Columbia, but rather the ability to establish STATUTORY franchise "taxpayer" offices 32

in the states against those who: 33

- 1.1. Don't consent to the office (slavery) or
- 1.2. Exercise it without delegated authority (de facto offices).
- 2. NOTHING within the Internal Revenue Code delegates authority to establish excise taxable STATUTORY "taxpaver" 36 offices (as government property) within a Constitutional state and the License Tax Cases expressly forbids it: 37

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16		"Thus, Congress having power to regulate commerce with foreign nations, and among the several States, and with the Indian tribes, may, without doubt, provide for granting coasting licenses, licenses to pilots, licenses to trade with the Indians, and any other licenses necessary or proper for the exercise of that great and extensive power; and the same observation is applicable to every other power of Congress, to the exercise of which the granting of licenses may be incident. All such licenses confer authority, and give rights to the licensee. But very different considerations apply to the internal commerce or domestic trade of the States. Over this commerce and trade Congress has no power of regulation nor any direct control. This power belongs exclusively to the States. No interference by Congress with the business of citizens transacted within a State is warranted by the Constitution, except such as is strictly incidental to the exercise of powers clearly granted to the legislature. The power to authorize a business within a State is plainly repugnant to the exclusive power of the State over the same subject. It is true that the power of Congress to tax is a very extensive power. It is given in the Constitution, with only one exception and only two qualifications. Congress cannot tax exports, and it must impose direct taxes by the rule of apportionment, and indirect taxes by the rule of uniformity. Thus limited, and thus only, it reaches every subject, and may be exercised at discretion. But, it reaches only existing subjects. Congress cannot authorize a trade or business within a State in order to tax it. " [License Tax Cases, 72 U.S. 462 , 18 L.Ed. 497, 5 Wall. 462, 2 A.F.T.R. 2224 (1866)]
17		The above case challenged the FIRST income tax instituted during the Civil War in 1862 after its enforcement was
18		illegally attempted within constitutional states of the Union. Notice the use of the phrase "trade or business", which is
19		EXACTLY what the current income tax is imposed upon. See for yourself:
		The "Trade or Business" Scam, Form #05.001
		https://sedm.org/Forms/05-MemLaw/TradeOrBusScam.pdf
20	3.	The case calls appellant Hughes a statutory "taxpayer", but the burden of proving how he could lawfully occupy such
21		an office without his consent, which was clearly absent in the case. He never raised this issue and we think this was a
22		HUGE mistake. The burden of proof upon the government was that he was INNOCENT until proven GUILTY.
23		INNOCENSE in this case implies NONTAXPAYER status until the GOVERNMENT produces consent to BECOME
24
25		3.1. Who are "Taxpayers" and Who Needs a "Taxpayer Identification Number" , Form #05.013 https://sedm.org/Forms/05-MemLaw/WhoAreTaxpayers.pdf
26		3.2. Your Rights as a "Nontaxpayer ", Form #08.008
27		https://sedm.org/LibertyU/NontaxpayerBOR.pdf
28 29	4.	The case was a civil statutory proceeding, which proceeded upon the premise that Hughes was domiciled in the
30	ч.	statutory geographical "United States" as defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) and as
31		required by Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(b).
32		4.1.
33		4.2. Hughes was not domiciled in THIS "United States" and thus all the statutes were inapplicable and the only
34		limiting factor was the constitution at that point. The IRS cannot enforce where the courts cannot supervise, and
35		only the state court would have jurisdiction over this matter unless federal property within the exterior limits of
36		the exclusive jurisdiction of the national government was NOT involved.
37		4.3. Like an IDIOT, Hughes invoked federal statutes instead of the constitution for the protection of his property.
38		These are rules to regulate government property, because the ability to regulate or tax absolutely owned
39		PRIVATE property protected by the Constitution has been held to be repugnant to the Constitution and interferes
40		with that ownership and control. So he contradicted himself by claiming it was private property and yet invoking
41	5	in effect the civil statutory "loan agreement" for its protection. Crazy!
42	5.	The case mentions that the President has authority to establish Internal Revenue Districts within under 26 U.S.C. §7621 but the court rever addresses whather the President DID in EACT do so. We alloca that he DID NOT, which means
43		but the court never addresses whether the President DID, in FACT do so. We allege that he DID NOT, which means the only remaining Internal Revenue District REMAINED the District of Columbia at the time of this case. It was
44		malfeasance by the court to even mention this authority without addressing whether it in fact WAS authorized, and
45 46		then to just PRESUME that it WAS authorized in the case of the residence of Hughes. We doubt that it ever was in his
47		case:
48		"The President is authorized to establish internal revenue districts for the purpose of administering the internal
49 50		revenue laws, and these districts can be created outside of Washington, D.C. See 26 U.S.C. § 7621. Furthermore, as we have held, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Commissioner of Internal [*543] Revenue have the
51		authority to delegate tax collecting power to local IRS officers and employees throughout the country. See supra
52		Part II(A)(1). "
53		[Hughes v. United States, 953 F.2d 531, 542 (1991)]
54	6.	The case was about a lien placed on appellant Hughes property OUTSIDE the statutory geographical "United States"
55	5.	defined in 26 U.S.C. §7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) and 4 U.S.C. §110(d).
56		6.1. Per the Federal Tax Lien Act, 80 Stat. 1125, Public Law 89-719, the Uniform Federal Lien Registration Act of
57		1982, and 26 U.S.C. §6323(f)(1), the lien must be placed in the "residence" of the statutory "taxpayer".

6.2. The statutory "taxpayer" is an agent and office within the national government and has a domicile distinct from the OFFICER VOLUNTARILY filling said office. That office is an office within the "United States" as a federal corporation, which is domiciled in the District of Columbia. Thus, ITS domicile and residence of the statutory "taxpayer" is the District of Columbia, regardless of that of the statutory "taxpayer" officer filling said office. The lien was NOT filed in this locality and can't be filed anywhere ELSE per any of the above acts. See: Why Your Government is Either a Thief or You are a "Public Officer" for Income Tax Purposes, Form #05.008

6.3. Only property consensually attached to the statutory office of "taxpayer" in fact can be liened. The Social Security Numbers or Taxpayer Identification Numbers function in this context as a "franchise mark" symbolizing property connected to this office. However, the use of such numbers is almost always NONCONSENSUAL and a product of duress. See:

About SSNs and TINs on Government Forms and Correspondence, Form #05.012 https://sedm.org/Forms/05-MemLaw/AboutSSNsAndTINs.pdf

- 6.4. The ONLY definition of "residence" anywhere in the Internal Revenue Code deals with statutory "aliens" of 10 which Hughes was clearly not one. See 26 C.F.R. §1.871-2. There is NO definition of the term "residence" 11 anywhere in the I.R.C. or the implementing regulations that adds anyone OTHER than "aliens" to that definition. 12 Thus, per the rules of statutory construction and interpretation, STATUTORY citizens, STATUTORY nationals, 13 and Constitutional citizens are "purposefully excluded" from becoming the lawful target of administrative liens 14 Hughes had a "residence" under the common law, but not under statutory law, and since this was a statutory 15 proceeding, statutory definitions prevail and supersede the common law. Therefore, the lien was ILLEGALLY 16 filed OUTSIDE the STATUTORY "residence" of Hughes, because he did not HAVE a STATUTORY 17 "residence". 18
  - 6.5. The term "State" within the I.R.C. Subtitle A and 4 U.S.C. §110(d) does not expressly include states of the Union, so they are purposefully excluded per the rules of statutory construction and interpretation. Therefore, the lien was also illegally filed in a STATUTORY "State" not expressly allowed and was therefore filed ILLEGALLY.
  - IRS authority to tax and regulate within a constitutional state is only upon federal government property in the states 7. under Article 4, Section 3, Clause 2 of the Constitution.
    - 7.1. The income tax itself in effect behaves as a property rental fee or user fee upon government property and privileges. This property includes legislatively created OFFICES of the national government lawfully established per Article 4, Section 3, Clause 2 of the Constitution but excludes absolutely owned PRIVATE property protected by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.
    - 7.2. Federal enclaves or STATUTORY "States" under the I.R.C. Subtitle A are EXCLUDED from protection of the constitution and thus this restriction would not apply there. Hughes wasn't physically situated in a federal enclave but he may have MISREPRESENTED his status as a STATUTORY "U.S. person" under 26 U.S.C. $7701(a)(30) by filing the WRONG tax return form or failing to correct his civil status within the Internal Revenue Service system of records.27
- The separation of powers doctrine FORBIDS the overlap of state and federal civil jurisdiction, and thus being subject 33 8. to a state and federal income tax at the same time: 34
  - 8.1. At NOT TIME has the passage of the Sixteenth Amendment ever been indicated by any court to be an extension of subject matter jurisdiction to institute an income tax within the exclusive jurisdiction of the Constitution under Article 1, Section 8, Clause 1. It is ALWAYS been a tax upon the GOVERNMENT, wherever the GOVERNMENT extends, as admitted in Downes v. Bidwell. "United States" is defined in 26 U.S.C. $7701(a)(9) and (a)(10) to mean the SAME "District of Columbia mentioned in the following case:
- "In the latter character, it was admitted that the power of levying direct taxes might be exercised, but for District purposes only, as a state legislature might tax for state purposes; but that it could not legislate for the District under art. 1, 8, giving to Congress the power 'to lay and collect taxes, imposts, and excises,' which 'shall be uniform throughout the United States,' inasmuch as the District was no part of the United States [described in the Constitution]. It was held that the grant of this power was a general one without limitation as to place, and consequently extended to all places over which the government extends; and that it extended to the District of 45 Columbia as a constituent part of the United States." [Downes v. Bidwell, 182 U.S. 244 (1901)]

The present income tax is built upon sand. It depends on fooling people into declaring that they are domiciled within the above "United States" by filing the WRONG "RESIDENT" tax form, the IRS Form 1040. Thus it is

1	based upon FRAUD. And, it fools everyone into volunteering without their knowledge for an office in the
2	government, and taxes that illegally established office wherever it is exercised WORLDWIDE! That civil
3	statutory office is called "taxpayer", "U.S. person", "citizen", "resident", and "person". See:
	Proof That There is a "Straw Man", Form #05.042
	https://sedm.org/Forms/05-MemLaw/StrawMan.pdf
4	8.2. Those filing as "nonresident aliens" federally because not domiciled or physically situated on federal territory
5	must also file as "nonresidents" at the state level.
6	8.3. This is an indication that only where the jurisdictions OVERLAP can one owe any income tax at all.
7	8.4. The only place we know of where state and federal jurisdictions might overlap is federal enclaves, but even then
8	the fact that they overlap is by U.S. Supreme Court de facto DECREE rather than written law. See:
9	8.4.1. Howard v. Commissioners, 344 U.S. 624, 626, 73 S.Ct. 465, 97 L.Ed. 617 (1953)

12	The case of Howard v. Commissioners, 344 U.S. 624 above represents TREASON by the U.S. Supreme Court
13	that breaks down the separation of powers at the heart of the constitution. See:

The corrupt de facto government knows the approach in this document is literally the heart of their fraud. They will make and have made every possible attempt to steer litigation off the key issues in this document. Early pioneers of this approach, such as for instance Joseph Saladino of the now defunct Freedom and Privacy Committee (FPC) developed much of the information in this document with our help and participation and basing their research on the Great IRS Hoax, Form #11.302 and our Test for Federal Tax Professionals, Form #03.009. See, for instance:

Secretary's Authority in the Several States Pursuant to 4 U.S.C. 72, Joe Saladino https://famguardian.org/Subjects/Taxes/ChallJurisdiction/BriefRegardingSecretary-4usc72.pdf

When the government tried to prosecute Joseph Saladino criminally for offenses completely unrelated to this approach, they made him agree as a precondition to accepting a free public pretender (public defender) that he would not take any aspect of the approach in this document during litigation. You can read about this dastardly conspiracy against his constitutional rights

Policy Document: Who's Who in the Freedom Community, Form #08.009, Section 3.42 https://sedm.org/Forms/FormIndex.htm

We therefore STRONGLY recommend that you NOT deviate from or especially ABANDON any part of the arguments in 1 this document during litigation against the government to stop illegal income tax enforcement. Stick to your guns! 2
